No. 5686—103, DATED BANGALORE, 21ST JANUARY 1884.

ORDER.—The existing arrack contracts expire on the 31st of March next. A comparison of the statistics of the past ten years brings to light great fluctuations of issue and revenue in various parts of the Province. In the Bangalore District including the Town and what is now the Civil and Military Station of Bangalore, the issues were about 154,000 gallons in 1873—74; they afterwards declined owing to the famine. In 1877—78 they were so low as 85,000 gallons but have since gradually increased, and the issue of 1882—83 was 149,000 gallons.

2. In the old Tumkur District the issue of arrack in 1873—74 was 6,500 gallons and in 1882—83 5,400 gallons. In the Kolar District, the issue gradually declined from 28,000 gallons in 1873—74 to 5,000 gallons in 1877—78 and in 1882—83 it was 24,000 gallons.

3. Taking the three Districts together we find that the highest issue before the famine was 168,000 gallons in 1873—74 and that afterwards it gradually declined till it reached 94,000 gallons in 1877-78; since then it has increased year after year and in 1882—83 it was 178,000 gallons.

4. The revenue from arrack in these Districts shows corresponding fluctuations. It was Rs. 3,67,000 in 1873—74 and Rs 2,68,000 in 1877—78 and in 1882—83, nearly Rs. 5,00,000. This increase of arrack revenue is not accounted for by corresponding decrease of toddy revenue which in 1873—74 was Rs. 2,15,000 and for the next five years was, under contract, Rs. 2,19,000 per annum; in 1879—80 it fell to Rs. 1,32,000 and is now Rs. 1,69,000, There is reason to believe that the toddy revenue is not carefully managed in the Tumkur and Kolar Districts and this accounts for its now remaining lower than ten years ago.

5. The issue of arrack in the Mysore District, including the large Town of Mysore, was 25,000 gallons in 1872—73. It then began to decline and was 11,000 gallons in 1877—78; it has since increased, and was 23,000 gallons in 1882—83. But the Hassan District, which is now worked by the Mysore contractor, shows an unaccountable decrease from 9,000 gallons in 1873—74 to 5,800 gallons last year. The toddy revenue of Mysore and Hassan has however always been over 2 lakhs during the past ten years, and is now at Rs. 3,10,000.

6. In the Shimoga and Kadur Districts the issue of arrack in 1873—74 amounted to 62,000 gallons. Since then it gradually declined till it reached 21,000 gallons in 1878—79, after which year there has been a slight annual increase. It now stands at 33,000 gallons or about one half of what it was in 1873—74. This result is the more unaccountable, as these Districts did not suffer from the late famine to any great extent. The toddy revenue also has declined in these Districts from about Rs. 45,000 in 1872—73 to about Rs. 24,000 last year. The Chitaldroog District showed an issue of 12,700 gallons of arrack in 1872—73 and the issue of last year was 3,100 gallons. In that District, the toddy revenue also has decreased from Rs. 1,12,000 in 1872—73 to about Rs. 56,000 in 1882—83. This District lost over 30 per cent of its population during the late famine and this, in a great measure, accounts for the fall of its abkari revenue (both arrack and toddy).

7. That the arrack revenue of the Bangalore District should show such powers of revival and increase and that in other parts of the Province they should remain either stationary or gradually go down from year to year cannot be due to the rise in the price of a pie or so per dram, which can make no appreciable difference to the consumer, nor does it appear that any other cheaper substitute has been actually placed at his disposal. To toddy, the favorite beverage of the poorer classes, this fall cannot, be attributed as already shown.

The decrease in two distilleries alone of 29,000 gallons is strongly suggestive of clandestine manufacture and evasion of Government duty, and all District Officers are requested to adopt such measures of supervision of manufacture and sales as will ensure that liquor of the prescribed quality alone is issued from the distilleries to the wholesale depôts and sold to the public at the retail shops.

8. In order to remedy as far as possible any defects in the management of the arrack revenue, and to bring the manufacture and issue of arrack under a centralized system of efficient control, it is advisable to abolish the separate distilleries in the outlying Districts and to manufacture and issue from the Bangalore Distillery the whole of the arrack required for consumption in the Province. The cost of carriage of arrack to distant parts of the Province such as Shimoga and Chikmagalur and the fact that a large quantity of jaggery is available for the purpose of distillation in those Districts are the only grounds which call for some modification of the proposal to establish a Central Distillery for the whole Province at Bangalore.

9. His Highness' Government have accordingly decided that, from the 1st April 1884, the separate Distilleries at Mysore and Chitaldroog shall be abolished, and that the whole of the arrack required for the Districts of Bangalore, Kolar, Tumkur including nearly the whole of the late Chitaldroog District, and Mysore including a part of the late Hassan District, and the Hassan Sub-Division of the Kadur District including the remainder of the old Hassan District, shall be manufactured at, and issued from, the Distillery at Bangalore. This arrangement is not likely to add materially to the present cost of arrack at Mysore, Hassan or Chitaldroog, while it is likely to insure the supply of arrack of a better quality to those towns and to the places dependent upon them. The cost of carrying arrack on the Mysore railway is 13·61 pies per ton per mile. This gives a cost of under 5½ pies for carrying a gallon from Bangalore to Mysore, and it is much less than what is now paid by the contractors for carrying arrack on carts from Bangalore to either Tumkur or Kolar. When the railway to Tumkur is opened for traffic, the cost of carrying arrack by rail to that District will be reduced from about one anna as at present to about 2½ pies per gallon. Cartage from Tumkur to the Chitaldroog Sub-Division will always be less than what it can be from Shimoga. Under such circumstances it is believed that the proposed arrangement will tend not only to produce a larger revenue to Government but also give the contractor a larger profit. It will moreover result in a considerable saving to Government in the establishments required at Mysore and Chitaldroog.

10. It must also be noted here that a proposal for constructing a railway siding from some point between the Stations of Bangalore and Kengeri to connect the present distillery buildings, is now under the contemplation of Government, and when this work is carried out, it will be a source of further profit to the contractors as it must reduce the cost of carriage both of jaggery and other materials to the distillery buildings and of arrack therefrom. Store houses attached to the Railway Stations at Mysore, Bangalore Pettah and Tumkur Town will also tend to produce the same effect.

11. The present system of requiring intending contractors not only to guarantee a minimum amount of revenue, but also to offer a maximum rate of duty per gallon, leads to some confusion, by not furnishing fixed data for an estimate of the probable profits of the business. It moreover is in every way proper that Government itself should fix the duty and only invite tenders for a minimum revenue. The following alterations of duty are accordingly decided upon.

12. The duty for the Town and the Civil and Military Station of Bangalore is fixed now by contract at Rs. 3—3—0 per gallon of arrack for the strength of 20 under Proof, and for Mysore Town at Rs. 3—4—0. The contractor now gets at both these places a price of Rs. 4—6—4 per gallon. The difference between price and duty represents his cost of manufacture and profits. The cost is assumed to be 11½ annas per gallon, but experience shows that it is only about ten annas, sometimes even less, thus leaving him a profit of between 8 and 9 annas per gallon. An increased duty of Rs. 3—5—0 per gallon and a reduction of the wholesale price to Rs. 4—6—0 so as to omit the fraction of an anna, will leave to the contractor for the cost of manufacture, carriage and profits, a sum of Rs. 1—1—0 per gallon. Thus it will be seen that his profit per gallon will be about 6 or 7 annas or fully twice the recognized margin of profit, after making every allowance for any rise in the price of jaggory and other materials required for the purpose of distillation. Rs. 3—5—0 is accordingly fixed as the rate of Government duty inclusive of the local cess of one anna in the rupee for the Town and Civil and Military Station of Bangalore and for the Town of Mysore. This rate of duty is below the maximum rate of duty (exclusive of local cess) of Rs. 4 for Proof prescribed by the Indian Tariff Act.

13. For other places included within the tracts under reference a uniform duty, inclusive of local cess, of Rs. 2—4—0 will be charged, the wholesale price being fixed at Rs. 3—6—0, the difference, viz. Rs. 1—2—0, allowing for the greater cost of carriage to the more distant places, for cost of manufacture and profits.

14. The retail vendor's profit is maintained at 10 annas per gallon for both town and country, and this is by no means too large considering the fees payable by him to Government and the legitimate charges incidental to retail vend.

15. Assuming the future annual issues to be as in 1882—83, the foregoing rates of duty will produce a revenue of Rs. 5,98,602 as against an actual revenue of Rs. 5,81,113 in 1882—83 as shown below :—

3. The privilege for which tenders are now invited will be conceded subject to the conditions hereinafter set forth for a period of three years from the 1st April 1884 to the 31st March 1887. It will not include the manufacture or sale of toddy, of European wines and spirits, or of beer.

4. The tenders must specify the minimum revenue which the tenderers will guarantee yearly to Government. The rates of duty, inclusive of the local cess of one anna on every rupee of duty, as well as the wholesale prices at which the arrack is to be issued by the contractors being fixed by Government as hereinafter provided, no tenders for such rates will be considered.

5. Each tender must be accompanied by a deposit of Rs 1,000 in cash or in Government securities and enclosed in a cover superscribed with the words "Tender for the exclusive privilege of the manufacture and wholesale vend of arrack," and must be sent to the Secretary to the Dewan at Bangalore so as to reach him on or before Friday the 22nd February 1884, after which date no tender will be received. The tenders will be opened at the Dewan's Office by the Secretary to the Dewan and the Deputy Commissioner of the Bangalore District at 12 o'clock noon on the 22nd February 1884 in the presence of the applicants who may be present. The final disposal of the tenders will rest with the Dewan who reserves to himself full power to reject any or all of the tenders without assigning any reason. The deposits made by the applicants whose tenders are rejected will be returned to them on their application.

Proceedings of the Dewan to His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore, (Revenue),—dated 21st January 1884.

6. The applicants whose tenders are selected for submission to the Dewan will be required to deposit at once, in cash or in Government securities, a sum equal to $\frac{1}{12}$th (or one month's instalment) of the minimum annual revenue guaranteed by them; failing which, the deposit made with the tenders will be forfeited.

7. The applicant, whose tender may be finally accepted by the Dewan, shall, within 8 days of the acceptance of his tender being communicated to him, deposit with the Deputy Commissioner of Bangalore a further sum in cash or in Government securities to make up with the deposits previously made, a sum equal to one-fourth of the yearly revenue guaranteed, and shall execute an agreement in the prescribed form on proper stamp, binding himself to conform to the conditions hereinafter set forth, and if he fails or refuses to sign the agreement or to make the deposit required, the deposits already made will be forfeited to Government and the contract otherwise disposed of.

Conditions.

I. The minimum annual revenue guaranteed shall be payable to Government in twelve equal monthly instalments. The contractor shall pay into the District Treasury of Bangalore the whole amount of the duty inclusive of the local cess payable to Government at the rates fixed by Government on the arrack issued from the distillery in each month on or before the 15th of the following month. If the duty payable on the issues of arrack up to the end of any month be not sufficient to make up the amount of the monthly instalments of the minimum guaranteed revenue up to that month, the contractor shall pay such further sum as may be required to make up the deficiency. The excess sale of any month shall be available to make up any deficiency in any other month of the same official year. If the above payments are not made on or before the 15th of the month following that for which they are due, interest at the rate of 6 per cent per annum will be charged from that date on all the arrears outstanding; and should the default continue after the lapse of the month in which the payments are due, the arrears with the interest due shall be recovered by attachment and sale of the property of the contractor in the manner provided for by the rules for the time being in force for the recovery of arrears of land revenue. And it shall further be at the discretion of the Dewan upon the report of the Deputy Commissioner of Bangalore to declare the contract cancelled, to direct the forfeiture of the deposit made by the contractor, and to cause the business to be carried on by Government officers or otherwise, at the expense and risk of the contractor, during the unexpired period of his contract.

II. The accounts for each year shall be closed separately. If the duty payable to Government on the arrack issued during the year exceed the minimum revenue guaranteed for the year, the contractor will be allowed a deduction from the duty payable by him equal to one anna on every rupee of the amount of such excess. But the excess of one year will not be available to make up any deficiency in the amount of the guaranteed revenue of any other year of the contract.

II. The contractor will be required to manufacture within the enclosure of the Government Distillery near Bangalore, or at such other place as may be fixed by the Deputy Commissioner, and to establish wholesale depôts in such places as shall be appointed by the Deputy Commissioner. The distillery and depôts shall be open at all times for inspection by the Deputy Commissioner or any official appointed for that purpose. No arrack shall be taken out of the distillery until it has been measured and tested by an official appointed for that purpose. The contractor will further be required to pay monthly to Government a rent of Rs. 150 for the use of the distillery buildings and to keep the said buildings in a state of thorough repair. The contractor shall take over any arrack distilled by the previous contractors which may remain as stock on hand on the 1st April 1884, paying to them such compensation for the same as may be fixed by the Deputy Commissioner with the sanction of the Dewan.

IV. The arrack manufactured shall be of good quality. The articles used in distilling shall be approved by the Deputy Commissioner and be of good quality, and shall be shown to, and passed by, the Distillery Supervisor or other official appointed for the purpose before being received into the distillery. No ingredients obnoxious to health shall be used in distilling or put into the arrack after it has been made, and all the ingredients used shall be in the established initial proportion or in such other proportion as may hereafter be fixed by Government so as to ensure a proper control by the officers of Government over the results of the distillation effected by the contractor daily.

V. The contractor shall keep true and correct accounts in the prescribed forms of his receipts and disbursements, and of the quantity and strength of the spirits manufactured, received and issued in the distillery and in each depôt, and of all the materials received and expended daily at the distillery. He shall produce such accounts whenever required to do so for inspection by the Deputy Commissioner, the Head Supervisor or any other official appointed for the purpose.

VI. The distiller shall be bound always to have a month's supply and not less than 14,000 gallons of liquor in store, and in order that this may be the case from 1st April 1884, he will be allowed to commence distilling before that date, provided that no liquor so distilled shall be sold or passed out of his custody or that of his employés before the 1st April 1884. The contractor shall be allowed to have wholesale shops in all Taluk kasabas and large towns approved of by the Deputy Commissioner or Sub-Division Officer within whose jurisdiction they may be situated. A list of all such places will be furnished on application to the Deputy Commissioner or Sub-Division Officer, and the contractor shall pay the prescribed license fee of Rs. 2 per shop per month.

VII. The contractor shall not sell arrack by retail either in the distillery or in the wholesale shops except as provided for in the rules laid down under Conditions X and XII.

VIII. The retail shops will be under the management of the Deputy Commissioners of the Districts, and Officers in charge of Sub-Divisions of Districts, and in Municipal towns, where so ordered by the Dewan, under the Municipal President or Vice-President of such towns ; and no new retail shops shall be opened except with their sanction and at such places appointed by them, and they are competent to order any shops to be closed on grounds of public expediency without any claim to compensation on the part of the contractor.

IX. Licenses for the retail shops will be issued in the usual form by the above officers on payment of such rates of license fees as may, from time to time, be fixed by the Government.

The licenses will provide for the sale of the arrack at the regulated prices and at the prescribed strength and for other necessary conditions. The retail vendors will be required to procure their liquor from such wholesale shops as may be nearest to them or from such others as they may elect once yearly to take it from. They will also be required to permit the contractor or his agent, the Excise officers, or any public servant duly authorized, free access to their shops in order to see that no irregularities take place, and to keep true and correct accounts of the quantity and strength of liquor received by them each day, and the prices charged for the same, and to produce the accounts for inspection whenever required so to do by the contractor or his agents, or any Government official authorized to call for them.

X. The following rules regarding the issue of the arrack from the distillery shall be observed :—

(a) No arrack shall ordinarily be issued at a strength above 20° under Proof, but should the contractor or retail vendor desire to issue at a higher strength than the above, the spirit so issued shall not be of a greater strength than Proof. Liquor of strength at Proof shall be issued from the distillery in two dozen quart bottles, four dozen pints and so on for lower denominations of flasks as for English and foreign spirits ; and it shall be sold by wholesale to retail vendors in bottles intact as issued from the distillery with the seals affixed on them by the Head Supervisor and under cover of the Head Supervisor's passes. The retail vendors shall issue such liquor only to respectable persons known to them on separate passes granted by the Head Supervisor to the retail vendors, and both wholesale and retail dealers shall account for such sales separately in the forms prescribed.

(b) Should the contractor wish to issue liquor of higher strength than Proof, he should obtain the special orders of the Deputy Commissioner therefor, through the Head Supervisor, who shall quote the same and issue passes accordingly to wholesale shops, and liquor so issued shall be sold and accounted for, as provided in Clause (a) of this para.

(c) All liquor issued at a strength above 20° under Proof and up to Proof shall be charged the duty on Proof, the rate on above Proof being raised proportionately according to the hydrometer's scales.

(d) No spirit below 20° under Proof shall be ordinarily issued from the distillery, but should there be a demand for liquor of lower strength than 20° under Proof, liquor at 30° under Proof may be specially issued from the distillery at proportionately reduced rates of duty, such liquor being kept and accounted for separately both in the wholesale depôts and in the retail shops.

XI. The arrack shall be sold as issued from the distillery and shall not be adulterated or diluted in any manner either in the wholesale or retail shops.

XII. The Government duty including the local cess of one anna in the rupee payable on arrack of the strength of 20° under Proof as well as the prices at which the same shall be sold (unadulterated and undiluted) at the wholesale and retail shops are hereby fixed as specified in the following table:—

Proceedings of the Dewan to His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore, (Revenue),—dated 1st March 1884.

READ—

Letters from Deputy Commissioner, Bangalore, Nos. 1109 and 1110, dated 15th February 1884.

Letter from Deputy Commissioner, Tumkur, No. A., dated 15th February 1884.

No. 7, DATED CAMP MYSORE, 1ST MARCH 1884.

ORDER THEREON.—The highest tender for the toddy contract of the Tumkur District is Rs. 1,35,950 from Nilgiri C. Papanna, and it is accepted.

2. The highest tender for the toddy contract of the Bangalore District is for Rs. 1,21,750 from Messrs. Davy, Muddappa and Co., and it is also accepted.

3. The highest tender for the toddy contract of the Kolar District is from Messrs. Singaiya and Co. for Rs. 40,850. This firm has had no experience in the working of the toddy farm, and expressed before the Deputy Commissioner, at the time the tenders were opened, their willingness to withdraw their tender. Under such circumstances their tender is rejected and the deposit made by them will at once be returned to them. The next tender for this District is from Messrs. Davy, Muddappa and Co., and is for Rs. 40,750. This firm has had large experience in the management of the business. Their tender for Rs. 40,750 is accordingly accepted.

4. For the arrack contract of the Bangalore Civil and Military Station and Town, of the Town of Mysore and of the 46 Taluks comprised within the Districts of Bangalore, Tumkur, Kolar and Mysore and within the Sub-Division of Hassan, the highest tender is from Messrs. J. W. Hayes, Kanamappa, Mallanna and Basavanna Chetti for rupees 7,50,005. This is quite a speculative figure for which there is no justification whatever in the past history of this item of revenue. All the tenderers, except Mr. J. W. Hayes, repudiate their intention to tender for so large an amount. Kanamappa and Mallanna have hitherto belonged to the firm of Messrs. Davy, Muddappa and Co., and professed to have recently separated therefrom, and Basavanna Chetti is not known to the Deputy Commissioner except as a relation of Yele Mallappa Chetti. Under such circumstances the Dewan has no hesitation whatever in rejecting this tender as being one not consistent with the revenue interests of Government.

5. The next tender for this contract is from Messrs. Krishnasami Mudaliar and Chikmallaiya for Rs. 6,51,990. This figure even is more than what can be safely relied upon. Upon an estimate of the average issue of arrack in a year and prospective increased sales, Rs. 6,35,000 may be regarded as the minimum revenue, which may with safety be guaranteed. A tender for this amount is received from Nilgiri C. Papanna. The one from Messrs. Tiruvengadasami Mudaliar and Co. is only for Rs. 555 more than this amount. The last named firm has had no local experience; while the present contractors, who are represented by Nilgiri C. Papanna, possess great local experience and have always given satisfaction.

6. The foregoing considerations induced the Dewan to offer the following arrangement to Messrs. Krishnasami Mudaliar and Chikmallaiya and to Messrs. C. Papanna and A. Narayanasami Mudaliar:—

I. The amount of minimum revenue guaranteed being accepted by Government at Rs. 6,35,000 per annum, each of the parties above named to have a third share in the contract as follows:—

1. Mr. Krishnasami Mudaliar, son of Arunachala Mudaliar .. ⅓rd share.
2. Mr. Chikmallaiya .. .. .. ⅓rd share.
3. Messrs. C. Papanna and A. Narayanasami Mudaliar .. ⅓rd share.

II. The conditions binding upon the above named parties as regards Government to be as follow:—

(a.) Each party to pay into the Treasury at once a third of the deposit required on the whole contract amount.

(b.) Each party to pay its own third share of the monthly instalment of Government revenue.

(c.) On the failure of any one party to pay any one such instalment on the due date, Government to be at full liberty to appropriate the deposit made by it towards such instalment or part thereof as may remain unpaid, to exclude such defaulting party from all future participation in the contract and to transfer the contract during the unexpired period thereof to the other two parties, receiving from them in equal shares all arrears of revenue remaining unpaid as well as the future monthly instalments of revenue.

(d.) If one of the two remaining parties make similar default, the contract to be similarly transferred to the third remaining party.

(e.) Each of the three parties above named to agree to carry on the part or whole of the contract whenever the same may be transferred to it under conditions (c) and (d) in the same manner as if it had itself undertaken the entire contract in the first instance.

7. The parties above named have all agreed to the arrangement set forth in the preceding paragraph and have paid into the Treasury their respective shares of the total amount of deposit required.

8. They must without delay execute the required agreement to Government in a form to be approved by the Dewan, the agreement itself being signed by every party interested therein. They must deposit in the Bangalore Deputy Commissioner's Office a copy of any agreement, which may be entered into between themselves, as regards the working of the contract and participation in profit or loss arising therefrom. Government will pay no attention to any such agreements until they are deposited with the Deputy Commissioner as above required.

9. On requisition of the parties above named, the Deputy Commissioner will make needful arrangements for the monthly distillation at the Bangalore Distillery by each party of ⅓rd of the quantity required for issue in each month, and for allotting the existing space at the Distillery equally to each party with reference to facilities for distillation, water supply and storage.

10. The Deputy Commissioner of Bangalore is further requested to assign the kotis or wholesale depôts in the Districts and Sub-Divisions comprised in the contract equally to each party with reference to the issues actually made to each depôt in 1883—84 and the probable future demand for liquor in them. In assigning the kotis, it should be remembered that no one party gets the monopoly of the sales in any one District or Sub-Division. All the parties should share the issues equally. This will give about 68 to 69 thousand gallons to each yearly.

11. The issues for the Towns of Bangalore and Mysore and for the Civil and Military Station of Bangalore should be shared by all the three parties equally.

12. The Deputy Commissioner of Mysore, and the Sub-Division Officers at French Rocks, Hassan and Chitaldroog will at once arrange with the contractors to open wholesale depôts at convenient localities in their respective Districts, assigning specified retail shops to each. The distance between the wholesale depôt and the retail shops to which it will supply liquor should not ordinarily be more than 16 miles. The probable monthly demand for liquor at each wholesale depôt thus opened should be intimated to the Deputy Commissioner of Bangalore before 31st March 1884 in order that arrangements may be made for the issue of arrack to them from 1st April.

Proceedings of the Dewan to His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore, (Revenue),—dated 6th March 1884.

From the Superintendent, Mysore Revenue Survey, To the Secretary to the Dewan of Mysore, No. 1010, dated Ramnathapur, 31st March 1883.

I have the honor to forward the marginally noted papers regarding the proposed revision of the assessment of the Chikballapur Taluk of the Kolar District.

1. Major Rutherfurd's report No. 129, dated 19th February 1883 and its accompaniments.
2. Kolar District Deputy Commissioner's letter No. 1982—1017, dated 17th March 1882.
3. Kolar District Deputy Commissioner's letter No. 584—328, dated 5th August 1882.
4. Survey Superintendent's letter No. 957, dated 8th instant.
5. Kolar District Deputy Commissioner's letter No. 1574—873, dated 20th instant.

2. The Deputy Commissioner's letter No. 1574—873 of the 20th instant cannot, I fear, be mistaken for anything but an unqualified objection, to the proposed rates, on the ground of their being too high, while the absence of specification makes my task of meeting those objections a comparatively hard one. I must confess that I was not prepared for an adverse opinion for it will be seen from my letter No. 957 of the 8th instant to the Deputy Commissioner that I have been at a good deal of trouble to justify the adoption of moderate rates, little suspecting that I should be taken to task for a precisely opposite tendency. I will now endeavour to place the state of the case as clearly as possible before Government. The revenue history of the taluk has been, on the whole, very unsatisfactory, an immense decrease in the realizations having taken place during the last 15 years, as will be quite clear from the following figures excerpted from Major Rutherfurd's report :—

	Rs.
Collections in 1868—69	94,047
Collections in 1881—82	70,087
Survey assessment of occupied lands..	76,645

The realizations of 1868—69 I have noted simply to show what revenue the taluk was at one time capable of paying ; the real comparison must of course be instituted between the collections of 1881—82 and the survey assessment of the occupied lands, as they both refer to the same area. Comparing, then, the proposed assessment with the figures of 1881—82, there is an increase of Rs. 6,558. The ryots are no longer to pay "Aya" to the Patels and Shanbhogs, and as Government undertakes to pay those officers for the future, a measure which will cost about Rs. 5,000, the latter sum may fairly be considered as a set off against abolished "Aya" and cannot be considered in the light of any real increase. But even if it were, and it will be very difficult, for some time at least, to make the ryots believe it is anything else ; an addition of Rs. 6,558 to Rs. 70,087, or a little over 9 per cent, cannot be regarded as at all heavy when it is borne in mind that the results are obtained by accurately bringing to account every acre of land in a practically unsurveyed country, and sweeping away innumerable inequalities of assessment of a very startling character. Those very instances of extraordinary increase which the Deputy Commissioner cites at para 3, and lays so much stress upon, are merely so many more proofs of what I state. In village No. 7 of group I, for example, the existing assessment of Rs 6 is raised by the settlement to Rs. 99, but then there are 75 acres of land concerned ! It is of course unfortunate that this and many other similar cases should exist, but Government surely cannot be expected to compound with improprieties of the kind and so continue that very inequality of assessment we are trying to get rid of. Plenty of villages similarly affected may be found and if the search be continued to individual holdings, which however cannot be done until the settlement papers are ready, hundreds of equally bad cases may be discovered.

3. That the ryots are "poor and forestall their crops for their personal debts," as remarked by Mr. Soob Rao, may unfortunately be said with truth of all taluks in Mysore, or indeed in India. It is not easy to deal with, or give a satisfactory answer to, such truisms. Mr. Narasimmaiengar in his letter No. 584—328 of the 5th August last alludes to the famine and the probability of a very slow recovery of the country from its effects, but he certainly does not describe the taluk as the poverty-stricken tract it appears to Mr. Soob Rao ; on the contrary he speaks, at para 6, of the flourishing condition of the sugar-cane and chilli gardens as calculated to strike an observer as the principal feature of the taluk. This is an opinion in which I quite concur and so I observe does the Classing Officer. Mr. Soob Rao makes some further remarks of a general character regarding high rates which no one will in the main dispute. As a result of the famine a large number of gardens went to decay and, as a matter of course, were relinquished, not on account of the weight of the assessment but because the gardens no longer exist. Mr. Soob Rao, in stating that almost all the fields in settled taluks bearing high assessment lie unoccupied, has taken advantage of this abnormal result to give some color to his statement, but with this exception I believe his remarks to be perfectly unfounded. He certainly cannot be unaware of the fact that the old rates were very much higher than any imposed by the survey I have already gone at some length into the question of garden assessment in my letter No. 638 of the 17th October last and will not persue the subject further here. The cultivating power of this or any other tract has its limit and Mr. Soob Rao's sanguine expectation that fair and moderate rates will ensure the cultivation of almost all the arable land of the taluk appears to me to be somewhat inconsistent with his statement that 90 per cent of the ryots are poor. I do not myself consider the condition of the people of the taluk to be at all bad compared with other taluks of the Province; on the contrary I believe it possesses unusual resources and advantages, and that the proposed rates, which I consider both moderate and fair, will prove in no way deterrent to the healthy and normal spread of cultivation.

4. Special allusion is made by the Deputy Commissioner, at para 4, to the case of Gopalkrishnakere, No. 31 of group I, the assessment of which is nearly doubled notwithstanding that Mr. Narasimmaiengar noticed, at para 8 of his letter No. 584-328, that even the old assessment had been frequently urged on him as being too high. Captain Price, at para 10, places the Gopalkrishnakere tank as the first in the taluk in relative order of merit. The lands under it have been classed and assessed on the same principle as the rest of the taluk and it would be simply impossible, with any regard to fairness, to go out of our way to adopt specially favorable rates for this one village. There are many tanks the lands under which have been hitherto assessed nearly three times as heavily as those of Gopalkrishnakere and the effect of the proposed settlement is to reduce the assessment considerably in such cases. At para 31 of Major Rutherfurd's report one or two such instances are given. The following statement shows the old and new state of things as regards Gopalkrishnakere :—

Description of Land.	Area by Survey.	Average Rates.
		Old.	New.
1	2	3	4
		Rs. As. P.	Rs. As. P.
Dry crop	...	...	...
Rice	224	3 3 9	6 9 0
Garden	8	15 14 0	8 2 0

The old garden assessment, it will be seen, was very high, but not the rice assessment which seems to me to have been justifiably raised, considering the capability of the tank.

5. I now come to the most serious of Mr. Soob Rao's objections, with reference to the proposed maximum rates, which he has contrasted at para 2 with those adopted in the already settled Taluks of Goribidnur and Gudibanda, and which he considers too high. My reply to this objection is that the maximum rates in question were purposely fixed higher, the circumstances of the taluks concerned fully justifying the difference. Chikballapur is better provided with roads, better situated and better populated than either Goribidnur or Gudibanda. The intrinsic richness of the soil has nothing to do with the operation of grouping the villages and fixing the maximum rates, as erroneously supposed by the Deputy Commissioner, the classification having already disposed of that point. After all the difference in the maximum rates is not very great. As regards the dry crop maximum it is six annas higher than in the adjoining villages of Goribidnur, only 2 annas higher than in Gudibanda, while as regards rice lands the difference is only 8 annas. In the case of the adjoining villages of the Dodballapur Taluk the rice maximum rate is the same, while there is a small difference of 4 annas in the dry crop maximum rate. The garden maximum rate is the same in all the taluks concerned, but I may here state, once for all, that the policy approved of by Government of making as little difference as possible between the assessment of rice and garden lands has been carefully observed as the average rates will clearly show; a good deal of easily realizable revenue has been foregone in giving effect to this policy. To return to the question of maximum rates, I would observe that we do not fix upon those rates with a view to making them correspond arbitrarily and exactly with adjoining rates already adopted but in order to produce a certain amount (see para 77 of joint report) which it is considered the tract under report should be assessed at. This amount I have already shown will give Government, after allowing for the pay of village officers, no immediate gain at all. It is of course necessary to avoid great inconsistencies as regards neighbouring rates, but a reference to my letter No. 957 to the Deputy Commissioner will make it clear that this is the identical reason why I have proposed to keep the Government demand at a low figure.

Proceedings of the Dewan to His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore, (Revenue),—dated 6th March 1884.

6. Mr. Soob Rao again brings up the question of the Tumkur settlement as bearing upon the question now at issue and states, or at least leaves it to be inferred, that there has been heartburning among the ryots in the portion of the Tumkur Taluk adjoining Gubbi of the late Kadaba Taluk. I have not the actual figures by me, but to the best of my recollection the maximum dry rate in the adjoining Tumkur Taluk was in some villages Rs. 2 and in others Rs. 1-14-0, while in Gubbi the maximum dry rate, which was originally Rs 1-12-0, was at Mr. Soob Rao's own suggestion raised to, and now is, Rs. 2. There cannot therefore be any heartburning as regards the dry crop maximum ; if anywhere the heartburning would be in the Gubbi villages. The rice maximum in Tumkur adjoining villages is certainly 2 rupees higher, and in a few cases only 1 rupee higher, than in Gubbi, but that this difference is appreciable by the ryots I find difficulty in realizing, for the average rate, it so happens, is about the same in both cases. At para 14 of my report on the settlement of the late Kadaba Taluk I was obliged, most unwillingly, to go into facts and figures owing to charges of a general and unsupported character which had been made against the Tumkur settlement and I cannot understand why a settlement which has received the sanction of Government and which, judged by the indication of its working furnished by the accounts, the only legitimate method of judging, has been satisfactory and certainly brought in a largely increased revenue to Government, should be so constantly dragged into discussion.

7. I have combated the objections to the proposed settlement with as much detail as the general terms in which those objections have been expressed admit of. I imagine however that Mr. Soob Rao really objects to the settlement on general grounds and wishes to see very low rates adopted, apparently under the impression that thereby the whole of the arable land in the taluk will come under the plough. Any such expectation I believe to be fallacious. So long as the rates are within the line of moderation and fairness and are at the same time equal, they cannot prove deterrent, and if we seek to make them still lower we can only do so at the expense of the customary land tax. If, for instance, the Government demand be fixed at Rs. 20,000 less than we have fixed it at, no one will expect to see Government recouped by extended cultivation hereafter, for although no doubt it would benefit the taluk to leave Rs. 20,000 with the ryots, the extension of cultivation will never be in the same ratio. Should any unlooked for economic change occur, of which we have now no knowledge, there might be a great incentive to increased cultivation sufficient to make up the amount foregone, but if such a change ever occurs, such rates as are now proposed would be simply inappreciable. In short the liberality proposed by Mr. Soob Rao can only be indulged in by giving up a portion of the customary land tax.

8. In conclusion I would sum up by observing that I cannot understand how the proposed settlement can be regarded as otherwise than liberal almost to a fault. We are practically, while bringing every acre to account, keeping the Government demand at the same figure as it was in 1881—82 when there was no survey or any effective check upon the appropriation of land. What an extraordinary reduction of rates this fact implies Government cannot but be well aware of.

9. My estimate, moreover, is liable to considerable reduction on account of remission to be given in the case of the "Hát-lágavad" or private tanks alluded to by Mr. Narasimmaiengar in para 9 of his letter. Such cases are likely to be numerous in the Kolar District generally, but as I believe no register was opened in the form suggested in my letter No. 842, dated 23rd September 1876 and approved of by the Chief Commissioner in his Order No. 7762—R. 36, dated 3rd November 1876, I cannot make any accurate estimate of the number. Mr. Narasimmaiengar suggests some special treatment of these tanks but the existing orders regarding the mode and extent to which such claims are to be recognized are already laid down in Chief Commissioner's General No. 104—R. No. 9 of the 6th April 1872 and I presume it is not intended to go beyond the very liberal treatment there laid down. Enquiry will be instituted in each case during the settlement and duly reported.

10. The suggestion by Mr. Narasimmaiengar at para 14 that the town of Chikballapur should be consolidated into one village instead of being composed of portions of 5 different villages as at present will be attended to at the settlement.

11. I regret having had to write at such length, but the question at issue is of great importance involving, not a few thousand rupees more or less, but a principle which Government cannot afford to abandon. I shall be prepared to commence giving out the rates early in May and beg therefore to solicit early orders.—

From the Deputy Superintendent, Mysore Revenue Survey, To the Superintendent, Mysore Revenue Survey, No. 129, dated Channarayapatna, 19th February 1883.

I have the honor to submit the following proposals for the revision of the assessment in the Chikballapur Taluk of the Kolar District.

2. The taluk comprises the following maganis or sub-divisions :—

Number.	Name of Magani.	Government villages.	Inam villages.	State Forests.	Remarks.
1	2	3	4	5	6
1	Chikballapur	33	13	...	There are no Amrut Mahal kavals in the Taluk.
2	Avati	35	9	...
3	Nandi	54	14	1	There is one coffee garden on the Nandi Hill.
4	Manchenahalli	26	16	...
5	Puransagar	53	13	...
6	Peresandra	28	2	...
7	Manchanbele	53	6	...
7	Total.....	280	73	1

These proposals refer solely to the 280 Government villages shown in column 3 of the above statement, and in all calculations of area, &c. the Inam villages are not included except where specially mentioned.

3. Captain Price, the Assistant in charge of the Classing Operations, has treated of the marginally-noted subjects so fully and clearly in paras 3, 4, 6, 8, 9, 10, 11 and 14 of his report hereto attached, that it is unnecessary for me to go over the same ground. I may, however, here state that I had ample opportunities, when on a visit to his camp, of seeing the nature of the different kinds of soil, and the various modes of irrigation. In my opinion the soils, with the exception of those in the more hilly tracts, are, on the whole, decidedly good, and the water supply, both from its abundance and close proximity to the surface, admits of irrigation being carried on to an extent rarely met with in the plain taluks of Mysore, and at a comparatively moderate expenditure of money and labor. Sugar-cane, sometimes in small patches, sometimes in extensive tracts, flourishing crops of jola, potatoes, and ground-nut, &c., testified to the fertility of the soil and the existence of an ample water supply.

1. General Description.
2. Population.
3. Soils.
4. Roads.
5. Rivers and Irrigation.
6. Crops.
7. Manufacture.

4. The following statement shows the statistics collected by the Classers during the classification of the taluk :—

Taluk statistics.

Number of villages.	Houses.	Population.	Cattle.	Square miles.	Carts.			Ploughs.	Markets.	Remarks.
					Small.	Large.	Total.
1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10	11
280	7,308	34,172	56,047	* 236	1,077	344	1,421	4,323	3	* Inclusive of area of State Forests.

5. The taluk suffered severely during the famine : in the census returns for 1871 the population was given as 69,177 and in those for 1881 as 49,045, showing a loss of 20,000 in the 10 years. The classing census taken in the current year shows the population to be only 34,172 being a difference of 14,873 between it and that of 1881. The difference is considerable and is partly due to the difficulty the Classers experience in obtaining accurate and trustworthy information regarding the number of residents in each house, and partly to the fact that there is a considerable migratory population engaged in trade and to distant parts of the Province and beyond it. I think also that the demand for labor on the lines of railway between Bangalore and Mysore and Bangalore and Tumkur may partly account for the difference. If the survey census be adopted, the population to the square mile will be 145, and on the cultivated area 534, comparatively a very large proportion.

Past revenue management.

6. The Deputy Commissioner, Kolar District, in his report on the Chikballapur Taluk, states that the revenue accounts were originally based on Dewan Púrnaiya's paimayish of 1805—6, but that in 1859—60 a rough survey was carried out by the Superintendent of the late Bangalore Division and the results were embodied in a form of accounts known by the name of the "Number Zhadati" of "Siddharthi," a record which is still extant. From a statement of rates per khandi prepared by the Amildar it is evident that great inequality existed in the incidence of the assessment on all kinds of cultivation, but especially on dry crop. As, however, this state of things is not by any means unusual, and as it would be a waste of time, and would serve no good purpose to attempt to trace the causes of these inequalities, I will merely give farther on a few instances, taken from different villages in different maganis, to show that such inequalities really exist.

Batayi cultivation.

7. Batayi cultivation used to be common throughout the taluk, but a few years ago it was converted into nagadiyat, and now, with the exception of a few isolated cases here and there, batayi cultivation may be said to be extinct, a change very much to the advantage both of Government and ryot. The total amount realized in 1880—81 from the sale of batayi produce was Rs. 600 for the whole taluk.

Old collections and average rates.

8. In the following maganiwar statement I give the average rates obtained by applying our survey area to the old collections :—

Magani.	Garden.			Rice.			Dry crop.
	Acres by Survey.	Old collections.	Average rate.	Acres by Survey.	Old collections.	Average rate.	Acres by Survey.	Old collections.	Average rate.
1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10
Chikballapur ...	600	3,393	5 10 6	956	6,058	6 5 5	2,950	5,642	1 14 7
Avati	340	993	2 14 9	930	3,512	3 12 5	4,205	5,837	1 6 3
Nandi	360	1,385	3 13 7	494	3,010	6 1 6	3,902	6,244	1 9 7
Manchenaballi ...	214	1,456	6 12 10	730	4,642	6 5 9	2,667	3,342	1 4 1
Puransagar ...	86	277	3 3 6	454	2,630	5 12 8	3,497	4,336	1 3 10
Peresandra ...	51	578	11 5 4	761	3,499	4 9 7	2,598	2,797	1 1 3
Manchanbele ...	267	728	2 11 8	679	4,239	6 3 11	4,361	5,489	1 4 2
	1,918	8,810	4 9 6	5,004	27,590	5 8 3	24,180	33,687	1 6 3

Taking out the average rates maganiwar as shown above, the inequalities do not appear so prominently as they would if illustrated by a few "Numberwar" examples from different villages. But even as it is, the inadequacy and inequality of the rates on rice and especially on garden cultivation is sufficiently striking. In Peresandra Magani the average rate on garden is Rs. 11-5-4, and in Manchanbele Rs. 2-11-8, and on rice Rs. 4-9-7 and Rs. 6-3-11, respectively. The latter is a decidedly high rate for rice, especially when contrasted with the garden rates prevailing in 5 out of the 7 maganis in the taluk. The dry crop rates appear to be tolerably uniform, yet according to data received from the Amildar they range from Rs. 14-0-0 to Rs. 0-5-10 per acre, an inequality sufficiently startling to elicit from him the native remark "that the people murmur at the heavy rates put on them."

11. There was a sudden rise in the collections of 1859—60 over those of the two preceding years, which continued with slight fluctuations till 1865, when the highest collections, Rs. 1,00,834, were realized. With a few exceptions the collections gradually declined till 1881—82 when they reached their lowest level for the whole 25 years under report. With the exception of the heavy remissions in the famine year of 1876—77, there were none of any importance. The fluctuations of prices present nothing abnormal except of course in 1866 and during the period of the famine.

Remarks on past collections and prices.

12. The actual results of survey are shown in the subjoined statement :—

Actual results of survey.

Description.	Government.		Inam.		Total Government and Inam.		Grand total.
	Cultivated area.	Waste area.	Cultivated area.	Waste area.	Cultivated area.	Waste area.

Area of Nandi State Forest							2,749
Grand Total, arable and unarable for the whole taluk, i. e. 236 square miles ...							151,167

13. From the figures given above it will be seen that while the area of waste garden is comparatively small, and that of rice nearly half the cultivated area, the waste dry crop almost equals the area under cultivation. The famine is no doubt partly answerable for a large proportion of this waste dry crop land, but on the other hand it must be remembered that a considerable are a consists of very poor soil, which would of course be left uncultivated so long as better soil was available.

Old average rates based on survey area.

14. As not much dependence can be placed on the recorded area of, and on the nominal rates imposed on the different kinds of cultivation, I have, in the following statement, given the rates obtained by applying the actual area by survey to the actual collections under each head :—

Description.	Acres by Survey.	Old Collections.	Average Rate.
1	2	3	4
Garden	1,918	8,810	4 9 6
Rice	5,004	27,590	5 8 3
Dry crop	24,180	33,687	1 6 3
	31,102	70,087	2 4 1

The above rates for rice and garden can scarcely be considered high, when the nature of the soil and the ample water—supply previously alluded to, are taken into consideration. The dry crop rate too appears to be moderate enough.

15. For purposes of assessment I propose dividing up the taluk into two groups with the maximum rates shown below opposite each group :—

rGroup.	Villages.	Maximum Rates on.—
		Dry crop.	Rice.	Garden.
1	2	3	4	5
I	236	2 12 0	9 0 0	16 0 0 and 6 0 0 on well garden.
II	44	2 8 0

The taluk is on the whole so compact and so well provided with roadsthat it appeared to me unnecessary to have more than two groups. The first group comprises more than three-fourths of the taluk, and consequently almost all the villages within easy reach of the principal lines of communication. The second group represents those villages in the Peresandra, Purnasagar and Manchenahalli Maganis, which are either farther from the roads or are becharak. Many of them no doubt derive some climatic advantages from their position in the neighbourhood of the Nandi range of hills, but I consider that such advantages are practically neutralized by the disadvantages due to their inaccessibility.

16. I have not thought it necessary to have more than one group for wet cultivation ; the rainfall being much the same throughout the taluk, if we except that portion lying at the foot of the Nandi range. The maximum for tank-irrigated garden of the superior kinds, such as supari, cocoanut, betel-vine, &c., is Rs. 16, but this rate has in no single case been reached, and for wells, Rs. 6, which rate has not been exceeded. Each garden number, whether tank or well irrigated, has been assessed on its individual merits.

17. The imposition of the above rates on Government occupied lands of all descriptions will give the following results :—

21. The general effect of my proposals will be apparent from the following statement in which the old average rates for the whole taluk are contrasted with the proposed rates, the basis of calculation for both being the survey area :—

General effect of proposed settlement.

Description.	Acres by Survey.	Old System.		New System.
		Collections.	Average Rate.	Assessment.	Average Rate.
1	2	3	4	5	6
Dry crop	24,180	33,687	1 6 3	38,660	1 9 7
Rice	5,004	27,590	5 8 3	26,898	5 6 0
Garden	1,918	8,810	4 9 6	11,087	5 12 6
	31,102	70,087	2 4 1	76,645	2 7 5

22. The rates for dry crop and garden in column 6 show a slight increase on those in column 4 ; while that for rice is lower. In this, as in most taluks hitherto settled, many lands entered in the old accounts as rice have been treated as garden by the survey.

23. The amount realized under this head for the year 1881—82 was Rs. 2,556, and I have retained this sum in calculating the total anticipated collections under the survey system.

Grazing.

24. The amount credited to Local Fund for the year 1881—82 at the rate of one anna in the rupee was Rs. 5,107 ; under the proposed settlement it will be Rs. 6,217 on Government occupied and minor Inam lands.

Local cess.

25. The realizations of 1881—82 are compared in the following statement with the anticipated results of the proposed settlement :—

General comparison of old and new assessment.

	Rs.
Land Revenue for 1881—82	70,087
One Anna Local Cess	5,107
Grazing	2,556
Total under old system.....	77,750
Survey assessement of occupied lands	76,645
One Anna Local Cess on Government occupied and minor Inam lands ...	6,217
Grazing	2,556
Total under the new or survey system.....	85,418

26. So far as the actual revenue is concerned, there is, leaving out local cesses, an increase Rs. 6,558 on the old assessment. This increase, however, is only nominal, as it becomes abbed in the sums required for the purposes mentioned in paras 27 and 28.

27. For the remuneration of village officers a sum of between Rs. 5,000 and Rs. 6,000 will be required.

ay of village officers.

28. A sum of about Rs. 3,000 calculated at the rate of $\frac{1}{17}$ of the total assessment on wet cultivation will have to be set aside as the contribution to the irrigation fund.

rigation cess.

29. If the above mentioned sums are deducted from the total estimated revenue there remains a difference of Rs. 332 in favor of the old assessment. It would have been easy enough to show a surplus instead of a deficit, t considering the circumstances of the taluk, the effects of the late famine, and the enormous area culturable waste, I am of opinion that the moderate rates now imposed will have the effect of couraging the ryots to take up lands for cultivation which would otherwise have probably conued to lie waste. It should also be borne in mind that the ryots will be exempted from the payıt of levies (whether cash or grain) to the village officers, a burden which the poorer classes ıongst them could ill-afford to bear. This exemption, together with security of tenure and)derate rates will, I anticipate, result, in the course of a few years, in extended cultivation and ıreased revenue to Government.

ıctual results.

30. It is of course impossible to foretell with any degree of accuracy what amount of land ll be resigned at the settlement, but it is equally certain that ryots holding large and more or ıs scattered areas will throw up what they do not absolutely require, and thus contract their ldings within reasonable limits.

From the Deputy Commissioner, Kolar District, To the Deputy Superintendent, Mysore Revenue Survey, No. 584—328, dated Kolar, 5th August 1882.

„ 450, dated 9th June 1882.
„ 564, dated 20th July 1882.
„ 597, dated 27th July 1882.

I have now the honor to reply to your communications noted in the margin.

2. I must premise my remarks with the avowal that my acquaintance with the fiscal system of this District only dates from April 1881, although part of it came under my observation when I was settling the inams in the north western taluks in 1870 and 1871. Barring scattered fragments touching isolated matters, I regret that no connected account of the subject can be found in the records of this office.

3. I am informed by the Chikaballpur Amildar that he has already sent you a memo on the areas, rates, &c, prevailing in the taluk, and shall therefore abstain from crowding statistics into this communication. Indeed they would be of little use to your department, as they are more or less conjectural, and your department has been for some months gathering more reliable information on all points connected with classification.

4. The recorded areas of dry or unirrigated lands in the taluk are as a rule conjectural or tór, although it would not in my humble opinion be quite accurate to say that the krishnaraj bijavari areas are all based on the quantity of seed required to be sown. The krishnaraj scale is a standard of area, like the acre, authoritatively instituted by Dewan Purnaiya in 1805, as per his original nirúp of that year, which I came across in the course of the inam settlement. Each mámúl kandayam field was measured at the time of the paimayish of 1805—6, which is usually called after that Dewan's name, and however defective and suspicious the survey might have been, the figures then recorded expressed real areas, and were transcribed in subsequent accounts, including the aval (1) number and duyam (2) number accounts. In 1859—60, a paimayish was attempted by the Superintendent of the late Bangalore Division, and the result is shown in the very useful record now extant known as the "Number Jhadti of Siddharthi."

5. The wet or irrigated lands under tanks were more or less in batayi till a few years ago, but when converted into nagadiyat or ready-money assessment, they were measured by the Taluk officials, and their extents therefore more nearly approximate the truth. These facts should in my opinion be borne in mind in comparing the old rates with those which the Survey Department has it in contemplation to impose.

6. The principal feature in the Chikballapur Taluk, which markedly strikes every observer, is the flourishing condition of the sugar-cane and chillar garden cultivation. In the Chik-

These facts should in my opinion be borne in mind in comparing the old rates with those which the Survey Department has it in contemplation to impose.

6. The principal feature in the Chikballapur Taluk, which markedly strikes every observer, is the flourishing condition of the sugar-cane and chillar garden cultivation. In the Chik-ballapur valley itself, the cane crop, together with potatoes, onions, garlic, &c., &c., seem to raise the average profits of the ryots more than elsewhere. But per contra it must be remembered that the ryots' costs and the assessment on such lands are proportionately heavier. Besides, the embargo that has been put on the cultivation of poppy has materially reduced the ryots' prosperity in this and neighbouring taluks. Prior to 1865, the dry and wet lands which used to grow sugar-cane in every alternate year, were charged with the full assessment for the 1st year, and ½ thereof in the next year, under the system known as "Gannakuli," which was abolished in 1865 by my predecessor under the authority of the Commissioner, and a uniform yearly rate was substituted, calculated on the average of the two payments. I have not heard any complaints to the effect that this rate was disproportionate either way. One of the principal factors to be borne in mind in assessing the sugar-cane lands in this taluk, especially those above the ghat, is the indisputable fact that the underground springs have of late become very deficient, where they have not actually failed. This is the universal complaint in the taluk, and the succession of bad seasons we have lately had have only aggravated the evil. The cost and labor of watering the sugar-cane plantations should therefore be duly appraised.

7. I would also beg to remind you that the projected trunk line of railway will not benefit this taluk. Its ultimate arrival has been lately taken into account in assessing another taluk, and I have therefore considered it necessary to notice the fact here.

8. It has been repeatedly urged on my notice that the lands under the Gopalakrishna Hosakere tank are too heavily assessed, although the soil is inferior, and that they are not usually sought after even in revenue sales.

9. I think a special treatment is called for regarding the "Hát-Lágavad" tanks, granted by my predecessor under Mr. Bowring's Circular of 1863. These are divided into—

(a) cases in which a reduction has been expressly granted in the rate of assessment to cover the cost of repairs, and—

(b) tanks for the repair of which no expressed reduction was granted in the assessment, although it was made light.

In the latter class of cases, a comparatively low rate was charged on lands long waste under dilapidated tanks, on the condition of their repair and up-keep. This was virtually resuscitating and, in a measure, rejuvenating the kodigi tenure, and it must be admitted that a good deal of impetus was thereby given to wet cultivation. Many a small tank that had lain useless and unprofitable, with its lands barren for years, has been brought into order, and its irrigable area converted into smiling paddy fields, without any cost to Government. This system called into healthy play much private enterprize, and it must be regretted that it has gone out of vogue of late. Such grants should in my opinion be allowed ¼ remission at the settlement, in the same manner as cases falling under (a).

10. In regard to the tank irrigated lands generally, I would beg to call attention to the state of the tanks in the taluk. Many of the larger and nearly all the smaller ones are out of order, and under the present system of executing public works, and with the present financial pressure, it is not unreasonable to suppose that they will not be restored to efficiency for many years to come. I opine therefore that the wet rates should be very moderate. I do not say anything about the supari gardens of Manchenahalli, as I perceive that the policy of the Government is rightly not to tax crops or industry, but only the land.

11. On the whole, I am decidedly of opinion that the assessment rates in this taluk should be very moderate. It will take several years before this taluk regains its wonted prosperity and good condition.

12. In your No. 564, dated 20th ultimo, you ask my opinion regarding the way in which the villages should be grouped in the taluk. For obvious reasons, I can only indicate in a general way what should be done in this matter. I think that, whilst as a rule the grouping ought to be by territorial belts or tracts, particular villages or towns should be raised or lowered a class from the belt they are situated in, on account of extra advantages. Such villages in the Chikballapur Taluk are Peresandra, Nandi, Manchanabele, Manchenahalli, &c., which should in my opinion be joined with Chikballapur in group I. The rough tract known as the "Ketenahalligatta" grows excellent ragi, and gets more rain than the more open parts of the taluk, but on account of its inaccessiblity and sparse population, it ought, according to my judgment, to be classed low. The same remark applies with greater emphasis to the clusters of villages with which the western valleys of the Nandi range of hills are studded. This tract is wild and comparatively difficult of access, and since the famine, in which it suffered very severely, its pristine well-being is slow in returning, owing among other causes also to the strict conservancy of the neighbouring jungles.

13. In special seasons there is much demand for the cultivation for a season of the beds tanks, with Bengal-gram, javari, &c., and it is suggested that, if possible, a rough assessment ay be put on such tank beds as can be utilized in this way, for the guidance of the Revenue epartment in order to avoid frequent references to the Survey Department.

14. In my letter No. 1982—1017, dated 17th March 1882, to the Superintendent, I have ecommended that the town of Chikballapur should be consolidated into one village, instead of s being, as at present, bits of 5 different villages.

15. I am afraid this communication might appear disjointed, and to deal only with generazations, but I have no knowledge as yet of the data on which your settlement is to be based, and ust therefore content myself with furnishing you with such observations as occur to me as posbly useful to you. I beg also to apologize for the delay in replying to your references, which as under the circumstances unavoidable.

From the Deputy Commissioner, Kolar District, To the Superintendent, Mysore Revenue Survey, No. 1574—873, dated Kolar, 20th March 1883.

In reply to your letter No. 957 of the 7th instant, I have the honor to state that I fully agree ith my predecessor Mr Narasimmaiengar in considering that the rates to be introduced into Chikallapur should be as moderate as possible. The ryots have not yet fully recovered from the ffects of the late famine and the revenue of the taluk has been falling off, and the Phada Patrika r lists of waste lands are increasing.

2. The following table shows the rates sanctioned to the adjoining taluks and those proposed o Chikballapur :—

I. TABLE.

Taluks.	Groups.	Maximum Rates.
		Dry crop.	Rice.	Garden.
		Rs. A. P.	Rs. A. P.	Rs. A. P.
Gudibanda	I	2 6 0	8 8 0	16 0 0

	II	1 14 0	8 0 0	16 0 0
Proposed to Chikballapur	I	2 12 0	9 0 0	16 0 0
	II	2 8 0	9 0 0	16 0 0

Chikballapur is not so rich as Goribidnur and Gudibanda. However, the maximum rates of dry and wet lands in the case of the first mentioned taluk is enhanced, a great number of villages have lately been transferred from Gudibanda to Chikballapur and from Chikballapur to Goribidnur. If the rates of assessment in the villages of Chikballapur be higher than those in the already settled taluks, it may create heartburning among the ryots, as in the case now in the villages of the Tumkur Taluk situated at the side of those belonging to Gubbi lately settled. As a rule, 90 per cent of the ryots in this taluk under review are poor, the crops they raise are barely sufficient to pay Government kandayam and to maintain themselves. In most cases they go to fore-stall the crops for their personal debts. Besides this the high rate of assessment on land generally diminished its value. Ryots do not take them up. In the settled taluks almost all the fields bearing high rate of assessment lie unoccupied, yielding no revenue. If the rates are moderate and fair, the ryots do not give up their holdings and take up almost all the waste and occupied lands which benefits both the Government and their holders.

Proceedings of the Dewan to His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore, (Revenue),—dated 6th March 1884.

3. In comparing the figures in the statement which accompanies your letter under reference, I see a great disparity of revenue in the cases of the undermentioned villages.

4. The increase of assessment in some of the above mentioned cases is above 1,500 per cent The revenue proposed in the case of Gopalkrishnakere is nearly double, notwithstanding Mr. Narasimmaiengar's special recommendation in para 8 of his letter No. 584—328 of 5th August, to the address of the Deputy Superintendent, Revenue Survey, for adopting lower rates than those existing at present.

The enclosures are herewith returned.

Proceedings of the Dewan to His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore, (Revenue),—dated 6th March 1884.

From the Superintendent, Mysore Revenue Survey, To the Secretary to the Dewan of Mysore, No. 946, dated Bettadpur, 1st March 1883.

I have the honor to submit the marginally noted papers and correspondence on the subject of the proposed revision of the assessment of the late Narsipur Taluk of the late Hassan District.

1. Survey Superintendent's Report No. 888 the 9th February 1883, together with its pendices and a sketch map, &c.
2. Mr. Krishna Murti's letter No. 423 of 23rd idem.

2. The circumstances which rendered it advisable to obtain the opinion of Mr. Krishna urti on this settlement are identical with those which necessitated a similar course in the case the settlement of the Arkalgud Taluk and which have been already explained in my report o. 880, dated the 5th ultimo.

3. It will be observed that Mr. Krishna Murti considers the proposed rates to be moderate, nd concurs generally in their suitability ; the only point upon which he appears to entertain some oubt being the advisability of distributing the increase by the settlement more on the wet than the dry land. I will deal with this point presently, but will first explain that the average rate ruck by me and alluded to by Mr. Krishna Murti at para 4 was on the total demand for 1881—2 and included no arrears of previous years.

4. The real question at issue however is whether the dry rates proposed by me should not e slightly decreased. Of the total increase of Rs. 12,756, involved in the proposed settlement, s. 6,707 represent increase of the assessment on dry land, or about 27 per cent, and Rs. 6,049 present increase of the assessment of wet lands, including rice and garden, or about 22 per nt. I would invite attention to the fact that the dry crop maximum adopted for the villages of e 2nd group was Rs. 1—8—0, the same as was adopted for the 3rd group of villages in Arkal-id which represented, for dry crops, the worst part of the latter taluk, being semi Malnad in haracter. I need scarcely observe that, let the new rates be ever so fair and liberal, an equal ncidence of increase on each kind of cultivation can never be insured. As an extreme illustra-on of my meaning I would cite the case of Malnad Taluks where there was no old assessment t all on dry crop lands. Even on the hypothesis that the old assessment was itself equal and irly distributed, such a theory would not in my opinion be sound.

5. There is also another point bearing very forcibly on the question at issue which is that the time of measurement it is far easier for a ryot to point out waste dry land to be included his field than in the case of wet land and consequently the area of the former recorded as occu-ied is not strictly accurate. In fact the area of dry crop land is neither so definite or so fixed an em as wet land, and the same rule will of course apply to the increase under the proposed rates considerable portion of which may possibly disappear by relinquishments at the settlement. I o not however believe that these relinquishments would be at all less numerous if the dry rates ere reduced, even very materially ; for, so long as these are intrinsically moderate, the ryot takes hem very little into consideration in regulating the extent of his holding. If the average rate n dry crop were reduced by 6 pies per acre, the increase on the dry and wet lands would bear lmost the same ratio and thus meet Mr. Krishna Murti's suggestions, but it can scarcely be sup-osed that it would make any appreciable difference to the ryot. On the whole I do not think nything would be gained by changing the dry rates to such a small extent, while the trouble it ould give in my office would be very considerable as the settlement papers are now far ad-anced.

6. With the knowledge I possessed of the tract of country comprising the late Narsipur aluk I had long ago determined that any rates I proposed should be moderate and to this end y efforts have been chiefly directed. As stated in para 29 of my report, had the increase nvolved in my proposals been the result of rates other than what were perfectly moderate, I hould have been quite prepared to forego it, but I cannot see any reason whatever for sacrificing evenue in the present instance.

7. I shall feel greatly obliged by early orders being passed on the proposed settlement. I hall be prepared to commmence giving out the rates about the 1st proximo.

From the Superintendent, Revenue Survey and Assessment, Mysore To the Secretary to the Dewan of Mysore, No. 888, dated Kunigal, 9th February 1883.

I have the honor to submit the following proposals for the revision of the assessment of the ate Narsipur Taluk of the Hassan District.

2. The reasons for dealing with the settlement of this Taluk, irrespective of the recent ectification of Taluk boundaries, will be found at para 2 of the settlement report of the Arkalgud Taluk.

3. The following are the maganis or ancient sub-divisions of the tract under report :—

Number.	Maganis.	Government villages.	Kavals.	Inam villages.	Total.	Remarks.
1	2	3	4	5	6	7
1	Narsipur	36	...	6	42
2	Nidvani	57	4	7	68
3	Mavinkere	49	1	9	59
4	Ganni	38	3	1	42
5	Madapura	18	...	2	20
	Total.....	198	8	25	231

4. It will suffice to state here, before proceeding with the general object of my report, that the tract under report will for the future appear as part of the Hole Narsipur Taluk with the exception of a small group of villages to the north-west, transferred to the Channarayapatna Taluk, and another small group to the south which has been transferred to the Attikuppa Taluk ; in short, the Hemavati river now becomes the eastern limit of the new Hole-Narsipur Taluk. The old and new position of the Taluk boundaries will be found fully illustrated in the sketch map which accompanies this report. For our present purpose, however, it must be borne in mind that we are dealing with the taluk as it formerly stood when measured, and more especially with the 198 Government villages shown in para 3.

5. A report by Major Mackenzie, the officer in charge of classing operations, is also attached. It will be found to be very clear and interesting and will save much repetition on my part.

6. The tract under report is readily described as almost entirely drained by the Hemavati river in the channel irrigation from which it largely partakes. This channel irrigation, fully described by Major Mackenzie in para 5, is beyond doubt the leading feature of a tract which could otherwise be described in no other terms than sterile and unimportant. As the river is receded from, especially to the south, the up-lands become bleak and unpromising. Even under the channels the soils are not very good, but in the Taluk generally they are decidedly poor. In short, the best villages all lie near the channels and are more favored in all respects, including roads and markets, the former of which traverse the Taluk in a manner especially convenient for the villages near the channels, while the only 3 markets in the Taluk are situated amongst them.

7. The crops, described by Major Mackenzie at para 10, are not very superior, whether in dry, wet or garden lands. The garden lands have gone a good deal to decay from the combined effects of drought and emigration of labor during the famine. The lands under the channels, both wet and garden, display marked superiority to similar kinds of cultivation elsewhere which is of a very desultory and uncertain character. The climate is very similar to that of Arkalgud, the annual rain-fall being estimated at about 30 inches and is pretty equally distributed.

8. On the whole the condition of this Taluk compares a little unfavorably with that of the adjoining Taluk of Arkalgud, the latter being not only more largely, but more uniformly, populated, and I think I may say, a good deal more favored in its soils and natural productiveness In Narsipur the changes from favored spots like the channel irrigation to the unpromising and poorly populated up-lands are very sudden and as will be seen further on, somewhat lower rates will be proposed than in Arkalgud excepting in the very best parts of Narsipur.

9. The resources of the villages under report will be understood from the following statement of statistics collected during classification :—

Villages.	Houses.	Population.	Square miles.	Cattle.	Ploughs	Carts.	Market Towns.	Remarks.
1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
198	6,102	27,830	167	73,698	5,299	73	3

There is the same strange absence of wheeled carriage as was observed in the Arkalgud Taluk. The population of the Government villages is 27,830 which, making allowance for 25 Inam villages, would make the survey census agree pretty fairly with the figures of the last regular census which gave 32,117 for the whole Taluk. The population is 166 to the square mile for the whole area of the Government villages, but 352 to the square mile of occupied area alone. In both points the Taluk under report shows lower figures than the adjoining Taluks of Arkalgud and Hassan. The town of Narsipur, as towns go in this District, is well populated and of some importance. It is a market town with a population of over 5,000 and can boast of about 185 looms for the manufacture of coarse cotton cloth. There are only 2 other markets, Kattebilguli and Kuncha, in the Mavinkere and Ganni Maganis respectively.

10. As in markets so in roads the villages near the river channels are peculiarly favored. I except the villages near the Madapura channels from this description, as those channels are not only out of working but are unfavorably situated with reference to roads and markets. Major Mackenzie describes roads in para 17. He speaks too favorably of the road which branches off the Narsipur-Channarayapatna road to Kikkeri. Last year I was unable to use the road in question for carts, and I was informed that it had been proposed but abandoned; at any rate it is I believe not now used for wheeled carriage.

11. I will now show how the Taluk has been broken up by the survey and can then proceed to the more immediate object of my report:—

Description of Land.	Government.		Inam.		Total.		Grand Total.
	Occupied.	Waste.	Occupied.	Waste.	Occupied.	Waste.
1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8
Dry crop	40,635	25,136	2,448	...	43,083	25,136	68,219

Total Area for the whole Taluk, 205 square miles				...	...	...	1,31,393

12. There is a considerable quantity of arable assessed waste, but it is of poor quality compared to that under occupancy.

13. As regards past revenue management I have only to observe that all old settlements have been ryotwari. Major Mackenzie gives very little information regarding the existing rates of assessment on ordinary dry, wet and garden lands, but only regarding the rates on channel lands which he states ranged from Rs. 6 to Rs. 8. As a matter of fact however the actual rates paid are far less. I have however obtained from the Amildar information that the present rates are as follow per acre :—

	Rs.	A.	P.		Rs.	A.	P.
Dry	0	4	0	to	3	0	0
Wet	2	8	0	to	9	0	0
Garden	2	12	0	to	10	0	0

I quote the above rates in order that they may be compared with the average rates now actually paid in each magani under each head calculated by applying the newly ascertained survey area to the old collections :—

Magani.	Dry Crop.			Rice.			Garden.
	Acres by survey.	Old collections.	Average rate.	Acres by survey.	Old collections.	Average rate.	Acres by survey.	Old collections.	Average rate.
1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10
Narsipur ...	7,899	5,109	0 10 4	831	3,288	3 15 4	235	1,000	4 4 1
Nidvani ...	14,919	8,225	0 8 10	666	1,872	2 13 0	525	1,854	3 8 6

Total.....	40,635	24,605	0 9 8	5,693	32,638	3 15 9	1,404	4,892	3 7 9

14. It is evident that the standard of assessment, intended, has never been maintained and moreover that there are differences, comparing magani with magani, which are not justifiable. In Madapur, for instance, the dry crop assessment is lower even than in Nidvani and the wet assessment, on the other hand, is very high indeed. The effect of my proposals will be to raise the dry assessment in Madapur and reduce the wet. Inequality in the incidence of the old assessment, if proved, of course leaves a margin for increase on the lump sum of the old assessment, provided of course that the new rates are intrinsically moderate. The classwar statement attached to this report will enable any one, who has the curiosity to take out the details, to see the extraordinary difference of assessment in different villages under the old assessment. For even so poor a Taluk as Narsipur the lump sum paid has been very moderate and in equalizing the rates we may fairly take a reasonable increase.

15. The next statement shows the realizations in the villages under report for the last 25 years ; to save space the prices of ragi and rice for the same period are shown side by side with the collections :—

16. The fluctuations above shown are considerable, but, on the whole, it cannot be said that there are any signs of the old assessment, as a whole, having been too high. In most Taluks in Mysore, 1866 and 1867 were the years of the highest collections and, compared with those years, the present collections are high. There has however been a clear mark of the famine not only in the falling off of the revenue since 1875—76 but in the necessity for remissions. The last two years show a decided improvement, however, although disastrous to the revenue of the Province generally. At para 13 I showed that the lump sum paid, as judged by the average rates actually paid, was really not very heavy, and considering the inequality of the incidence of the old assessment I think that had there been anything really unreasonable in the total demand we should have seen much worse results than the figures in the collection statement indicate.

17. I propose to divide the Taluk into two groups only, for the purpose of assessment, as below :—

Group.	Villages.	Maximum Dry Crop Rate.	Maximum Rice Rate.	Maximum Rate under Channel.	Maximum Garden Rate.
1	2	3	4	5	6
I	127	2 0 0	8 0 0	10 0 0	10 0 0
II	71	1 8 0	7 8 0

It will be observed that I have made a considerable difference between the two groups as regards the dry crop maximum and, excepting in the case of the channel lands, have made the maximum rates on the whole a little lower than those I proposed for the Arkalgud Taluk.

18. The assessment of the occupied lands under the proposed rates will be as follows : —

Group.	Villages.	Dry crop.			Rice.			Garden.			Total.
		Acres.	Assessment.	Average rate.	Acres.	Assessment.	Average rate.	Acres.	Assessment.	Average rate.	Acres.	Assessment.	Average rate.
1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10	11	12	13	14
I	127	21,232	88,706	0 14 1	5,164	26,550	5 2 3	816	3,597	4 6 6	27,212	48,853	1 12 8
II	71	19,403	12,606	0 10 5	529	1,831	3 7 5	588	2,057	3 8 0	20,520	16,494	0 12 10
2	198	40,635	31,312	0 12 4	5,693	28,381	4 15 9	1,404	5,654	4 0 5	47,732	65,347	1 5 11

19. It may be asked why the average rate on rice should be higher in the 1st group in Narsipur than it was in the 1st group in Arkalgud. The reason is that the proportion of channel irrigated land to ordinary wet land is far greater in the former and is all contained in the 1st group. Further on I will show the assessment of the channel and ordinary rice lands separately.

20. The next statement shows the area and assessment of the arable waste land available for cultivation :—

Group.	Villages.	Dry crop.			Rice.			Garden.			Total.
		Acres.	Assessment.	Average rate.	Acres.	Assessment.	Average rate.	Acres.	Assessment.	Average rate.	Acres.	Assessment.	Average rate.
1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10	11	12	13	14
I	127	13,451	8,793	0 10 6	340	1,511	4 7 2	18	45	2 8 0	13,809	10,349	0 12 0
II	71	11,685	5,952	0 8 2	108	319	2 15 3	11	26	2 5 9	11,804	6,297	0 8 6
2	198	25,136	14,745	0 9 5	448	1,830	4 1 4	29	71	2 7 2	25,613	16,646	0 10 5

It will be observed that the quality of the waste lands above, judged by the assessment, is comparatively poor.

21. The extent and assessment of the minor Inam lands is shown below :—

Group.	Villages.	Dry crop.			Rice.			Garden.			Total.
		Acres.	Assessment.	Average rate.	Acres.	Assessment.	Average rate.	Acres.	Assessment.	Average rate.	Acres.	Assessment.	Average rate.

22. Next, for the purpose of general comparison, the whole area and assessment of the arable are shown in juxta position with the collections in 1881—82 for each group :—

		By old accounts.		By Survey.

23. The general effect of the proposed settlement is clearly shown in the following statement :—

Description of land.	Area.	By old accounts.		As per Survey.
		Collections.	Average rate.	Assessment.	Average rate.
1	2	3	4	5	6
Dry crop	40,635	24,605	0 9 8	31,312	0 12 4
Rice (channel)	4,224	17,503	4 2 4	23,197	5 7 10
Rice (ordinary)	1,469	5,135	3 7 11	5,184	3 8 6
Garden	1,404	4,892	3 7 9	5,654	4 0 5
Miscellaneous	...	456	...	...	...
Total.....	47,732	52,591	1 1 8	65,347	1 5 11

24. I do not think any doubt can exist as to the really moderate character of the above rates. The proportion of channel irrigated to ordinary rice land is very great, hence the high average rate shown in para 18 for wet land generally, but from the statement in the last para it will be seen how very differently the two kinds of rice in question have been estimated for assessment. The increase has been almost entirely on the superior rice under channels. The average rate for dry land has been raised from Rs, 0—9—8 to Rs. 0—12—4 not a very high average rate even for such lands as we have in Narsipur. The old dry rates, I must observe, averaged more than one rupee per acre in some villages, while in others it was not more than 2 or 3 annas. Under the new assessment the rate in no village averages so much, or so little, in fact the survey rates on dry land are in a much smaller compass, the highest being Rs. 1—2—10 for the village of Chikkere, No. 50 of Group I, and the lowest being Rs. 0—8—1 for the village of Maigond, No. 31 of Group II. The increase is entirely due to the process of equalizing, the general pitch of the assessment being much lower than that of the old assessment. The distinction into dry, wet and garden is not precisely the same in the old accounts as by survey and the contrast I have drawn is proportionately inappropriate, more especially as regards wet and garden. Looking at the effect of the settlement as a whole the increase on the occupied area from an average rate of Rs. 1—1—8 to one of Rs. 1—5—11 cannot be viewed as at all heavy.

25. The realizations from the sale of grazing amounted in 1881—82 to Rs. 158, under the proposed settlement it will probably be more, but it is unsatisfactory to attempt any estimate on this point. The realizations under the old system were remarkably low.

26. The local cess of 1 anna brought in, in 1881—82, Rs. 3,518; under the proposed settlement it will be Rs. 4,084 on the Government lands and Rs. 224 on the minor inam lands, in all Rs. 4,308.

27. The irrigation cess merged in the survey assessment to be annually credited to the Irrigation Fund will be about Rs. 2,000.

28. Putting aside the 1 anna local cess and grazing, there is an immediate gain to Government of Rs. 12,756 which will be reduced by Rs. 2,000 merged irrigation cess, as explained in the preceding para, and will be further liable to a charge of nearly Rs. 4,000 for pay of Patels and Shanbhogs, leaving a clear gain to Government of a little over Rs. 6,000.

29. Had the above increase been the result of any thing but the most reasonable rates, I should have been inclined to forego it, but, as it is, there can be no possible object in fixing the lump assessment at a lower figure. It is not easy to predict what will take place at the time of settlement as regards relinquishing and taking up of lands; there will be some loss no doubt from the former cause, but, on the other hand, there is no doubt that the current year exhibits, all over the Province, as indicated by the spread of cultivation, a more complete recovery from the effects of the famine than has yet been witnessed, and I have every hope that the realizable revenue at the close of the settlement will compare very favorably with my estimate.

30. As regards channel irrigation and prospective revenue from that source I beg to refer to paras 21 and 22 of my report on the Arkalgud Taluk.

31. The usual classwar statement, the Classing Officer's report and a sketch map of the taluk are attached, as also a list of inam villages with the kind of survey applied to each.

32. I beg to solicit early sanction to the proposals now submitted so as to enable me to give out the rates early next month.

Proceedings of the Dewan to His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore, (Revenue),—dated 6th March 1884.

From the Deputy Commissioner, Tumkur District, To the Superintendent, Mysore Revenue Survey, Mis. No. 423 Enclosures 5, dated Camp Sira, 23rd February 1883.

I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter No. 889 of 9th instant forwarding your letter No. 888 of 9th idem to Government containing proposals for the settlement of the late Narsipur Taluk.

2. I have very carefully studied them and have nothing to add to your accurate description of the character and productiveness of the soil, and of the other economical resources of the tract under consideration. To express my own opinions briefly I may say that the dry soil is very poor and notably so in parts of Nidavani and Kasaba Hoblis as also in a good portion of the Madapur Hobli. The wet lands no where approach the productiveness of the Cauvery valley. Gardens are few and have deteriorated. Excepting the Sriramadevar channel the tanks which are chiefly the sources of irrigation in the taluk are more or less unsound and the irrigation afforded by them is in proportion uncertain. The rain-fall also is scanty especially in the three hoblis already noted, and, on the whole, the facilities for the cultivation of wet crops under tanks are not of the highest order. The dry cultivation also is subject to periodical failures, and, in my humble opinion, deserves more lenient consideration than the rice land for the reason that the latter derives a great relief for the consequences and uncertainties of the weather under the Dewan's order which authorizes half remissions for waste numbers. But of this hereafter: it suffices to remark here that I heartily subscribe to all that you have said regarding the natural and the economic conditions of this taluk. But I must add that just before leaving the Hassan District I opened a market in Gunni to afford an outlet for all the rice grown in the channel tracts. The road from Narsipur to Kikkeri viâ Madapur would be a very desirable addition and I hope the project will sooner or later be completed.

3. The rates certainly appear to be moderate and as I have not the figures of the other taluks by me I am unable to institute a comparison. But as it is stated in para 17 of your letter that the maximum rates are somewhat lower than those adopted for the Arkalgud Taluk, I shall have no hesitation in accepting them as being suited to the conditions of the Narsipur Taluk. It is, I believe, useless to worry our brains to find out the history of the past revenue management. Whatever may have been the various evolutions which took place from time to time, the present system is ryotvar; and in proportion to the arbitrary character of the improvements forced upon an unscientific, unequal, and undefined basis we meet with the characteristic evils of abnormal excesses and deficiencies which it is as impossible to explain as to remove without creating individual hardship. We must therefore only look to a proper equalization of the revenue as our object in a first scientific settlement and regard the individual inequalities and hardships as an inevitable inconvenience to be sooner or later met in the face. To mitigate this hardship however the only course is to distribute the levy of the excess over a number of years in accordance with the ratio of the increase. I am quite pleased to see that you have proceeded upon these lines and am able to express my concurrence in the rates adopted by you.

4. At the first blush, however, I felt a doubt that the average rate you have struck on the present collection might not have been quite accurate. I have no means of removing my doubt except by a reference to the Amildar, but rather than delay my reply on this account I have deemed it proper to call your attention to the fact. The average you have struck is not on the average collection of a series of years, but the figures adopted are of the year 1881—82 only. The collection may possibly include the arrears of the previous years, as it is not the demand but the actual collection which has been taken into account; and if such be the case the comparison instituted in para 24 will not be quite accurate. But, as the average collection for 10 years is only less by (52591—52296=) 295 rupees than the figures which you have taken, the comparison may be accepted as a safe guide for all practical purposes.

5. I consider that an increase of 4 annas 3 pice over the existing average rate is not very high. But what strikes me is that an increase of nearly 12,000 rupees, more than half of which is contributed by the "bleak and sterile" dry fields, is rather a high margin to be justified in an attempt at scientific equalization and that a rather undue proportion of the increase falls on the dry lands. I have taken great pains to study the figures from different standpoints and think that the proportion between the dry and wet rates especially with reference to the increase is not properly kept up. In the first place I find that while in the dry rate the ratio of the increase between the existing and the proposed averages is 100 : 127 the same in the wet rates is 100 : 123¼. In other words, and roughly, while the 24,000 rupees of the dry land brings in an increase of nearly 6,500, the 27,000 rupees of the wet contribute only 6,000 rupees. This shows a larger ratable increase in the dry land than in the wet although the former is comparatively much poorer than the latter. Bearing this arithmetical ratio in mind and considering it in relation to the relative character of the wet and dry soils in this tract I think I may offer a suggestion to forego a portion of the increase now proposed in the dry crop revenue and afford greater relief to the holders of such land. I have, indeed, in the above calculation, not taken into account at all the deduction of 2,000 rupees which has to be made from the increase under the wet revenue on account of the

25. The realizations from the sale of grazing amounted in 1881—82 to Rs. 158, under the proposed settlement it will probably be more, but it is unsatisfactory to attempt any estimate on this point. The realizations under the old system were remarkably low.

26. The local cess of 1 anna brought in, in 1881—82, Rs. 3,518; under the proposed settlement it will be Rs. 4,084 on the Government lands and Rs. 224 on the minor inam lands in all Rs. 4,308.

27. The irrigation cess merged in the survey assessment to be annually credited to the Irrigation Fund will be about Rs. 2,000.

28. Putting aside the 1 anna local cess and grazing, there is an immediate gain to Government of Rs. 12,756 which will be reduced by Rs. 2,000 merged irrigation cess, as explained in the preceding para, and will be further liable to a charge of nearly Rs. 4,000 for pay of Patels and Shanbhogs, leaving a clear gain to Government of a little over Rs. 6,000.

29. Had the above increase been the result of any thing but the most reasonable rates, I should have been inclined to forego it, but, as it is, there can be no possible object in fixing the lump assessment at a lower figure. It is not easy to predict what will take place at the time of settlement as regards relinquishing and taking up of lands; there will be some loss no doubt from the former cause, but, on the other hand, there is no doubt that the current year exhibits, all over the Province, as indicated by the spread of cultivation, a more complete recovery from the effects of the famine than has yet been witnessed, and I have every hope that the realizable revenue at the close of the settlement will compare very favorably with my estimate.

I have, indeed, in the above calculation, not taken into account at all the deduction of 2,000 rupees which has to be made from the increase under the wet revenue on account of the irrigation cess fund and which leaves only 4,000 rupees as the net contribution of the wet towards the general increase, the same from the dry being 6,000. In the existing collections the dry revenue is less than the wet revenue by about 4,000 rupees and the same difference is kept up in the proposed figures. In my opinion the increase in the wet and dry revenues does not proceed pari passu. In other words the dry revenue is raised at a higher ratio than the wet, and my suggestion for your consideration is whether a portion of the increase may not be given up to reduce the maximum dry rates. I cannot of course say by how much this may be reduced, but, having regard to the extremely exposed and the poor condition of the soil in a great portion of this taluk, the dry rates do, in my opinion, admit of a slight decrease. This suggestion receives very great support from the fact that for wet lands under tanks the Government has sanctioned a measure of relief in the way of giving half remissions for the numbers lying fallow while the dry assessment cannot be subjected to any such elastic treatment during the currency of the settlement. The Hoblis of Madapur and Nidavani and parts of Kasaba Hobli suffered much during the famine and had very bad seasons in the year 1880—81 also. I may also point out that the lowest survey average of 8 annas 1 pie for the single village of Maigondanahalli is only less by 9 pice than the present average for the whole of the Nidavani Hobli, and by 7 pice than that for Madapur Hobli, both of which include nearly all the poor villages.

6. The enclosures of the letter under reply are herewith returned.

Proceedings of the Dewan to His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore, (Revenue),—dated 6th March 1884.

No. 6535-45—117, DATED 6TH MARCH 1884.

ORDER THEREON.—The Survey Superintendent's proposals, as set forth in the papers read above, having already received the sanction of Government, the papers read above are recorded.

R. VIJAYINDRA RAO,
Secretary.

To—The Superintendent, Revenue Survey.
The Deputy Commissioner, Mysore District.
Other Deputy Commissioners of Districts.
Sub Division Officers.
The Secretary, Public Works Department.

Proceedings of the Dewan to His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore, (Revenue),—dated 6th March 1884.

From the Superintendent, Mysore Revenue Survey, To the Secretary to the Dewan of Mysore, No. 644, dated Bangalore, 11th January 1884.

I have the honor to submit the marginally noted correspondence and papers on the proposed revision of the assessment of the Heggaddevankote Taluk of the Mysore District.

1. Survey Superintendent's Report No. 623 of the 28th December 1883, with appendices, &c, sketch map, &c
2. Mysore District Deputy Commissioner's No. A. of the 31st December 1883.

2. The Deputy Commissioner in his letter No. A of the 31st ultimo, with which the correspondence closes, gives his unqualified concurrence in the proposed rates. In para 2 of his letter the Deputy Commissioner sums up the result of my proposals as giving an immediate increase of Government revenue, deducting the cost of paying village servants and contribution to the District Fund, of Rs. 5,541. The actual addition to the Government demand, including the above two items, is Rs. 9,423 representing an increase of something over 20 per cent which will, I trust, be considered sufficient to add to the existing lump assessment of a taluk like Heggaddevankote which, although undoubtedly fertile and possessing a certain climate, has the draw-backs of being unhealthy and, in some parts at any rate, difficult of access. To its healthiness chiefly must be ascribed the undeveloped condition of this naturally fine taluk. The remedy to some extent is to be found in the adoption of rates which while not quixotically low or sacrificing revenue shall prove attractive.

3. The attainment of the above apparently conflicting desiderata is not inconsistent with the increase of the assessment involved in my proposals, for we shall sweep away all the high and prohibitive rates and raise only where the old assessment has been nothing or next to nothing and where no real hardship could possibly be entailed by raising it to the moderate standard now proposed. In illustration of this point and as promised at para 10 of my report, I give below the results of enquiries which I have had instituted to test the fictitious character of certain enormously high dry rates said to exist by the Revenue authorities in the village of Sargur, No. 36 of group I in the classvar statement.

4. The Amildar states that no explanation of the origin of the above extraordinary rates is forthcoming. That they really do exist seems certain as regards old Nos, 13 and 95, which are of less extent by survey. In the remaining numbers the area has been greatly understated, but making every allowance for this the rates are still very high. There is nothing extraordinary about the land and it is difficult to understand how such rates could have been paid, the only way to account for it being to suppose that as the cultivators held other very lightly assessed lands they did not mind retaining these small and highly assessed bits of land. This supposition is borne out by the fact that the effect of the settlement is to increase the assessment of this village, which is almost entirely dry crop, from Rs. 401 to Rs. 445. The case of Sargur is an extreme one, but the same state of things is to be found in a less degree throughout the taluk.

5. I have only to solicit sanction to the proposed settlement as soon as possible to enable me to commence giving out the rates about the 1st of March next.

Proceedings of the Dewan to His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore, (Revenue),—dated 6th March 1884.

From the Superintendent, Mysore Revenue Survey, To the Secretary to the Dewan of Mysore, No. 623, dated 28th December 1883.

I have the honor to submit the following proposals for the revision of the assessment of the Heggaddevankote Taluk of the Mysore District.

2. I attach a report descriptive of the taluk, by Mr. Butcher, Assistant Settlement Officer, who carried out the classification.

3. The following is a statement of the maganis or ancient sub-divisions with the number of Government villages, alienated villages, kavals and State forests in each. The present report deals especially with the Government villages :—

No.	Name of Magani.	No of Government villages.	No. of Inam villages.	No. of Forests.	No. of Kavals	Total.	Remarks.
1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8
1	Heggaddevankote	56	1	2	7	66
2	Sargur	44	4	...	...	48
3	Nemanhalli	44	4	1	1	50
4	Antarsante	48	2	2	1	53
5	Jinhalli	54	2	...	3	59
	Total.....	246	13	5	12	276

4. The taluk under report, although situated at no great distance from Mysore and at the same time accessible by good made roads is, nevertheless, owing to the broken character of the country and consequent internal difficulty of communication, one which has had its naturally great resources developed to a comparatively small extent. Climate and soils are both very favorable and it is no doubt to this cause that are due the evident signs, of late years, of a tendency to immigration and pioneering indicated by an increasing population. All the conditions necessary to successful cultivation are present, but the jungle requires clearing and at certain times of the years and in certain localities there is much fever ; moreover, from its being a frontier taluk resting in one direction on a poorly populated and heavily wooded tract there has been a disinclination on the part of cultivators to settle down. These are however obstacles which, although very serious and deserving, for our present purpose, careful consideration, cannot fail to disappear before the attractions of a certain and unfailing rainfall and soil of a very high order which even under dry cultivation can yield two crops annually. Already villages have clustered on both sides of, and near, the Mysore-Cananore road south of the Kankankote State Forest which is about the wildest part of the taluk. There is jungle, more or less, all over the taluk, heavy in the west and becoming lighter and thinner on proceeding eastward, but I have no doubt that all the excellent cultivation that we now see must have been the result of clearing the jungle at some time or other. The villages struck me as substantial in character and the people as thriving and prosperous.

5. It will be seen, from Mr. Butcher's report, that the dry crops are of considerable variety and some of a superior kind, although a good deal more could in his opinion be done towards increasing both the variety and quality. The better soils produce two crops annually. Rice lands are of less importance, growing no sugar-cane ; while, in the case of the channel irrigated lands, the cultivation is too far from the only villages in which the ryots can live without danger of fever. Garden is the least important of all and decidedly inferior, the extent too as will be seen further on quite insignificant. Mr. Butcher's paras 13, 14 and 15 on the above points will repay perusal.

6. All the maganis, excepting Nemanhalli, have markets at which however but little business is done.

7. Roads are described in detail at para 19 of Mr. Butcher's report. As will be seen from the map almost all the villages under report are within fair distance of some made road or other. Here again the exception is in the Nemanhalli Magani and part of Sargur where some of the villages have no road near them. The value of roads in a country like that under report is happily illustrated by the growing importance of the Antarsante Magani and by the formation of villages near Kakankote to which I have already alluded. The wants of the Nemanhalli and Sargur villages in this respect are well worth the attention of Government.

8. The following statistics collected during classification afford a good idea of the internal resources, of the taluk under report :—

No. of villages.	Houses.	Population.	Square miles.	Cattle.	Ploughs.	Carts.	Markets.	Remarks.
246	8,255	39,331	585	59,910	7,322	583	6

There is a population to the square mile for the whole area of 67, for the culturable area of 314 and for the occupied area of 354. These are not very high figures. The very important point of increase of population alluded to by Mr. Butcher at para 5 can be better decided by the figures of the census of 1876 and 1881 than by the classification figures which do not include inam villages or moving population. That there has been an increase is evident and the fact is one of no small importance and significance. Another hopeful sign is the number of carts which, although not intrinsically large, is comparatively so, if we bear in mind that from a revenue point of view Heggaddevankote is a very small taluk.

9. It is of importance to show next the manner in which the taluk has been divided up by survey :—

Description.	Government.		Inam.		Total Government and Inam.		Grand Total.
	Cultivated area.	Waste area.	Cultivated area.	Waste area.	Cultivated area.	Waste area.
1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8

Rice	3,382	302	41	...	3,423	302	3,725
Garden	294	7	20	...	314	7	321
Total...	68,557	9,323	2,533	...	71,090	9,323	80,413
Unculturable area including roads, village sites		...	...	...	...	...	178,771
Area of whole Inam villages		...	...	...	...	...	19,316
Area of Forests ...		...	...	...	...	...	83,254
Area of Kavals ...		...	...	...	...	...	12,228
Area of Judibelhalli village ...		...	...	...	...	...	478
Grand Total arable and unarable, for the taluk, i. e. 585 square miles					...	...	374,460

The proportion of arable waste to occupied land is, as might be expected, small, while the area of the unculturable land not really unculturable but necessarily so recorded being yet covered with jungle, is very large, even if we leave out forests and kavals which respectively cover 83,254 and 12,228 acres.

10. The past revenue management of this taluk requires a few remarks. The old rates according to Mr. Butcher and also the Deputy Commissioner in his letter No. 1102, dated 18th October 1883 attached, ranged for dry lands from Rs. 1—2—4 to Rs. 223 per khandi. The last mentioned rate represents about 18 Rs. per acre and is positively stated to be in force in Sargur and another village. Before these papers are finally laid before Government I shall be in a position to give some information regarding the fictitious character or otherwise of the extraordinary rate. For wet lands the rates were from Rs 2—14—7 to Rs. 8—11—8 and for garden from Rs. 5—9—8 to Rs. 10—10—7 per acre. These rates are purely nominal and present rather a ludicrous contrast to the average rates struck by Mr. Butcher at para 17, the result of an immense number of tests, also to the average rates actually paid hitherto, calculated by applyn g the actual survey area to the old collections, which I may state here come to Rs. 0—8—2, Rs. 2—10—10 and Rs. 2—0—3 for dry, wet and garden respectively. Taking the old accounts as the basis of calculation, the following is a comparison between the old recorded area and that now ascertained by actual measurement :—

Proceedings of the Dewan to His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore, (Revenue),—dated 6th March 1884.

Description.	Acres. By old Accounts.	Acres. By Survey.
Dry	40,614	64,881
Wet	2,390	3,382
Garden	89	294
Total.....	43,093	68,557

The occupied area has been most seriously understated in the old accounts as was of course to be expected, but it serves to show still further the fictitious character of the old rates. I do not think I need go further into this matter. I have never yet in any taluk in the Province found the old rates, as stated to exist, have much connection with the actual assessment, excepting occasionally in the case of channel irrigated lands where the old measurement was more strict. Before leaving this subject I must note that in the case of a small group of villages near the Kakankote Forest, to which I have already alluded, it has been the custom to measure up each year the land required for cultivation and to charge it with a rate of Rs. 5—13—2 per khandi; in short there was no fixed cultivation and no annual taking up and relinquishing of land in the usual way as in other villages. These villages appear in the old accounts as one, but have been measured separately by survey and appear in the classvar statement appended as Nos. 196 to 204 inclusive. Judging from experience I should say the cultivators would welcome the new survey tenure. These villages are shown in the classvar statement as having their assessment increased from Rs. 123 to Rs. 474, but this increase is not really what it appears, the explanation being that all the land found cleared, and consequently arable, has been entered as occupied. In 1868-69 the collections were as high as Rs. 529. The lands now being broken up into convenient sized numbers, the ryots can take up and relinquish land year by year according to their requirements.

11. The following statement shows the revenue actually realized on the occupied lands for the last 25 years. To save space I have shown, side by side with the collections, the prices current during the same years of ragi and rice, the staple crops in dry and wet land:—

Year.	Old Bijavari into Khandis.	Total Demand Rupees.	Remissions. Permanent Remissions.	Remissions. Remissions on account of poverty, &c.	Total Collections.	Seers per Rupee. Ragi.	Seers per Rupee. Rice.

Proceedings of the Dewan to His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore, (Revenue),—dated 6th March 1884.

12. The most noticeable point in the above is the steadiness of the realizations under conditions which, elsewhere throughout the greater part of the Province, led to heavy relinquishments of land. The last 6 years show a revenue in advance of any revenue realized before that period. Since 1867—68, a time when revenue was very high everywhere, there was a slight falling off, up till 1877—78; but the famine appears to have influenced the revenue rather favorably than otherwise, thus clearly indicating a certain and unfailing rain-fall. There were remissions in 1876—77 but not for failure of crops and there does not appear to have been at any time any difficulty in collecting the revenue. The above facts coupled with the obviously low rates shown at para 8 as having hitherto been paid and the very extensive suppression of the true area under occupancy in the old accounts, leaves no doubt in my mind that the lump sum representing the Government demand has not borne at all heavily on the taluk. On the other hand, the unfavorable side of the question, comprised in the unhealthy character of the country, the heavy expense of clearing for future cultivation and the somewhat outlying position of this frontier taluk, must not be lost sight of.

13. The Deputy Commissioner in his letter No. 1102 of the 15th October last, which is attached, does not consider that very much grouping of villages for the purpose of assessment is required and would form but two groups based almost entirely upon considerations of facility of communication. While not losing sight of this important point I would go a little further than the Deputy Commissioner and form 3 groups, the first 2 groups very much on the lines stretched out by the Deputy Commissioner and the 3rd group to meet the circumstances of extreme western and south-western villages where there is much jungle, a scant population and other concomitant draw backs. I propose to group as follows, with the maximum rates shown :—

Group.	No. of Villages.	Maximum Rates.				Remarks.
		Dry Crop.	Ordinary Rice.	Channel Rice.	Garden.
I	57	1 6 0	6 0 0	8 0 0	10 0 0	Villages in the more open country to the east and villages on and near high roads.
II	106	1 4 0	5 0 0	...	...	The bulk of the taluk.
III	83	1 0 0	4 0 0	...	...	Villages to the west and south-west and distant from roads.

There is but little channel rice in group III, and I have not considered it necessary to adopt more than one rate for this description of cultivation, nor yet for garden.

14. The adoption of the above rates give the following results on the occupied area :—

Group.	No. of Villages.	Dry Crop.			Rice.			Garden.			Total.
		Acres.	Assessment.	Average Rate.	Acres.	Assessment.	Average Rate.	Acres.	Assessment.	Average Rate.	Acres.	Assessment.	Average Rate.

The inferior character of the gardens becomes apparent from the above rates, the truth being that but little superior produce is raised and the means of irrigation are poor in the extreme.

Proceedings of the Dewan to His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore, (Revenue),—dated 6th March 1884.

18. The grazing, as a source of a revenue, has been insignificant only Rs. 215 having been realized in 1882—83. Under the new settlement the amount is not likely to be very much more as Government will I presume be unwilling to curtail the existing privileges of the people as regards grazing and will approve of ample land being set aside free for the village cattle as has hitherto been always done in jungle taluks. Where there is land over and above the requirements of the villagers steps will be taken towards setting it aside for annual sale of the grazing.

19. The one anna local cess brought in, in 1882—83, Rs. 3,045. Under the proposed settlement the amount will be Rs. 3,297 on the occupied lands, and Rs. 103 on the minor inam lands, in all Rs. 3,400.

20. I will now contrast the estimated results of the proposed settlement with the collections of 1882—83, excluding grazing in both instances.

Land revenue of 1882—83	..	..	43,325
One anna local cess ..	..	..	3,045
			46,370
Survey assessment on occupied lands	.	..	52,748
One anna local cess ..	..	..	3,400
			56,148

21. Excluding all calculation of separately levied cesses there is an immediate increase of Rs. 9,423. From this if we deduct Rs. 3,200 required to place the pay of village officers on a proper footing, and Rs. 682 to be credited annually to the irrigation fund, there is a clear gain of Rs. 5,541.

22. The above increase of Rs. 5,541 may appear to be less than Government is entitled to, considering the advantages of soil and climate; but the taluk from a revenue point of view is but a small one and every encouragement should I think be held out to intending cultivators. The arable assessed waste, it will be observed, is of very small extent bearing survey assessment of only Rs. 5,663. The run, however, if any, will not be on the area now assessed but upon the area at present necessarily, entered as unassessed waste out of which survey fields will hereafter have to be marked off suitable to the requirements of intending cultivators. I am in hopes that some of the assessed waste will also be taken up. There is no doubt that the proposed rates are exceedingly moderate, but still I am not inclined to propose higher rates for this taluk which has, rightly or wrongly, got a bad reputation as being very unhealthy. It is a strange fact that whilst the measurement was in progress the measurers enjoyed better health than any of the measurers employed elsewhere in the same year, whilst in the case of the classing establishment last year the men, although employed at the same time of the year as the measurers, suffered most severely from fever and required Mr. Butcher's utmost exertions to keep them from losing all heart in the work. The fact is the climate is treacherous and any year fever may appear almost in empidemic form.

23. I feel convinced that at the close of the settlement the assessment of the occupied lands will be quite as high as my estimate, for I anticipate very few resignations. There may be some applications for fresh land, but this is not a point upon which it is satisfactory to hazard any estimate. I cannot help however feeling some confidence in an improved revenue from this taluk before long. Had the extension of future cultivation been limited by the comparatively small area of arable assessed waste available for cultivation, I should have felt inclined to adopt higher rates than I have done; but I have already explained that there is plenty of land fit for cultivation not yet measured up into small numbers.

23. The usual classvar statement is appended. The other appendices are (1) The Deputy Commissioner's letter on points connected with the settlement, (2) Mr. Butcher's report on the Taluk, (3) a sketch map and (4) a list of inam villages showing nature of survey applied to each.

24. Two villages, Kelupura and Amakhalli, have been transferred to the Gundlupet and Nanjangud Taluks respectively. I propose to introduce the settlement into the above two villages also, but I have not allowed them to appear in the totals of the Heggaddevankote Taluk. Information regarding these two villages is furnished in the accompanying separate classvar statement.

25. I have the honor to request that sanction to proceed with giving out the rates may be given as early as practicable as I am anxious to commence the settlement by 1st March at latest.

Proceedings of the Dewan to His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore, (Revenue),—dated 6th March 1884.

From the Deputy Commissioner, Mysore District, To the Superintendent, Mysore Revenue Survey, Camp No. A, dated 31st December 1883.

I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter No. 624, dated 28th instant, on the revision of the assessment in the Heggaddevankote Taluk with its *accompaniments, and beg to state that I have carefully read the report and am of opinion that the dry, wet, and garden rates proposed for the 3 groups, formed by you for the purpose of assessment, appear very fair and reasonable, and will doubtless tend to encourage the ryots to extend cultivation by bringing fresh lands under plough.

*Herewith returned.

The settlement gives to Government a net annual increase of Rs. 5,541 over the present land revenue after deducting the charges on account of the permanent remuneration of the village officials, as well as the Irrigation Fund. This I consider is a fair amount which can be expected from a jungly and unhealthy taluk like Heggaddevankote having in view the object of attracting cultivators to come and settle and take up lands there; low rates alone will attract cultivating classes to the taluk in spite of the climate which it is hoped will improve as the jungle is cleared.

With reference to para 7 of your letter, I beg to state that in consultation with the Executive Engineer efforts will be made to open out the country for traffic in the Hoblis of Nemanahalli and Sargur as also in Jinhalli in the best way possible.

From the Deputy Commissioner, Mysore District, To the Superintendent, Mysore Revenue Survey, No. 1102, dated 18th October 1883.

With reference to your letters Nos. 332 and 333, dated 6th August 1883, calling for certain information regarding the existing assessment on lands in the marginally noted 4 taluks, I have the honor to inform you that as 2 of the 4 taluks named in the margin, viz. Channaraypatna and Attikuppa, belong to the French Rocks Sub-Division, the officer in charge thereof has been requested to furnish you with the necessary information in regard to those taluks.

1. Channarayapatna.
2. Attikuppa.
3. Hunsur.
4. Heggaddevankote.

2. As for the remaining 2 taluks in my charge, I beg to say that in Hunsur the dry rates now existing vary from 2 pies to Rs. 5—13—2 per kudu which is equal to about Rs. 8 per acre, while the wet rates are from 1 anna and 1 pie to Rs. 1—2—7 per wet kudu of 500 yards or about Rs. 11 per acre. These rates, though not seriously complained of by the ryots, having been in the habit of paying them from the time of their forefathers, I consider very high and pressing. I need hardly say that the present assessment does not appear to have been properly distributed.

3. As regards the Heggaddevankote Taluk, the original detailed report of the Amildar No. 354 with enclosure is herewith forwarded, from which it will be seen that, in respect of dry lands, there are at present 418 different rates of assessment, the maximum and minimum rates being Rs. 1—2—4 and Rs. 223—7—4 per dry khandi respectively. These rates are excessively high, and I do not consider that any dry land has been assessed by the Survey Department more than 2 Rs. per acre in the utmost.

4. The rates of assessment upon wet lands irrigated by tanks and river-fed channels vary from Rs. 5—13—1 to Rs. 11—10—2 per khandi, while those on lands cultivated wet through aid of the rain water are from Rs. 1—14—2 to Rs. 5—13—2 per khandi. Of course these rates will be necessarily altered in the present settlement.

5. With regard to the grouping of villages, I do not consider that much requires to be done in this direction. The fairs are but few and not of any importance; so, except the villages along the main road, say within 5 miles of it, I cannot recommend others as deriving any special advantage.

6. The irrigation cess, I beg to say, may very conveniently be merged in the assessment at the rate of 1 anna per rupee of assessment instead of, as at present, 8 annas per khandi of land.

Report on the taluk of Heggaddevankote by E. H. Butcher, Assistant Settlement Officer, Mysore Revenue Survey.

This Taluk of the Mysore District is situated in the extreme south-west corner of the Province being about 40 miles from the city of Mysore and is in many respects an interesting taluk.

2. Boundaries.—It has for its boundaries the Hunsur Taluk to the north, the Gundlupet Taluk and Malabar on the south, on the east the Nanjangud and Mysore Taluks and on the west the, State forests of Coorg and Malabar.

3. Physical Characteristics.—The taluk may be said to be a combination of the semi-malnad and the plain country. The 3 maganis to the south and west, viz., Nemanhalli, Sargur and Antarsante may be called semi-malnad, there being a great deal of jungle which becomes forest as it approaches the western boundary. The country generally speaking is of an undulating character, there being no hills.

4. Extent and Area.—The taluk is pretty regular in shape except the northern portion of the Jinhalli sammat which projects into the Mysore Taluk. Its average length from north to south is about 30 miles with a breadth of 25 miles having a total area of 399,640 acres or 624 square miles. Of this large area 105,254 acres are included in the 5 State forests, 12 Amrut Mahal kavals about 3,229 acres. The culturable area both cultivated and waste consists of 87,129 acres of khushki, 4,335 acres of tari with only 530 acres of bagayet for the whole taluk. The remaining 199,162 acres represents the area under jungle roads and kharab generally.

5. Population.—The census taken in 1876 gave the population as roughly 50,000, that taken in 1881 gives 64,039 souls, showing a large increase. This may have been the result of immigration owing to the famine in other parts of the Province, this taluk not having been affected by it to any appreciable extent. Taking the latter figure as correct will give an average of 102 souls to the square mile. This is however not evenly distributed, the Kasaba and Sargur Hoblis being more thickly populated than the remaining 3 maganis.

6. Sub-divisions.—The taluk is sub-divided into sammats as under :—

Sammats.	Government Villages.	Inam.	Kavals.	Forest.	Total.
Heggaddevankote	56	1	7	2	66
Sargur	46	4	0	0	50
Nemanhalli	44	4	1	1	50
Antarsante	48	2	1	2	53
Jinhalli	55	2	3	0	60
Total.....	249	13	12	5	279

7. River and Drainage.—The Kabani river receives the drainage of the taluk. This river takes its rise in the Malabar jungles flowing through the centre of the taluk from west to east having numerous small tributaries or "Hebhallas" as they are called locally, running into it at various points of its course. There is also a smaller river the Nugu or "Bhrugu Nadi" which taking its rise in the Malabar jungles at the extreme south of the taluk flows in a northerly direction through the Nemanhalli Magani and falls into the Kabani near Kasaba Jinhalli.

8. Irrigation.—The principal system of irrigation is from an anicut thrown across the Lakshmantirtha river in the adjoining Taluk of Hunsur from which the Hanagod nullah or channel is taken. This channel after running some 12 miles is again bunded from which 2 channels are taken, the one called the Hanumantapur nullah runs 22 miles into the Heggaddevankote Taluk flowing into the Muskeri tank which brings it into connection with a chain of 5 tanks watering the lands below them, and ending in the Belganhalli tank. The other channel known as the Uttur nullah takes a course to the south-east and ends in the large tank of Karagala. These combined channels water an area of about 1,760 acres, of which only 29 acres are garden. The other irrigation work is from an anicut built about 20 years ago across the Nugu river which is only a small stream. From this a channel is taken along the right bank watering a narrow strip of land in 5 villages about 289 acres being thus irrigated.

9. Tanks.—The Karagala tank is the only large one in the taluk ; in fact tanks are not numerous, the two maganis of Nemanhalli and Sargur being almost destitute of them.

10. Wells.—Pakka wells are very rarely met with, the wells in the gardens being generally holes in which the supply of water is very limited. There seems to be no desire on the part of the ryots to dig well or to place either kapiles or yatas on the banks of their rivers (the Nugu is especially suitable for this) in order to raise crops of rice or garden produce.

11. Soils.—The soils of the taluk generally are good ; sandy and gravelly soils are met with, but a large proportion of the land having at one time been covered with jungle is composed of red and dark brown soil which is very productive.

Proceedings of the Dewan to His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore, (Revenue),—dated 6th March 1884.

12. Rain-fall.—The following table of the rain-fall as gauged at the Taluk Cutcherry is furnished meby the Amildar:—

Year.	I. C.	Year.	I. C.
1870—71	17·50	1877—78	23·90
1871—72	11·82	1878—79	16·30
1872—73	12·96	1879—80	17·14
1873—74	14·23	1880—81	21·0
1874—75	13·53	1881—82	15·0
1875—76	19·56	1882—83	29·83
1876—77	11·52

The above gives an average of only 17 inches per annum during the past 13 years. These figures however I cannot accept as an accurate return. From the general appearance of the country and the crops grown without artificial irrigation I am of opinion that about 40 inches average per annum would be nearer the mark. There cannot be the slightest doubt that the taluk is most favorably situated as regards climate and rain-fall, the rain being light in character but long continued and especially favorable to the growth of dry crops.

13. Crops.—It is customary to raise two dry crops in the year except where the soil is poor. At the commencement of the early showers in April gid ragi is very generally sown often interspersed with rows of either tadagani, yellu, castor-oil, cotton or chillies. These crops are generally followed by either of the following :—

Hurali, togari, avare, kadle, haralu, hesaru, uddu, coriander, or tobacco ; the latter takes from 3 to 4 months to come to maturity and might be cultivated to a much greater extent than it is. the soil in many places being most suitable.

14. Wet Crops.—The only crop taken in tari land is rice, no sugar-cane being grown in the taluk anywhere. Only one crop is taken, the water supply being only sufficient for one. The wet lands under the channels have proved so unhealthy that the ryots cannot live in their vicinity, numerous sites of deserted villages being found in this tract. These wet lands therefore lie under the disadvantage of being at a distance from manure depôts and are not cultivated as carefully as they would be under ordinary circumstances. The ryots are also unable to watch their crops at night and therefore suffer from the depredations of pig and other wild animals which are numerous in parts. Doddabile bhatta is the variety of rice generally grown.

15. Gardens.—There is a singular absence of garden cultivation in the taluk. With the exception of 3 or 4 villages, gardens of areca, cocoanuts, &c., are rarely met with and there only in small patches. Small gardens of betel creepers are met with occasionally for the supply of local wants. With a very small expenditure the water of the Nugu River could be utilized by means of "Kapiles" or "Yatas" for irrigating gardens planted along its banks, the bank being very low, soil suitable and water always available.

16. Rates of Assessment.—The nominal rates for tari under tanks range from Rs. 2—14—7 to Rs. 8—11—8. Where rice is entirely dependent on rain-fall from Rs. 1—14—2 to Rs. 5—13—2 per acre. For gardens from Rs. 5—9—8 to Rs. 10—10—7 per acre. Khushki from Rs. 1—2—4 up to Rs. 223 per khandi.

17. The following table gives the average rates ,now being paid fin the different maganis of the taluk :—

Magani.	Rate per acre. Khushki.	Tari.	Bagayet.
	Rs. A. P.	Rs. A. P.	Rs. A. P.
Nemmahalli	0 8 8	5 0 7	...
Sargur	0 9 5	...	...
Heggaddevankote	0 8 10	4 2 1	3 0 0
Jinhalli	0 10 4	4 1 4	2 0 0
Antarsante	0 8 4	1 5 1	(Chiefly bengar).

These figures are based on the survey area of several hundreds of fields tested, with the assessment now being paid for the same. According to taluk accounts the area of the lands under the channels is 1,258 acres now assessed at Rs. 6,951; this would give an average of Rs. 5—8—4 per acre. The area of these channel lands however by our survey is 2,022 acres, which on the above assessment gives an average of only about Rs. 3—7—0 actually being now paid for these lands.

18. Sub-letting.—It would appear that $\frac{2}{3}$rds of the pattedars cultivate their own lands, the remaining $\frac{1}{3}$rd sub-letting their lands. These are generally given out on wara, each taking half the produce, the pattedar paying the kandayam. In cases where the land is let on "Guttige" a fixed quantity of grain is agreed on, the rate for khushki varying from 50 to 100 seers per vakla of 3,200 square yards.

19. Roads.—A reference to the map will show that the greater portion of the taluk is within easy reach of a road. A road from Mysore to Manantoddy and Tellicherry passes through the centre of the taluk benefitting the Jinhalli and Antarsante Maganis from east to west. Another road at right angles to this, to Hunsur and Nanjangud, passes through the Heggaddevankote and Sargur Maganis. The southern portion of this however is only a fair weather road not being in good repair. There are also 2 rivers to cross, on one of which only there is a basket boat. To the south of the Kabani river there is a large block of villages in the Sargur and Nemanhalli Maganis which have no road near them, there being a great deal of jungle with numerous deserted villages. Here the ryots have to carry their produce on bullocks and on men's heads.

20. Markets.—Markets are held at the undermentioned towns on the days specified :—

Sunday	.. ..	Nissan.
Monday	.. ..	Karagala.
Tuesday	.. ..	Heggaddevankote.
Wednesday	.. ..	Malalu.
Thursday	.. ..	Mallur.
Friday	.. ..	Kasaba Sargur.

21. Exports and Imports.—The chief exports are the following :—

Ragi, yellu, avare, hurali and tamarind, which go to Manantoddy.

The chief articles imported are cotton cloths, cumblies, chillies, salt, wheat and jaggory, cocoanuts and areca.

22. Cattle and Grazing lands.—The cattle in the taluk though not of a superior breed are very suitable for agricultural purposes and are bought up by the ryots of neighbouring taluks. In the south of the taluk especially one is struck by the large herds of cattle that are owned by villages of a few houses only. A great portion of their wealth consists in these herds. The grazing in the taluk is very superior, which fact is recognized by the Amrut Mahal Department. They hold 12 kavals in this taluk in all of which the grazing is good.

23. Carts, &c.—There are in the taluk—

531 Bandis,
7,630 Ploughs,
21 Looms for cumblies,
153 Looms for coarse cloth,
There are no manufactures.

24. The condition of the ryots everywhere is most favorable. The climate is unhealthy for 2 or 3 months in the year, but they have a fertile soil and a well distributed rain-fall, but do not make the most of the advantages which they possess by gaining the superior kinds of dry crop such as tobacco and by extending garden cultivation.

Proceedings of the Dewan to His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore, (Revenue),—dated 6th March 1884.

No. 6557-67—119, DATED 6TH MARCH 1884.

ORDER THEREON.—The above papers contain the proposals of the Survey Superintendent for the revision of the existing assessment of the Heggaddevankote Taluk in the Mysore District. The taluk, which is a semi-malnad with heavy forest covered tracts in the west and south, and plain country in the east, has been, for the purpose of the settlement, divided into three groups: the first and second containing the villages commanded by the high roads running through the taluk, and the 3rd group comprising those situated in the extreme west and south-west, which, in consequence of their situation in the midst of thick forests, and their great distance from roads, are comparatively at a great disadvantage.

2. The maximum rates proposed for these groups under dry and ordinary rice are as follows :—

Dry	and	Wet.
Rs. A. P.		Rs. A. P.
1—6—0		6—0—0
1—4—0		5—0—0
1—0—0		4—0—0

3. For lands irrigated by channels and gardens, one uniform maximum rate of 8 Rs. and Rs. 10—11—0 per acre respectively is proposed. The assessment proposed gives the following average rates per acre :—

	1st Group.	2nd Group.	3rd Group.
Dry	0 10 11	0 10 7	0 7 10
Rice, ordinary	2 9 10	1 14 10	1 7 10
Rice, under channels	4 7 7	4 2 4	4 8 5
Garden	3 0 10	2 6 11	3 1 3

4. These average rates in themselves are very moderate. The proposed settlement, as compared with the collections of 1882—83, is expected to give the Government an increase of Rs. 5,541, after making the allotments necessary for the payment of village officers and for expenditure under irrigation fund. The settlement is an extremely favorable one for the ryot, who, in the Heggaddevankote Taluk, has advantages which are seldom found united together: the soil is good, the rain-fall always certain and adequate, extensive pastures, several markets and two excellent roads running through the whole taluk at right angles to each other. Its advantages appeared most prominently during the famine years, when it enjoyed a good crop and experienced none of the sufferings of the neighbouring taluks. The increase in the revenue as per proposed settlement is not due to enhancement of existing rates. The exceedingly low estimate of area under cultivation in the existing accounts has been rectified by the present survey, and the recorded area has risen from 43,093 acres to 68,557 acres, and the increase of assessment on the occupied area is due to this cause.

5. The Superintendent is requested to carryout the settlement with the usual guarantee for 30 years.

Proceedings of the Dewan to His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore, (General),—dated 24th March 1884.

READ—

Letter No. 1652—94, dated 22nd November 1883, from the Acting Chief Judge in Mysore.

No. 6415-24—114, DATED BANGALORE, 24TH MARCH 1884.

ORDER THEREON.—With the letter read above, two statements are received from the Chief Judge, showing respectively the judicial officials who should be retired on pension, and the thrown-out officials of the abolished courts who should be retained as supernumeraries on half pay till such time as they are re-employed.

2. The first name in the pension list is Nanjappa, Head Munshi of the late Closepet Munsiff's Court: he is more than 50 years' old and has a service of over 27 years. The Chief Judge recommends that his pension may be calculated on the average of his last five years' pay, to which he is not entitled as his service is not continuous superior service. The Dewan regrets that he is unable to make an exception to the standing rule, in the case of this man, as it would form an inconvenient precedent and give rise to many similar applications. No special grounds moreover have been urged in the case of Nanjappa, who must therefore retire on such pension as he is under the rules entitled to. The case of Subbaiya, the second man in the pension list, must be similarly disposed of. He is 52 years' old and has over 20 years' service which means that he was employed only in his 32nd year. He too must retire. The Government have no objection to the retention of Naranappa, Head Munshi, Kolar Munsiff's Court, the third on the list, if the Chief Judge can, with reference to his letter No. 2421—121, dated 8th March 1883, find an appointment for him: otherwise he must be called upon to retire on the pension to which he is entitled.

3. Hanumanta Rao, the next man, has been re-employed: it may however be observed that his re-employment was not suggested by the Dewan: his letter No. 1567—28 of 22nd June 1883 merely stated that "if the Chief Judge is able to provide for Hanumanta Rao, the Dewan has no objection". The letter was a reply to the Chief Judge's reference about the official.

4. Krishnappa's (5th) case has been disposed of in the Proceedings of this Office, dated 5th March 1883, No. 7326—86; likewise that of Venkatasubbaiya, Gumasta, Kolar Munsiff's Court, whose name does not however appear in the list: it is presumed that he has been retired.

5. Raghavendrappa (6th) is recommended in letter No. 69—7, dated 10th April 1883, for the indulgence of having his pension calculated on the average pay of the last five years' service. His case is not different from that of Nanjappa (No 1) and it is necessary to retire him on the pension to which he is entitled.

6. Nana Rao (7th) is put on the pension list with a remark of the District Judge that the official may be transferred to the Revenue Department. He may be included in the list of supernumeraries.

7. B. Kesavaiengar's (8th) case is clear. The Munsiff under whom he has been serving gives him a bad character. He will be retired.

8. Subbanna (9) will also retire on the pension to which he is entitled.

9. Ramachandra Naidu (10), Parameswaraiya (11), Gundu Rao (16), and Gundappa (17), having very small periods of service, have no claim for present consideration and they must be discharged on gratuities.

10. Rama Rao (12), Narasimhachar (13), Rama Rao (14), and Anantaramaiengar (15) may, in consideration of the good character earned by them, be allowed to remain in the service for the present. They may have to be retired on the abolition of the Mysore Sub-Judge's Court.

Proceedings of the Dewan to His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore, (General),—dated 24th March 1884.

11. The supernumerary list contains ten names of the Nundydroog Division and two of Nagar. Nana Rao (17) should be added to this list, as also Venkatachar, Head Munshi of the late Chitaldroog Sub-Judge's Court, referred to in the Chief Judge's letter No. 2120—112, dated 30th January 1884. Of these supernumeraries, Devarasaiya, the Sheristadar of the Shimoga late Sub-Judge's Court, and Gundappa have been provided for by the Chief Judge. All the 14 supernumeraries above referred to will draw half pay from the dates on which they were relieved of their respective work till re-employment or till 31st July 1884. They are attached for employment as follows:—

Name.	Last Appointment.	Last Pay.	By whom to be provided for.
1. Gangadhara Rao ...	Head Munshi, late Bangalore Sub-Court	40	By the District Judge of Bangalore and the Deputy Commissioner of Bangalore.

13. Devarasaiya ...	Sheristadar, late Shimoga Sub-Court.	50	Already provided for by the Chief Judge.
14. Gundappa ...	Nazir's Munshi, late Shimoga Sub-Court	20

The allowances to these supernumeraries will cease on 31st July 1884 within which time it is hoped that the officers to whom they are attached will be able to provide for them.

12. There remain the cases of the menial servants of the abolished courts. The Chief Judge will be requested to apportion them to the Districts and Sub-Divisions for employment in the Revenue, Judicial and Police Departments. They will however draw no part of their pay pending their re-entertainment. Such of them as may be willing to accept gratuity or pension as the case may be may be permitted to retire at once.

13. As regards Nanjappa (1), Subbaiya (2) and Raghavendrappa (6) whose retirement on the pension they are entitled to is sanctioned above, the Government will give every consideration to any recommendations for higher pensions which the Chief Judge may be able to make on special grounds, when sending up their pension applications.

Proceedings of the Dewan to His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore, (Revenue),—dated 16th April 1884.

READ—

Letter No. 826 of the 12th January 1883 from the Superintendent of Revenue Survey, submitting proposals for the revision of assessment in the villages comprised in the late Arkalgud Taluk.

Dewan's Proceedings No. (Camp) 5, dated 28th February 1883, sanctioning the introduction of the proposed settlement into such portions of the late Arkalgud Taluk as were transferred to the Holé Narsipur and Hassan Taluks, and stating that separate orders would be issued in regard to the settlement of the 78 Government villages transferred to the Yedatore Taluk, which contain lands irrigated by the cauvery Channels.

From the Superintendent, Mysore Revenue Survey and Assessment, To the Secretary to the Dewan of Mysore, No. 585, dated Bangalore, 29th November 1883.

In the Proceedings of the Dewan, upon the proposed settlement of the old Arkalgud Taluk, Order Camp No. 5 of the 28th February 1883 was passed to hold in abeyance the introduction of the settlement in 96 villages (78 Government, 16 Inam and 2 Kavals) which had been transferred to the Yedatore Taluk. A further Order Camp No. 8 of the 12th March 1883 was passed by the Dewan explaining that sanction had been withheld pending further orders. I have now the honor to report upon the 78 Government villages in question with a view to their being brought under settlement during the approaching field season.

2. I am aware that the postponement of the settlement was due to the necessity of fully discussing the suitability of the proposed rates for lands situated under river channels, as these were the first lands of the kind, of any appreciable extent, brought under survey operations. It is now however high time that the question should be discussed as our operations are in active progress in the channel country.

3. In my original report No. 826, paras 21 and 22, I explained that the classification had been carried out on the basis of one crop being taken annually under the channels, by aid of water made available up to early in January but not later. I proposed a method, should the sluices be kept open later, of taking an increased assessment, for increased supply of water, by making any ryot using the water during the hot months pay half again, or other fair proportion of, the ordinary assessment. To reduce the amount of annual inspection, and to shut the door against fraud, the ryot was to pay the enhanced rate, not on any fraction but upon the whole of his holding within one survey number. The then Deputy Commissioner Mr. Krishna Múrti concurred in the practicability of some such arrangement.

4. The alternative plan is to revise the classification on the basis of the supply of water from the channels as now to be made available throughout the year.

5. I will first show, by the figures extracted from the classwar statement which accompanied my original report, what the effect of the proposed settlement was upon the 78 Government villages under report, apart from any question of enhanced assessment on account of the sluices being kept open during the hot months.

Group.	Number of villages.	Collections under old system.	Government occupied.		Government waste.		Inam.		Total Government and Inam.
			Acres.	Assessment.	Acres.	Assessment.	Acres.	Assessment.	Acres.	Assessment.
1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10	11
I	44	25,147	15,230	31,127	2,252	2,260	2,592	3,500	20,074	36,887
II	34	14,345	13,904	16,672	1,570	1,136	1,161	1,258	16,635	19,066
2	78	39,492	29,134	47,799	3,822	3,396	3,753	4,758	36,709	55,953

There was thus, under my original proposals, an immediate gain to Government, exclusive of cesses, of Rs. 8,307, out of which however had to come the usual provision for pay of village officers and the contribution to the irrigation fund. These two items together would have come to about Rs. 4,000. There is no object in going into detail with reference to original proposals. What we now have to deal with are the irrigated lands under the channels, the area of which in the above 78 villages comes in round numbers to about 4,000 acres assessed under my original proposals at Rs. 20,882. The question is how much and under what system should this assessment of the channel lands be increased for water made available in the hot months? If the classification be revised on the basis of a perennial supply of water, I estimate roughly that there will be an addition to the assessment of Rs. 20,882 as originally estimated of nearly Rs. 4,000. If the arrangement of taking half again the ordinary assessment, when ryots use the water in the hot months, be given effect to, there will be a possible, but by no means probable, increase annually of over Rs. 10,000. I propose to discuss briefly the merits of the two alternative plans.

6. By revising the classification, an operation which, as I shall presently show, has been already carried out, the average rate per acre for channel rice land will be about Rs. 6—4—0 instead of about Rs. 5—4—0 as in my original proposals. This is not a rate which will be felt to be too heavy: indeed judging from my experience of the manner in which the rates on the channel lands in the old Narsipur Taluk, which were based on the full annual water supply, were received, I should say that the ryots would willingly pay such a rate. There is the great advantage, in fixing the rates once for all, of simplicity in the accounts and simplicity in the annual inspections: in short it saves every body trouble and there is a great deal to be said in favor of the plan which is in fact one of the main features of our system of assessment, and had it not been for the very exceptional circumstances of the tract under report, it would never have occurred to me to propose any other arrangement.

7. In the case of the channel lands under the Hemavati in the old Narsipur Taluk, to which I have just alluded, sugar-cane cultivation and the use of water in the hot months for other crops, were established facts, and the classification was both easy and satisfactory, the rates giving a large gain to Government and being at the same time well received by the people. But in the Arkalgud Taluk, under the channels from the Cauvery, sugar-cane has never been grown, nor have the people any experience of the use of water late in the year, that being an experience yet to come, consequently it was a difficult and at first sight unsatisfactory operation dealing with such a problematical and unknown state of things. I therefore proposed the arrangement of taking half again, or other fair proportion of, the ordinary assessment whenever a ryot took water in the hot months. It appeared to me that such an arrangement, if only workable, was fair in theory and that the assessment actually paid by a ryot would bear a fairer proportion to the actual produce of his land than if the full assessment were collected whether he cultivated in the hot weather or not and also that the danger of favoritism in the distribution of water would be to some extent guarded against. The difficulty of working such a plan however is deemed by many experienced officers to be almost insurmountable and as, after careful discussion of the possibility of a safe revision of the classification with Lieutenant-Colonel Mackenzie, that officer was fully confident that it could be done and in fact has now completed the revision in question, I submit the results. It will be sufficient to state that as a result of that revision my former estimate is increased for the lands under the channels by Rs. 3,375 under head of rice and Rs. 349 under head of garden, in all Rs. 3,724. The revision of the classification affects only 14 villages out of the 78. The collections for the whole 78 villages under the old system was Rs. 39,492, under my proposals the assessment of the occupied land will be Rs. 51,523 instead of Rs. 47,799 originally estimated. There is thus an increase, excluding local cesses, of Rs. 12,031. Out of this about Rs. 5,000 will be required for irrigation fund and pay of village officers, leaving a net gain of a little over Rs. 7,000. The small tract under report is well situated both with regard to climate and means of communication. The increase which results from the proposed settlement has been obtained by adopting rates in themselves extremely moderate and I have no doubt whatever that the Government demand as now fixed is perfectly fair and reasonable. I may remark, to avoid misapprehension, that the maximum rates as proposed in my original report have undergone no change but only the classification of the lands under the channels. The maximum rate for rice lands under the channels is Rs. 10 and the average rate Rs. 6—5—2. The average rate of the garden lands is only Rs. 6—5—3.

8. I attach a classwar statement as usual and also a sketch map of the tract under report and shall feel obliged by an early sanction to proceed with the settlement.

Proceedings of the Dewan to His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore, (Revenue),—dated 16th April 1884.

No. 253-63—2, DATED 16TH APRIL 1884.

ORDER THEREON.—In his letter No. 585 of the 29th November 1883, the Superintendent of Revenue Survey submits revised proposals for the settlement of 78 Government villages, 16 Inam villages, and two kavals, all forming part of the old Arkalgud Taluk recently transferred to the Taluk of Yedatore.

2. The settlement of this tract was held in abeyance pending the decision of the question whether the lands under the channels in this tract should be assessed with reference to the existing water supply, but on the understanding that an additional tax should be demandable when the channels supplied water throughout the year and when advantage was taken of this increased supply by the ryots, or whether the lands should once for all be assessed at rates which take into account such probable increase in the means of irrigation.

3. The Superintendent discusses the question in the letter read above and prefers the latter arrangement as being the simpler and safer of the two, though financially the former would be more remunerative to Government.

4. After careful consideration the Dewan is not satisfied of the expediency of adopting either of these methods in assessing the channel lands in question. As the revised classification upon which the Survey Superintendent's present proposals (as contained in his letter of 29th November last) are based takes into account a better and more lasting supply of water than at present exists, and as it is extremely doubtful whether Government will be able to give such a supply, it is preferable to adhere to the rates as originally fixed and reported in the Survey Superintendent's letter No. 826 of the 12th January 1883, and at the same time to omit the arrangement therein proposed, of demanding half again the ordinary assessment when ryots use water during the hot months. In accordance with the Survey Superintendent's original proposals, the assessment upon the occupied area within the tract in question amounts to Rs. 47,799, against old collections amounting to Rs. 39,492, the proposed assessment upon the channel lands in question being Rs. 20,882.

5. The introduction of the settlement into the tract in question, at the rates set forth in Survey Superintendent's letter of the 12th January 1883, is sanctioned with the usual guarantee for 30 years.

Letter No. 212, dated 30th May 1883, and subsequent correspondence from the Deputy Commissioner-Bangalore District, recommending the confirmation of certain Service inams in the Jodi Chikkam, mana Hosahalli village, Dodballapur Taluk, which was recently resumed by Government.

No. 321-8—8, DATED BANGALORE, 17TH APRIL 1884.

ORDER THEREON.—When a Jodi or other Inam village is resumed, minor inams granted by the mamdar of the village, after the grant to him by Government, cannot be recognized. Such minor inams cease and determine with the termination of the inam tenure of the village. Upon this principle none of the minor inams in question can be treated as valid, but as the Shanbhog and Toti are required for the service of the village, the inams in their favor will be confirmed. The Deputy Commissioner will furnish full information to the Superintendent of Inams in view to that officer making the needful alterations in the Inam Register.

Secretary.

The Superintendent, Inam Settlements.
The Deputy Commissioners of other Districts.

Proceedings of the Dewan to His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore, (Revenue),—dated 17th April 1884.

From the Superintendent, Mysore Revenue Survey, To the Secretary to the Dewan of Mysore, No. 753, dated 29th February 1884.

I have the honor to submit for sanction proposals drawn up by Major Rutherfurd, Deputy Superintendent, Mysore Revenue Survey, for revising the assessment of the Hunsur Taluk of the Mysore District. The proposals in question, before being put in their present shape, were, as usual, fully discussed by Major Rutherfurd and myself and they have therefore my full concurrence.

2. The Deputy Commissioner, it will be seen, considers the proposed rates to be fair and, as the report and its appendices contain all essential details, it is apparently only left to me to forward all the papers for the consideration of Government. I feel however that the proposed addition of about Rs. 32,000 or 30 per cent to the Government demand is a matter upon which not a shadow of doubt should be allowed to rest as to the propriety as well as the necessity of such a step and I therefore add a few remarks. The effect of the proposed settlement will be best realized from the following figures taken from para 17 of the report:—

Description of land.	Acres by Survey.	Old average rate.	Average rate by proposed settlement.	Remarks.
1	2	3	4	5
Dry Crop	143,066	0 8 0	0 10 9
Rice and Garden	11,838	3 1 5	3 11 6
Total.....	154,844	0 11 3	0 14 6

3. The distinction between garden and rice in the old accounts is not sufficiently clear to admit of their being shown separately. The dry assessment is raised about 34 per cent, the wet and garden about 20 per cent. Neither old nor new average rates on dry lands are at all high, while the latter rates, as a whole, avoid extremes which is far from being the case with the old rates. In a taluk like Hunsur where climate and soil admit, in many instances, of a double crop in dry lands, an average rate of Rs. 0—10—9 is certainly low and I do not think it would be fair to Government, nor would it serve any useful purpose, to adopt a lower standard of assessment. I do not think that with such rates as are now proposed the increase, great as it is and general in its character, need be viewed with any uneasiness. The comparatively small extent of arable waste (See Para 14 of Report) points to the lightness of the old assessment, as a whole and I do not anticipate that the ryots will resign many of their lands at the settlement, if they do it will be those who, paying nothing or next to nothing hitherto, will naturally curtail the extent of their holdings upon an appreciable assessment, however light being imposed.

4. It is satisfactory to find that the increase, and by using undeniably moderate rates, is chiefly on the dry land. The wet and garden lands were very unequally assessed, but there was not the same room for encroachment as in the case of dry lands, and altogether there has been somewhat stricter management and consequently less increase of assessment in the present revision. The increase, as a result of the proposed settlement, of Rs. 7,412 or about 20 per cent is not by any means inconsiderable, but, as in the case of dry lands, the rates by which it is brought about are really moderate, and, if anything, relatively lower than in neighbouring settled taluks. An average rate of Rs. 3—11—6 for rice and garden (if taken separately Rs. 3—8—4 for rice and Rs. 4—4—10 for garden) is certainly not high. Major Rutherfurd does not show the channel and ordinary rice in detail. I have therefore taken out those details as below:—

Description.	Past Collections.	By proposed settlement.
		Area.	Assessment.	Average rate.
1	2	3	4	5
Channel Rice	13,314	3,462	15,546	4 7 10
Ordinary Rice	11,486	5,342	15,455	2 11 3
	24,800	8,804	31,001	3 8 4

Proceedings of the Dewan to His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore, (Revenue),—dated 17th April 1884.

5. The average garden rate as now proposed is Rs. 4—4—10. Some of the gardens are under the channels, but I have not considered it necessary to treat them separately. None of the rates I have shown above can be considered high, and I have no hesitation in recommending the introduction of the proposed settlement, as it is perfectly clear that the increase involved is not due to any enhancement of rates but simply to the bringing to account the true area under occupancy. In the taluk under report, it must also be remembered that the pay of village officers, there being no office land and no money payments, will be quite a new and heavy charge amount, ing to nearly Rs. 10,000. This charge, with the amount to be credited to the Irrigation Fund- will leave, as shown at para 24 of the Report, only about Rs. 19,000 clear gain to Government, and even this sum is liable to reduction by resignations at the settlement. It is not probable that much land will be resigned, but it is not safe to count upon no resignations, for I have no doubt every acre of land they could possibly claim has been pointed out by the ryots as occupied and when appreciably assessed they may throw up some of it.

6. Major Rutherfurd's remarks on population at para 4 require some explanation. The population has not had time to undergo any appreciable change since 1881 and it is futile to compare the classing census which does not extend to migratory population, or even to inam villages, with the regular census of 1881. It is highly improbable that any decrease of population has taken place lately. The census figures of 1871 and 1878 however are 113,113 and 116,334 respectively, and it must therefore be allowed that some small diminution of population has occurred as an indirect result of the famine. I must also state that I do not fully share Major Rutherfurd's expectations that sugar-cane cultivation will again engage the attention of the ryots There is no doubt that many years ago it was the practice to grow sugar-cane, but there must have been some substantial reason for its discontinuance long prior to the approach of survey operations. With these remarks I beg to recommend the adoption of the proposed settlement.

From the Deputy Superintendent, Mysore Revenue Survey, To the Superintendent, Mysore Revenue Survey, No. 62, dated 3rd February 1884.

I have the honor to submit the following proposals for the revision of the assessment in the Hunsur, late Periyapatna Taluk of the Mysore District.

2. The taluk is divided into the undermentioned maganis.

Maganis or sub-divisions.

No.	Name of Magani.	Government villages.	Inam villages.	Kavals.	State Forests.	Remarks.
1	2	3	4	5	6	7
1	Periyapatna	41	7	2	1
2	Bilakere	74	2	9	...	Inclusive of 2 villages transferred from Heggaddevankote.
3	Bettadapur	29	1	2	...
4	Harauhalli	55	...	5	2
5	Kaggundi	48	14	4	3
6	Chilkunda	22	2	3	...
7	Kirjaji	37	1	5	...
8	Heggandur	91	2	6	2
9	Gaudagere	27	1	1	...
10	Ravandur	12	...	...	...
		436	30	37	7

These proposals refer solely to the 436 Government villages shown in column 3 of the above statement, and in all calculations of area, &c., the inam villages are not included, except where specially mentioned.

Physical characteristics, &c, described in accompanying reports by Classing Officers.

3 Mr. Barker and Mr. Butcher, the Assistant Superintendents in charge of classing operations, have given a detailed description of the physical characteristics of the taluk, the nature of the different kinds of soil, modes of irrigation, crops, manufactures, roads, population and general condition of the ryots. Their reports are attached: it will therefore be unnecessary for me to do more than to state that I can, from personal observation, confirm their remarks on most of the above points. The custom of growing two dry crops annually is almost universal throughout the taluk, but especially is this the case in the south-west portion where the light showers known as "Sonnemalle" are very favorable to dry crop cultivation. The entire absence of sugar-cane cultivation is inexplicable in view of the fact that an ample supply of water is available, and that the nature of the soil is very similar to that in other taluks in which cane is cultivated. I myself believe that the non cultivation of cane is intentional, and that within three years after the introduction of the survey settlement the cultivation will be resumed.

Taluk statistics.

4. The following statement shows the statistics under various heads collected by the Classers during the classing operations:—

No. of villages.	Houses.	Population.	Square miles.	Cattle.	Carts.	Ploughs.	Markets.	Remarks.
1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
*436	18,292	83,490	609	29,756	1,196	14,862	7	* Inclusive of two villages transferred from the Heggaddevankote Taluk.

The taluk was fortunate in its almost complete immunity from the effects of the famine of 7 years ago, yet the population appears to have decreased instead of increasing. According to the census of 1881 the population stood at 113,113; according to the returns prepared by the Classers, the figures are 83,490, showing a difference of nearly 30,000 souls. In my report on the Chikballapur Taluk I alluded to the difficulties in the way of an accurate enumeration of the people by the Classers. These difficulties become intensified in a semi-malnad Taluk like Hunsur. One of the causes of the difference then pointed out applies with much greater force in the case of this taluk, viz, temporary migration. Very large numbers of the villagers leave their homes for Coorg and the Wynad where they obtain employment on the coffee estates, and where they remain for several months. Taking the population at 83,490 the number of souls to the square mile will be 137, and on the cultivated area 345.

Past revenue management.

5. I have been unable to ascertain whether there was or was not a former survey of the cultivated lands. The Deputy Commissioner in his letters Nos. 150 and 1102, dated 20th April and 18th October 1883 respectively, (the latter to the address of the Survey Superintendent) makes no mention of such survey, but simply states that in his opinion the dry crop rates generally do not, and that the wet rates in the Bilakere Hobli do, press heavily. He gives illustrations of the incidence of the existing rates which range, on dry crop land, from 2 pies to Rs. 5—13—2 per kudu, and on wet land, from 1 anna 1 pie to Rs. 1—2—7 per wet kudu. Mr. Barker, who superintended the classing operations, gives in para 15 of his report several cases of inequality of assessment, which is as common in the Hunsur Taluk as it has been found to be in all taluks previously settled. In para 27 of this report I will give a few more cases taken at random from villages in different maganis.

Ravandur ...	9,650	5,057	8·5	257	971	3 12 5	184	791	4 4

The Deputy Commissioner's opinion with regard to the moderation of the dry crop rates is confirmed by the figures given above, which, considering that two crops are raised annually, may be considered low. There is, moreover, not such inequality as exists in the rice and garden rates which range, in the former from Rs. 1—8—0 to Rs. 4—12—5, and in the latter from Rs. 2-8-- to Rs. 5—6—9 per acre. The complaint that the wet rates in Bilakere press heavily appears to be groundless : although they are not the lowest, they are by no means the highest, and considering that many villages derive direct benefit from the Siriyur and Husenpur channels, the average rates of Rs. 3—5—9 and Rs. 3—8—6 for rice and garden respectively cannot be considered excessive.

Remarks on past collections and prices.

9. The collections for the past 25 years, with the exception of a few very slight fluctuations, have steadily increased, the collections for 1882—83 being higher than those of any previous year except 1876—77, 1878—79 and 1879—80. The famine, which caused such loss of life and revenue throughout the greater part of the Province, seems to have given a stimulus to cultivation in the Hunsur Taluk, the revenue of which increased from Rs. 1,06,396 in 1875—76 to Rs. 1,08,569 in 1876—77 : an amount exceeding the realizations of any previous

The Deputy Commissioner's opinion with regard to the moderation of the dry crop rates is confirmed by the figures given above, which, considering that two crops are raised annually, may be considered low. There is, moreover, not such inequality as exists in the rice and garden rates which range, in the former from Rs. 1—8—0 to Rs. 4—12—5, and in the latter from Rs. 2-8-4 to Rs. 5—6—9 per acre. The complaint that the wet rates in Bilakere press heavily appears to be groundless : although they are not the lowest, they are by no means the highest, and considering that many villages derive direct benefit from the Siriyur and Husenpur channels, the average rates of Rs. 3—5—9 and Rs. 3—8—6 for rice and garden respectively cannot be considered excessive.

9. The collections for the past 25 years, with the exception of a few very slight fluctuations, have steadily increased, the collections for 1882—83 being higher than those of any previous year except 1876—77, 1878—79 and 1879—80. The famine, which caused such loss of life and revenue throughout the greater part of the Province, seems to have given a stimulus to cultivation in the Hunsur Taluk, the revenue of which increased from Rs. 1,06,396 in 1875—76 to Rs. 1,08,569 in 1876—77 : an amount exceeding the realizations of any previous year, and only slightly lower than the revenue of the year 1878—79, which is the highest during the period of 25 years under report. The rise and fall of prices call for no special remark except in the famine years 1866—67 and 1876—77—1878. In these years there was a very decided rise, which, however, in the former period was of a temporary nature, but in the latter continued till 1879—80, when prices gradually began to resume their normal position.

10. The actual results of the survey are shown in the subjoined statement :—

Actual results of survey.

11. From the comparatively small area of waste dry crop land there is strong presumptive evidence of the general fertility of the soil, the suitability of the climate and the moderation of the existing rates. The same remark applies also to the rice and garden lands, but especially to the former, as a considerable proportion of the 3,034 acres entered in the survey accounts as garden appears in the old accounts under the head of rice.

12. For purposes of assessment I propose dividing the taluk into two groups with the maximum rates specified below opposite each group :—

Grouping.

Group.	Villages.	Maximum Rates on—
		Dry crop.		Rice.		Channel rice.		Garden.
								Tank.	Well.
1	2	3		4		5		6	7
		Rs.	A.	Rs.	A.	Rs.	A.	Rs.	Rs.
I	208	1	10	6	8	10	0	12	6
II	228	1	6	6	0	8	0	12	6

As the variations of climate are very slight, and the rain-fall pretty uniform throughout the taluk, I have not considered it necessary to attach much importance to these points in fixing the grouping, but have adopted the imperial roads and principal lines of communication as a basis. The first group comprises all those villages to the north and south of, and within easy reach of, the high roads between Mysore and Coorg and Mysore and Cannanore. Between these terminal points there is a heavy and continuous traffic, which, should a line of rail be eventually made, will increase enormously to the very great advantage of the adjoining villages.

Proceedings of the Dewan to His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore, (Revenue),—dated 17th April 1884.

The second group is composed of all villages more or less distant from the main roads and in the south-west corner of the taluk, as well as of many villages near the less important roads running north.

I have divided the wet cultivation into "ordinary" and "channel," and have made two groups of each kind, with due regard to facility of communications and proximity of markets.

For tank-irrigated garden, such as supari, &c., of which there is very little, I propose a maximum of Rs. 12, and for well garden Rs. 6. As usual each garden number, of whatever kind it may be, has been assessed on its intrinsic merits of soil, water, position, &c.

16. The results of the imposition of the proposed rates on the whole arable area of the villages under report, Government occupied, waste and inam, are tabulated below :—

Total results of proposed rates on Government and inam lands.

Group.	Villages.	Old Collections.	As per Survey Accounts.

			Acres.	Assessment.	Acres.	Assessment.	Acres.	Assessment.	Acres.	Assessment.	Acres.	Assessment.

17. The general effect of the proposed settlement will be clearly understood from the annexed statement in which the old average rates and collections for the whole taluk are contrasted with the proposed rates and assessment, the basis of calculation, in each case, being the survey area :—

General effect of proposed settlement.

Description.	Acres by Survey.	Old system.		New system.
		Collections.	Average rate.	Assessment.	Average rate.
1	2	3	4	5	6
Dry crop	143,006	71,734	0 8 0	96,389	0 10 9
Rice	8,804	24,800	2 13 1	31,001	3 8 4
Garden	3,034	11,844	3 14 6	13,055	4 4 10
	154,844	1,08,378	0 11 3	1,40,445	0 14 6

18. Moderate as the above survey rates undoubtedly are, the result is a very tangible increase under all three heads, especially under that of dry crop. In calculating the rates for rice and garden, the old collections under the head of "Valivat Jásti" have been included. As usual, a considerable proportion of so called rice appears in the survey accounts as garden.

19. The amount realized from the sale of grazing, amarayi, &c., was Rs. 2,214, and I have retained the same sum in calculating the total anticipated revenue under the survey system.

Grazing.

20. The amount credited to the Local Fund for the year 1882—83 at the rate of one anna in the rupee was Rs. 7,191 : under the proposed settlement it will be Rs. 9,127 on Government and minor inam lands.

Local cess.

21. The collections of 1882—83 are compared below with the anticipated results of the proposed settlement :—

General comparison of old and new assessment.

	Rs.
Land Revenue for 1882—83	1,08,378
One anna local cess	7,191
Grazing	2,214
Total under old system..	1,17,783
Survey assessment of occupied lands.. ..	1,40,445
One anna local cess on Government occupied and minor Inam lands.. .	9,127
Grazing	2,214
Total under new or survey system	1,51,786

Omitting realizations from local cess and grazing there is an actual increase of land revenue of Rs. 32,067 on the old collections.

Proceedings of the Dewan to His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore, (Revenue),—dated 17th April 1884.

Pay of village officers.

22. With the exception of the Magani Shanbhogs who draw between them Rs. 69—5—6 no village officers are paid, nor do they hold inam lands The probable sum required for the remuneration of village officers will be Rs. 10,000.

Irrigation cess.

23. A sum of about Rs. 3,000, calculated at the rate of $\frac{1}{7}$th of the total assessment on wet cultivation, will be required for the irrigation fund.

24. The net increase accruing to Government after deducting the items mentioned in paras 22 and 23 will be as follows :—

			Rs.
Increase on land revenue ..	..		32,067
Deduct pay of village officers ..	10,000		13,000
,, contribution to irrigation fund	3,000
Net increase on old collections ..	..		19,067

25. As already pointed out there is comparatively speaking, not very much waste land, but it is well to remember that much of it is of very fair quality, and I feel sanguine that, with their existing advantages of a favorable climate, good soil and easy communications, and the prospective benefits resulting from the imposition of moderate rates and exemption from the payment of grain levies, the ryots will, in the course of a few years, take up most of the waste dry crop lands fit for cultivation.

26. Occupants of inferior lands or of larger holdings than they can conveniently cultivate will probably either resign or contract their holdings, but I do not anticipate that the resignations will be of any importance from a revenue point of view.

27. As promised in para 5 I append a statement of several villages in different maganis in which the assessment has been increased or decreased by the operations of the survey, or, in other words, in which the incidence of the old rates was either inadequate or unequally applied:—

From the Deputy Commissioner, Mysore District, To the Deputy Superintendent, Mysore Revenue Survey, No. 150, dated 20th April 1883.

With reference to your letter No. 229, dated 31st ultimo, on the subject of the revision of the assessment on lands in the Hunsur Taluk, I have the honor to inform you that having just taken charge of the District, I am not personally acquainted with the full particulars required by you, but from enquiries made it would appear that the existing dry rates of assessment throughout the taluk are not generally pressing on the ryots, being imposed with due regard to the nature of the soil of each holding. There may be no doubt a few individual cases of hardship, which, if complained of, will receive consideration during the survey settlement next year.

2. The Amildar brings to notice that in the Bilekere Hobli the rate of assessment on wet lands situated below the Bilekere and Halebid tanks, viz., Rs. 18—5—3 per khandi, presses heavily upon the ryots who have complained of the same. This requires consideration of the settling officer.

From the Assistant Superintendent, in charge Classing Operations in the Hunsur Taluk.

I have the honor to submit a report on the Hunsur Taluk classed by the "M" Establishment during the current season

2. Boundaries.—The Hunsur, formerly known as the Periyapatna Taluk, is situated in the north-western corner of the Mysore District. It is bounded on the north by the Taluks of Holé-Narsipur and Yedatore, the former of the Hassan, the latter of the Mysore District, on the south and east by Heggaddevankote and Mysore of the Mysore District, and on the west by the Province of Coorg.

Proceedings of the Dewan to His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore, (Revenue),—dated 17th April 1884.

3. Extent and Area.—It is of tolerably regular shape, its greatest length from east to west being about 41 miles and from north to south 32. Its area is 369,845 acres or about 578 square miles. Hunsur, the Taluk head-quarters, is 28 miles north-west of the town of Mysore, and 109 almost due west of Bangalore.

4. General Description.—The taluk may be said to combine the features of an ordinary plain or "Maidan" country with those of the regular malnad. The greater part, or a portion of about two-thirds, consists of undulating plains, the remainder of woods and forest. The northern part is the most open, excepting on the extreme west, where, as it approaches the confines of Coorg, it partakes of the malnad nature. The change from open to jungle country is here very sudden, elsewhere it is more gradual. The centre and last are also open, but in places, especially in the kavals or grazing lands of the Amrut Mahal Department, scrub jungle is met with, and the nullahs generally are thickly covered with trees and bushes of wild date. The western and southern parts are well wooded, the jungles increasing in density and height towards the extreme limits of the taluk. Of hills there are very few. The principal one is Bettadapur Hill in the north-west which rises abruptly to a height of about 1,600 feet from the plain and of 4,350 above sea level. West and south of this are a few low ranges, some bare and rocky, others covered with jungle. The river Cauvery flows along the north-western boundary, and through the south and east the Lakshmantirtha, a tributary of the Cauvery, takes its course. Besides these, there are some minor streams a few of which are perennial.

5. Population.—The census of 1881 showed the population of the taluk to be 113,113. This would give an average of 19 to the square mile.

6. Sub-Divisions, Villages, &c.—The taluk is divided into 10 hobbs which are sub-divided into villages, &c., as shown in the form below :—

7. Rivers, Drainage, &c.—The taluk is drained on the western side by the river Cauvery, and in the south and east by the Lakshmantirtha. The former rises in Coorg in the Sahyadri or western ghats, the reputed source being at Tala Cauvery. It touches the Mysore State at the south of the Reserved Forest of Dodharave in the Haranhalli Hobli of the Hunsur Taluk, a few miles south of Fraserpet. It forms the boundary between the Hunsur Taluk and Coorg for about fifteen miles of its course. Beyond draining the western portion of the taluk and benefiting about sixteen villages situated along its right bank, this river does not much affect the taluk. No channels are taken from it so near its source, nor is it used for irrigation purposes in any way. The Lakshmantirtha rises in the western ghats in the Brahmagiri, which form the southern frontier of Coorg. Its whole course is north-east. Entering Mysore near a village called Konanhosahalli of the Heggandur Hobli of the Hunsur Taluk, it flows past Hangod, Hunsur and Kattemalavadi into the Yedatore Taluk, where it falls into the Cauvery. It is a perennial stream and is much utilized for irrigation.

Proceedings of the Dewan to His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore, (Revenue),—dated 17th April 1884.

8. Irrigation.—The most important means of irrigation are the channels drawn from the Lakshmantirtha River. The following particulars with regard to their construction are taken from the Gazetteer.

"The first dam thrown across the river is the Hanagod, below the village of the same name. It is built in the ordinary manner of rough rubble stone, its strength being greatly augmented by the rocky formation of the river bed. The channel, which bears the same name, is led off on the right bank of the river, and after running for nine miles, divides into three branches, viz., the Nallur 7, Hanumantapur 24 and Vodur 20 miles in length. The Nallur follows the course of the river and ends in the elephant tank near Hunsur. The Vodur and Hanumantapur branches however passing through a deep cutting enter the watershed of the Kabani River, the Vodur running in an easterly, the Hanumantapur in a southerly direction. * * *

"The Ramenahalli, an old breached dam, is the next, about three miles up the river from Hunsur; the channel was led off on the right bank and ran for twenty miles, passing through the town of Hunsur. The Kattemalavadi situated near the village of the same name, about four miles below Hunsur, is the third dam on the river: the channel has a course of fourteen miles along the left bank.

"Near the village of Hundvadi is the Hangarhalli dam, giving rise to two channels, the Siriyur and Husenpur. The former on the left bank runs 12 miles, the latter on the right bank has a course of fourteen miles."

Besides those mentioned above there is the Tarikal channel which runs from a tank called Chaudekatte, fed from the Hanumantapur channel and a few minor ones. Excepting the Ramenahalli, which has been out of use for a number of years, the cultivated area under these channels is considerable. Rice appears to be the only crop and but one is produced in the year; but this is a superior one, owing to an abundant and unfailing water-supply. Sugar-cane is not grown. There is a little garden here and there, chiefly consisting of cocoanuts, which apparently do not thrive. The trees probably suffer from too much moisture during the rice season and subsequently from a lack of it. Occasionally in a selected position near the source of the channel, fairly good gardens are seen containing plantains, betel-leaf, &c., which are irrigated from wells or gundis, but such are rare. The channel sluices are open only from June to February, being closed during the hot months by order of Government, for repairs to the water way.

Tanks.—There are 1,398 tanks in the hoblis under report. Of these six are first class, viz. Ravandur, Kittur, Marur, Bilikere, Halebid, Lingapur. The Ravandur and Bilikere have each but one sluice in use, the second being out of repair. But one crop of rice seems to be grown under these tanks.

Wells.—Irrigation from wells is of no great importance, nor is it carried on to any particular extent. The wells or gundis are simply holes dug below or at the side of tanks. They are very numerous in the areca and cocoanut gardens, but outside of these are not very frequently seen. Irrigation is managed by means of chattis conveyed by hand. Very few pakka built wells are to be found in the taluk, and not or yatam is not in use.

9. Soils.—Soils vary from a loose greyish or reddish sandy soil to a firmer red, and to a rich black loam, the last mentioned being frequently met with, but to the greatest extent in the northern hoblis. This black description is of very rich quality and great depth, and is extremely fertile. The soils generally in the taluk are excellent. Even the poorest, which are found in the Bilikere hobli, though shallow, yield good out-turns in crops, owing to a good sub-soil.

10. Crops.—Both wet and dry are grown, the latter predominating. They are classed under two heads according to the season in which they are grown, viz., "hainu" and "karu." The season for sowing both wet and dry hainu crops opens in July; that for sowing karu wet crops in September and for karu dry crops in April. It appears to be unusual to grow the karu wet crop in this taluk

11. Rice.—Rice is not so extensively cultivated as might be expected in a taluk so well situated as Hunsur is. The rain-fall, though perhaps above the average of that in ordinary plain taluks, is not sufficient, nor does it always continue late enough in the season to enable rice to be cultivated with success without artificial means of irrigation. From the register furnished me by the Amildar, as well as from information obtained from other sources, I gather that the rains are, as a rule, light and uncertain after the end of September. Rice cultivation is only found therefore under the channels drawn from the Lakshmantirtha river and under tanks large enough to store an adequate supply of water. In the Bilikere hobli it is found under the Vodur and Tarikal channels, the Halebid, Bilikere and one or two smaller tanks. In the Ravandur hobli, except under the Ravandur and Kittur tanks, there is little or none. In Battadpur and Haranhalli hoblis very little. In the Kirjaji hobli there are considerable stretches of it under the Katte-malavadi channel and the Marur tank, and in the Gavadagere hobli under the Siriyur and Husenpur channels. In the Kaggundi hobli rice is cultivated more universally than in any of the others, the tanks, although small, being numerous. A great number of these tankshave no regular sluices. In these cases a temporary one or "more" is constructed, or a portion of the bunds is periodically cut down to a little below the level of the water, and built up again when there is no longer need for irrigation. In a few instances the percolation of water through the bund is reckoned sufficient. A second or karu crop of rice does not appear to be taken even under the large tanks which retain enough water throughout the year. The following are the most common kinds grown :—Kembhatisanna, kembhatihote, bilikiri, bilibolamalige, biliputtabhatta, karkaluhaldodi. Three ploughings are given before sowing and one when transplanting. Rice is sown in June or July and reaped in December or January, the crop usually taking six or seven months to arrive at maturity. Lands are well manured with cattle dung, and with leaves of various sorts, chiefly of the honge tree.

12. Sugar-cane.—It does not appear to be the custom now to grow sugar-cane anywhere in the taluk. It used to be cultivated, they say, under some of the large tanks ten or twenty years ago, but no satisfactory reason is given for its discontinuance. Buchanan, in his journey through Mysore in 1800, alludes to its cultivation, for he mentions that two kinds were produced, viz., rastali and marakhabbu, and that a little pattapatti had been lately introduced. It is evident therefore that cane can be grown, and that it is not for climatic reasons that the cultivation of such a valuable product is neglected, neither can it be owing to an insufficient water-supply, for many of the tanks retain ample water throughout the year.

13. Gardens.—The gardens are of two descriptions, viz., tree gardens, and those producing vegetables and miscellaneous crops. The former sort contain chiefly cocoanut, arecanut, plantain and betel-leaf with other fruit trees such as guava, mango, tamarind, jack, lime, orange, pomalo and papai interspersed. The condition of these gardens varies, but, as a rule, they are in a flourishing state. Their position is usually below tanks or kattes from which benefit is derived by the water percolating through the bund. In many cases these tanks or kattes retain water all the year round ; in others, for some months after the autumn rains have ceased. The moisture retained in the soil even in the latter case, suffices to keep the trees in a healthy state through the hot months. Some of the large tanks, under which rice also is cultivated, have sluices, but these gardens are rarely irrigated in a direct manner through the sluice. The smaller tanks or kattes have no sluices as a rule. Numerous wells or gundis are to be found in the gardens, varying in depth and size. They are dug as occasion requires, and where water is close to the surface, as it was noticed to be everywhere even in the hottest months, very little labor is required in sinking these wells, as great depth is not necessary. Water from these is used for plantains, betel-leaf and for young plants of cocoanut and areca-nut, or when onions, garlic, or vegetables are also cultivated, water is taken in chattis by hand. This description of garden is met with in all the hoblis under report ; the best and greatest number being in the Bettadapur and Bilikere hoblis. The Haranhalli and Gaudagere hoblis are worst off in this respect. The second class of garden is irrigated entirely from gundis by means of chattis only. Such gardens are found everywhere. They must be lowlying at the side of a tank or good stream, where water is within easy reach. Onions, garlic, chillies, jola, ragi, and vegetables are raised in them at all seasons.

14. Dry crops.—The taluk is principally a dry crop producing one, wet cultivation being confined to certain few localities. The climate is singularly favorable to the growth of dry crops. The sowing season begins as early as April with the showers that usually fall in that month. Karu crops are put down then from about the 15th of April to the 15th of June. They consist of the following :—

Ragi.	Cow gram.
Pigeon pea, dal.	Harka.
Great millet.	Italian millet.
Tadugani.	Little millet.
Wild gingelly.	Cotton.
Castor-oil.	Chillies.

The season for "hainu" crops commences in July, some varieties being sown then, others in September. They consist chiefly of the following :—

Ragi.	Bengal-gram.
Wheat.	Green-gram.
Coriander.	Black-gram.
Fenugreek.	Gingelly.
Kulthi.	Tobacco.

It is customary to grow two crops in the same year, the latter being a minor grain. With the exception of wheat, dod ragi and tobacco, any of the above mentioned "hainu" crops can be sown as second crops. The three exceptions being single ones are sown in July, the second crops in September. Ragi being the staple food of the people is grown to a far greater extent than any other. In the western portions of the taluk but one description is sown, viz., kar ragi, and this is preferred throughout the taluk, but in the eastern hobbis dod ragi is also cultivated. The two sorts are there sometimes sown in alternate years. With the kar a second crop is obtained, but not with the dod, which, being sown as a "hainu" crop in July, is reaped too late in the year to admit of one. The kar ragi cultivated here is not precisely the same as the gid ragi grown in taluks to the eastward, but very similar. In very rich soils ragi is sown by itself, in those less rich, other crops are sown in drills along with it. Dry crop lands are ploughed from six to twelve times before sowing, and about four times between crops. Manure is applied each year according to the quantity available. More is applied for tobacco than for any other crop. The manure used is cattle dung with refuse and sweepings from houses. Sheep and goats' droppings are considered the best. The tobacco grown in the neighbourhood of Bettadapur is reputed to be of a superior quality. Very little wheat is grown.

15. Rates.—The rates on dry crop lands vary from two annas to Rs. 5—13—2 per Krishnaraj kolaga of 3,200 square yards, and on rice lands from one anna one pie to Rs. 5—2—7 per kolaga of 500 square yards. The highest, on rice, are in the Gaudagere, the lowest in the Bettadapur Hobli. No extra rates are charged on sugar-cane, but this is not at present grown, nor on a second crop of rice. Garden rates are fixed on a calculation of the average of five years' yield, after inspection of the garden by an experienced official. There are no records of an old survey except in fragments here and there, among the old and unsorted records of the taluk, and in the possession of Shanbhogs, containing the measurements of lands which at present cannot be identified. It seems, however, that all lands inclusive of waste were measured under the orders of Dewan Purnaiya. Rates appear to have been fixed on certain fields at time of measurement, whilst others were reserved for the batayi system. None were fixed on waste lands. As these were taken up they were settled in conformity with those on adjoining lands, and the highest and lowest in the village and firka. It may be estimated that in a taluk of this nature fresh lands have been extensively cleared and taken up for cultivation since Purnaiya's time, so, allowing that the rates originally applied were just, there is no doubt that under such conditions as those referred to those since fixed are unequal and partial. From my own observations I can safely say that they are so. I will give a few instances of their inequality. A dry crop field in Singaramaranhalli village of the Bilikere Hobli, of which the area is 3 acres, 22 guntas, is paying more revenue than a field of which the area is more than double, viz., 7 acres, 28 guntas, although the soils are very similar. The revenue of the former is shown in the Shanbhog's accounts as Rs. 3—7—7, whilst that of the latter is Rs. 3—4—5. Another in village Mudlapur, 3 acres, 29 guntas in area, pays, Rs. 2—0—9, whilst one of 6 acres, 33 guntas pays Rs. 2—1—11 or but 1 anna and 2 pies more. In this case the soils are very similar. In Kutvadi a rice number, with an area of 2 acres, 16 guntas, pays Rs. 9—5—1, whilst another of 2 acres pays but Rs. 5—6—10, the soils being equal. In Kavalanhalli, Bettadapur Hobli, a dry crop field of 6 acres, 32 guntas pays Rs. 4—4—3, whilst one of 6 acres, 30 guntas pays but Rs. 1—7—3, the soils being almost identical.

16. Sub-letting rates.—In sub-letting rice lands the customs which prevail are gutta and varam. Gutta is a contract, and this system is resorted to when, owing to position and means of irrigation, land is in great demand, and tenders are proffered. When no tenders are made or accepted, varam is the custom. The gutta varies from five to ten Krishnaraj khandis of paddy per khandi of land. The tenant solely bears the assessment. As regards varam different usages exist. The most general is as follows. The tenant is responsible for the assessment. After deducting the equivalent of this, the produce is equally divided between the tenant and sub-tenant excepting that the tenant takes all the straw, the sub-tenant receives a kolaga (80 seers) of paddy in every khandi of produce for supplying manure and the seed value is returned to the original provider.

17. Wages.—The wages paid in the coffee works at Hunsur are 4 annas to a male and two annas to a female cooly per diem. The Department of Public Works rates are from 2 annas 8 pies to 4 annas to the former, and from 1 anna 4 pies to 2 annas to the latter. The sandalwood depôt rates are from 2 annas 4 pies to 3 annas 4 pies to a man and 1 anna 6 pies to a woman. In villages from 2 annas 4 pies to 3 annas and 1 anna 4 pies. The wages in kind are three and two annas to men and women respectively.

18. Cattle.—The cattle are perhaps slightly above the average. Many are purchased at periodical auction sales held at Hunsur by the Amrut Mahal Department, and some are brought from Coimbatore, a breed called Mardesvarabetta. By the introduction of these two superior kinds the breed has presumably been improved. An excellent description of these two species is given in Mr. Rice's Gazetteer.

19. Grazing.—The grazing is exceptionally good, owing to a sufficient and well distributed rain-fall, added to a moist climate generally. Good grazing is to be had almost all the year round. Grass appears to be of a superior quality. The Amrut Mahal Department has its head-quarters in this taluk, and the fact of its holding as many as thirty-five kavals here, covering a large area, may be taken as a proof of the excellence of the pasturage.

20. Manufactures.—In former days Hunsur was noted for its Government factories, connected with the Madras Commissariat, the chief of which was a tannery and leather manufactory. Work is still turned out here, but to a small extent, it being now in the hands of a private individual. For tanning purposes the seed of the divi divi is useful. A few trees of this description are to be seen near the tannery. A cart manufactory was also previously a Government concern, and the part of the town still devoted to the making of carts goes by the name of Gadipalya. Nearly all the country carts used in the District are built here. Cumblies of a superior description are also made at Hunsur. Besides these, there are also extensive pulping works for coffee, which is sent from some of the estates in Coorg to be prepared prior to exportation to England. A European agent is in charge of these works. Excepting the above, the local manufactures are few in number and of no particular importance. They consist of cumblies for which there are about 62 looms ; of cloth, 292 looms ; and of a coarser cloth, 8 looms ; also of iron utensils and wooden oil mills.

21. Roads.—The taluk is well off for roads. The main line from Bangalore to Mercara bisects the taluk passing through the kasaba towns of Bilikere, Hunsur, Chilkunda and Periyapatna. Two miles west of Hunsur the high road to Cannanore branches off. The Mercara road is much used for traffic. From Hunsur two other roads also branch off to Heggaddevankote, the head-quarters of the taluk of that name, and kasaba Hanagod respectively, and another proceeds in a north-easterly direction to the head-quarters of the Yedatore Taluk through kasaba Gaudagere. From Periyapatna there are cross roads, north, skirting kasaba Kaggundi to Bettadpur, and thence to Ramanathpur, west to Siddapur and Virarajendrapet in Coorg, and south to Anechaukur on the Cannanore road. There is also an unfinished one running east and west through the northern portion of the taluk connecting Bettadpur and Yedatore, the kasaba town of the taluk of that name, with Fraserpet, and passing within a mile of kasaba Haranhalli. This last is in a very incomplete state and many of the others are unbridged in places and only useful for traffic during the fair weather months.

22. Markets and Fairs.—The principal weekly markets are held at the following towns on the days specified :—

Hunsur	on	Thursday.
Hurme	,,	Friday.
Periyapatna	,,	Saturday.
Kamplapur	,,	Sunday.
Bettadpur	,,	Do
Bilikere	,,	Saturday.
Attigod	,,	Wednesday.

Jatres or fairs take place annually at Dodheggur in the Heggandur Hobli, and at kasaba Bettadpur. The former lasts during the three days succeeding Sankranti festival, the latter for an equal period, commencing one month after the date for the car festival in that village. About 500 persons assemble at Heggur and 2,000 at Bettadpur on these occasions. Various cloths fruits and grains are brought for sale, with the addition of brass and iron utensils at the Bettadpur fair.

23. Exports and Imports.—The chief exports are—

Ragi.—The quantity exported is said to be about a third of the produce.

Tobacco.—The amount exported equals 15—16ths of the produce.

Coriander.

Supari.—About a fourth of the yield is exported. Exports go chiefly to Coorg, but, also to Mysore, Tumkur, Shimoga and Bangalore.

The following are the principal imports :—

Cotton cloths from Mandya, Maddur and Bangalore and from Salem in Madras. Cumblies from Chitaldroog, Narsipur, Seringapatam and Attikuppa. Chillies from Narsipur. Rice from Coorg and Mysore. Salt from below the Ghats. Copper and brass vessels from Tellicherry. Iron for utensils, ploughs, &c., from Madras and Bangalore. Wheat, jaggory, sugar, cocoanut oil, ghee, &c., are also imported.

Proceedings of the Dewan to His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore, (Revenue),—dated 17th April 1884.

24. Rain-fall.—According to the register kept at taluk head-quarters the average for the past six years is 30 inches 20 cents, the lowest fall being in 1878, viz., 21·93, the highest in 1882, viz, 45·15. Even if this is a correct record of the rain gauged at Hunsur, which I am inclined to doubt, it cannot be accepted as a fair average for the taluk, for in the west and south the fall is undoubtedly far greater. The average gauged at Mercara which is by road but nineteen miles from the border of this taluk is 143·70 for the past five years. Rain appears to be well distributed throughout the year. As a rule, it commences in April, occasionally as this year, in March, and continues to October or November. It is heaviest in the west and south.

25. Health.—Malarious fever is prevalent everywhere, especially during the cold months. The south and west or jungle portions are more affected than other parts, but large tracts of rice cultivation under channels from the Lakshmanatirtha breed malaria, and render the country in their immediate vicinity unhealthy. Two main channels taken at a high level run into the valley of the Kabbani. The lands below these becoming permeated with moisture from the rice swamps and in consequence extremely malarious, are now scarcely inhabitable. These parts show signs of having been well populated in former days, but are now waste and covered with dense and in places almost impenetrable jungle. Large tracts here are now held as grazing lands by the Amrut Mahal Department. In the Bilikere, Gaudagere and Kirjaji Hoblis the ryots have a less robust and healthy appearance than in the more northern and even than in the western parts.

26. Remuneration and "Haks" of Village servants.—Kulvadis and Shanbhogs are the only village officials who have "Haks" to any appreciable extent. The Patels obtain no remuneration for their services, except in one single instance, in the Brathamadahalli village of the Heggandur Hobli where inam land is held by the Patel, and in some villages on occasion of a marriage they get from 2 annas 4 pies to 4 annas 8 pies. Kulvadis hold inam land for service and they usually obtain a kolaga of grain (8 seers) besides a bundle of ragi straw with the grain, equal to another kolaga from each pattedar at harvest time, also from 2 annas 4 pies to 4 annas 8 pies on a marriage, and 1 anna 2 pies on a death in the village, and all dead cattle found within the village boundaries. Shanbhogs get pay from Government, which is almost nominal, and a "Mirasi" of from 2 annas 4 pies to one rupee per "kula" from the villagers. In some instances they obtain in addition, from one to three seers of grain from each "kula," and they enjoy, as a rule, the fruit of one tamarind tree in each village free.

27. Weights and Measures.—The grain measures are as follows :—

Chetak	..	..	..	..	= $\frac{1}{16}$ of a seer.
Arapavu	..	..	.	..	= 1 ,,
Pavu	..	..	..	..	= $\frac{1}{4}$,,
Mana	..	..	..	..	= $\frac{1}{2}$,,
Seer
Balla	..	..	..	..	= 2 seers and $1\frac{1}{2}$ seers.
Kolaga	..	..	..	..	= 8 seers and 5 seers.

Two balla and kolaga measures are in use.

Weight measures are as follows :—

Chetak	..	..	..	..	= $\frac{1}{16}$ of a seer.
Arapavu	.	..	..	..	= $\frac{1}{8}$,,
Pavu	..	..	..	..	= $\frac{1}{4}$,,
Arseer	..	..	..	..	= $\frac{1}{2}$,,
Seer
Savaseer	..	..	..	..	= $1\frac{1}{4}$ seers.
Adiseer	..	..	..	..	= $2\frac{1}{2}$,,
Pancher	..	..	..	..	= 5 ,,
Dhadiya	..	..	..	..	= 10 ,,
Maund	..	..	..	..	= 40 ,,

No measures or weights are used in dealing in jaggory, which is sold in cakes varying in weight from three-quarters to one seer (24 tolas).

A pakkaseer contains 97 rupees weight of water.

28. General Condition.—The condition of the ryots everywhere is most favorable. They have the advantages of a very fair climate generally, a fertile soil and a sufficient and well distributed rain-fall, and all that seems required on their part is energy to make the most of them.

29. In conclusion I beg to state that this report has reference chiefly to the following hoblis :—

Bilikere, Bettadapur, Haranhalli, Kaggundi, Kirjaji, Gaudagere, Ravandur and the northern half of Chilkunda, the remainder of the taluk having been classed by the "E" Establishment.

Proceedings of the Dewan to His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore, (Revenue),—dated 17th April 1884.

From the Assistant Superintendent in charge, Classing Operations in the Heggandur, Periyapatna and part of the Chilkunda Maganis of the Hunsur Taluk.

These maganis form a block in the south-west corner of the taluk; the Heggaddevankote Taluk being the boundary to the south with Coorg lying on the west. The villages included are as under :—

Magani.	Government Villages.	Hantas.	Kavals.	Inam Villages.	Total.
Heggandur	90	3	6	2	101
Periyapatna	41	0	3	7	51
Chilkunda	10	0	3	2	15
	141	3	12	11	167

Phy-ical Characteristics.

2. The country generally is undulating in character, there being a good deal of high scrub jungle in most of the villages, whilst in the tract to the south of the Lakshmantirtha river extensive tracts of jungle are met with, with numerous deserted villages.

Climate and rain-fall.

3. The whole of this tract is under the influence of the light rains which precede the south-west monsoon, and which are known as "Sonnemalle," which is especially favorable to the growth of dry crops. It is difficult to estimate the rain-fall, but I think it may be taken to be between 20 and 30 inches, the villages on the western border being better than those more to the east.

Irrigation works and tanks.

4. The Lakshmantirtha river flows through the Heggandur magani and has anicuts built across it, from which irrigation channels are taken for many miles in both this and in the adjoining Taluk of Heggaddevankote. In addition to these channels there are some pretty large sized tanks in the Periyapatna and Chilkunda maganis, but in the Heggandur magani tanks are not numerous, and those that exist are of small size.

Soils.

5. The soils of this portion of the taluk are of the red and sandy descriptions; a great deal of good red soil is met with on which superior dry crops can be raised: black soil is more rarely met with, but the jungle soil, of which there is a large quantity, is almost invariably good, being either red or dark chocolate. The soils of the rice lands below the tanks are of fair quality, but the hantas consist chiefly of inferior sandy soil.

Crops.

6. The following are the dry crops generally grown :—

In the early rains gid-ragi, yellu, navane, jola, chillies.

In the late rains, hurali, togari, avare, haralu, hesaru, uddu, kadle, dod-ragi and tobacco. Two crops are frequently taken off the same field, in sandy soils, gid-ragi followed by horse-gram. In the better soils gid-ragi, jola or yellu followed by kadle, menthya, togari, avare or coriander. Tobacco could be cultivated to a large extent in many parts, the soil being very suitable, but the ryots do not seem to have pushed its cultivation to the same extent as they have done apparently in the more northern portions of the taluk about Bettadapur.

7. The only crop that I have met with in tari is rice, no sugar-cane being grown under even the large tanks. Neither did I meet with any cases in which a second crop of rice was grown. In the case of the "hantas" the locality is invariably so unhealthy that the cultivators cannot live on the spot, but come from villages, in many cases, 3 and 4 miles away. After having prepared the land and sown the seed, they pay no further attention to it except to give it one weeding. The crop not being watched at night, wild animals devour a considerable part of it. The villages bordering on the reserved forests are also much infested by wild elephants during crop time, and sustain heavy losses, which fact should, I think, have some weight in fixing their assessment. In the lands under the channels the supply of water is only sufficient for one crop of rice, the river running nearly dry in the hot months.

Gardens.

8. Garden cultivation does not seem much sought after, there being very few gardens. The best are met with in kasaba Periyapatna and the neighbouring villages; in kasaba Chilkunda and also in some of the Inam villages of the Chilkunda magani. They consist chiefly of areca and betel-creeper, cocoanuts and plantains.

Rates of assessment.

9. The following table gives the average rates as at present paid for the various kinds of land and are the mean of several hundreds of survey fields, the particulars of which were noted at the test of the village when Shanbhogs were present:—

Magani.	Rate per Acre
	Dry.			Wet.			Garden.
	Rs.	As.	P.	Rs.	As.	P.	Rs.	As.	P.
Heggandur	0	10	10	2	0	0	5	6	0
Periyapatna	0	10	10	2	10	0	5	10	0

The Shanbhogs of the Chilkunda magani not having been present at test I was unable to note the rates now in force in that magani. The gardens in this part of the taluk were all measured by the taluk authorities in 1867—68, and were all assessed at rates varying from Rs. 8 to Rs. 15 per acre. These are the nominal rates, but the highest rates which I found when testing was about Rs. 7 per acre.

Markets.

20. The only market towns in this part of the taluk are kasab aPeriyapatna and Kamplapur, also in the Periyapatna magani. A large number of the villages of the Heggandur magani have no market near them, those lying to the south of the Lakshmantirtha are especially badly situated in this respect, most of them having to go to Hunsur.

Roads.

11. The Periyapatna magani is especially found in roads: one road running through the southern portion of it from Hunsur to Cannanore, whilst another to the north runs to Coorg. Another road bisects these two, leading from Cannanore and South Coorg to Arkalgud and Hassan. The villages of the Heggandur magani are not quite so well off; they only have a road 10 miles long from Hunsur to Hanagod; and a large block of villages in the south-western corner have no road near to them. The villages in this part are, however, generally small, there being a great deal of jungle.

General condition of the ryots.

12. The condition of the ryots in this part of the taluk is generally good, and in the event of bad seasons they are very favorably situated on the borders of Coorg, where they can always get good pay on the European coffee estates.

From the Deputy Commissioner, Mysore District, To the Superintendent, Mysore Revenue Survey, No. 1554, dated 15th February 1884.

I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter No. 706, dated 7th instant, forwarding for opinion Deputy Superintendent's Report No. 62, dated 3rd instant, with its appendices, anent the proposed revision of the assessment of the Hunsur Taluk, Mysore District, and to state that I have carefully read Major Rutherfurd's report, and am of opinion that the proposed rates are fair.

2. In para 12 of the said report the Deputy Superintendent has proposed dividing the taluk into two groups for the reasons given therein and has proposed different rates for the respective group, the grouping of the taluk as shown in the map is certainly advantageous and advisable, and the maximum rates shown in the table annexed to that para do not appear to have been imposed to any larger extent, because the average rates shown in para 13 came to only about half of those rates.

3. The net increase, after deducting the expenditure for the remuneration of village officers and irrigation fund, is shown in para 24 to be Rs. 19,067. This does not appear to be too high a figure when we look to the extent of the taluk and the cultivation therein.

4. The increase of percentage shown in statement annexed to para 27 of Major Rutherfurd's report though startling at first sight pacifies one's mind when the average rates given therein are looked upon. This increase, I am led to believe, was in consequence of the holdings being what they are called "Kadim lands" where the extent is generally far more than what is shown in the accounts.

5. The enclosures of your letter under reply are herewith returned.

No. 264-74—3, DATED 17TH APRIL 1884.

ORDER THEREON.—The papers read above relate to the proposed settlement of the Hunsur Taluk of the Mysore District. The advantages of the taluk are its roads, a fairly large number of markets, adequate and timely rain-fall, a good soil on the whole, the very best grazing perhaps in the whole Province and consequently superior breeds of cattle. Its great drawback is the general bad health, malarious fever being prevalent everywhere. In the jungle tracts in the south and west of the taluk, and in the villages through which the irrigating channels run, this type of fever is present almost throughout the year. But the taluk, on the whole, is in a prosperous condition and it was unaffected by the great famine of 1877—79. The very light assessment, and, in some cases, almost nominal rates, must have materially helped the large increased cultivation noticed after the famine, for, unlike other taluks having greater population than Hunsur, it has comparatively very little cultivable waste.

2. Wet cultivation is not as much as might be expected: there are numerous tanks and several channels are drawn from the Lakshamanatirtha river: the superior dry soil, its larger yield as compared with the yield from wet lands, and the system of double crop taken from it, must, to some extent, explain the indifference to rice and garden cultivation.

3. For the purpose of settlement the taluk has been divided into two groups with reference to the imperial roads and principal lines of communications as bases, the Deputy Superintendent holding it unnecessary to attend to the climate and rain-fall as the variations in them are very slight. The first group consists of the villages in the centre of the taluk, situated to the north and south, and within easy distance, of the two main roads from Mysore to Coorg and to Cananore. The second group comprises the rest of the taluk. The grouping is fair and is approved.

4. The maximum rates recommended are as follows:—

	Dry Crop.	Rice.	Channel Rice.	Tank Garden.	Well Garden.
1st group	1 10 0	6 8 0	10 0 0	13 0 0	6 0 0
2nd group	1 6 0	6 0 0	8 0 0	12 0 0	6 0 0

These rates are fair and reasonable, and, taking into account the advantages soil, rain-fall and communications, are moderate.

5. By the application of the maximum rates, the average rates obtained, though somewhat higher than the old rates, compare favorably with the prevailing rates of other taluks recently settled. The rates proposed give an average per acre as follows :—

	Rs.	As.	P.
Dry land	0	10	9
Rice land	3	8	4
Garden land	4	4	10

These rates are in themselves very moderate and will be received with satisfaction by the ryots.

6. The increase of total revenue from the occupied area will however be considerable as shown below :—

	Old Revenue.	Survey Revenue.
Dry Crop	71,734	96,389
Rice	24,800	31,001
Garden	11,844	13,055
Total...	1,08,378	1,40,445

It is satisfactory that the increase of revenue from dry lands is more than 7[illegible] per cent of the total increase.

7. After deducting the allotments for the remuneration of the village officer and the irrigation fund, a net increase of revenue of about Rs. 19,000 per annum may be expected, but this is likely to be reduced to some extent by relinquishment of land now held on little or no assessment.

8. The Dewan is satisfied that the increase of revenue from lands of all descriptions is not due to any enhancement of existing rates but to the actual area under cultivation being brought to account by the survey. The rates adopted are in themselves extremely moderate, and His Highness' Government, therefore sanctions the introduction of the proposed settlement with the usual guarantee for 30 years.

No. 297-305—6, DATED BANGALORE, 17TH APRIL 1884.

ORDER.—The Deputy Commissioner's attention is drawn to the Proceedings dated 23rd November 1878, No. 7005—75, which lays down the general rule that where water is supplied to lands in Inam villages by irrigation channels constructed by Government, an uniform rate of four rupees per acre should be levied.

2. Cases in which this rule may be found to be hard will be reported by the Deputy Commissioners for orders of Government, specifying the peculiar circumstances of the individual case which require exceptional arrangement.

No. 519-27—10, DATED BANGALORE, 22ND APRIL 1884.

ORDER.—The Dewan concurs in the view taken by the Deputy Commissioner and sanctions the remission of a loom tax on the mulberry growers who may spin silk of their own cocoons. When however the wheels are more than what may be required for the individual's own cocoons or in other words when he is a professional spinner more than an agriculturist growing mulberry, the tax should be collected. A very careful enquiry by a responsible officer of no less a standing than an Amildar or his Sheristadar should precede before actual remission of the tax.

ORDER THEREON.—Religious and charitable institutions used as such will be exempted from the house-tax.

2. The residence within the premises of the managers of the institutions, or inferior servants, such as sweepers &c., or of travellers, will not be regarded as a use of the premises for other than religious and charitable purposes.

READ—

Docket No. 887, dated 3rd December 1883, from the Deputy Commissioner, Bangalore District.

No. 624-33—13, DATED 24TH APRIL 1884.

ORDER THEREON.—The rules prescribed in the Proceedings of Government dated 15th November 1883, No. 4349-55—77, directing the attachment and management of inam villages for default of payment of the Government revenue due thereon, were adopted after full consideration in view to benefit the inamdars as well as to secure the interests of Government, and they must be strictly adhered to.

2. As regards the shareholders in the villages who have paid their portion of the Government demand, and protest against the resumption in consequence of the default of other shareholders, it must be observed that the inam villages as far as Government interests are concerned are entire villages subject to Government jodi, for the payment of which the whole body of shareholders are collectively liable. Each individual shareholder is not separately liable to Government for his share of the Government jodi. It is in his option to pay up the entire demand and thereby save the village from attachment, looking to the defaulting shareholders for reimbursing himself.

3. The cost of management referred to in Section VI of the Notification 271, dated 15th November 1883, is fixed at 2 per centum of the gross revenue actually realized. The revenue should be assessed and collected in the same way as if the village under management were a Government village.

Letter No. 516 of the 13th January 1882 from the Deputy Commissioner of Kadur submitting proposals for the settlement of the coffee lands belonging to the Kalasa temple.

Letters Nos. 878 and 784 of the 5th January 1883 and 10th March 1884 respectively from the Superintendent of Revenue Survey with enclosures.

No. 683-4—6, DATED 25TH APRIL 1884.

ORDER THEREON.—The temple of Kalasa in the Kadur District had a large extent of uttár lands which have been resumed, giving it, instead thereof, a fixed annual money grant. Besides the uttár lands, the temple is in possession of large forest tracts, parts of which have been planted with coffee by lessees from the temple. The forests contain valuable sandal trees also.

2. Under the sannads and other documents belonging to the institution, its right to the forests and to the sandal in them is beyond dispute. The revenue from the coffee is credited to the temple, and the tracts are held by planters under contracts granted in the name of the temple. As regards sandal, however, it appears that the temple has not received any revenue for the last 12 years. Prior to 1870—71 it is evident that the temple received this item of revenue. Under what circumstances it was suddenly stopped, it is not clear; the Temple Shekdar explains that the Government which reserved to itself the right of collecting sandal and paying the temple its value, did not, during the last 10 or 12 years, make any collection. However this may be, the right of the temple to the sandal is unquestionable, and both the Deputy Commissioner and the Superintendent, Revenue Survey, recommend the ontinuance of the right, holding that the non-payment for 12 years should not be onsidered a lapse of the clear right of the temple. The Dewan is quite of this pinion.

3. The further question is whether, as in the case of uttár wet and garden lands, hese forest tracts also should not be resumed and a money annual grant substituted The managers and others interested in the temple, which is of great note in that part of he country, complain bitterly against such an arrangement. This, in the opinion of Government, will practically amount to confiscation, as the proposed resumption is unauthorized, the validity of the inam itself being beyond question.

4. The inam in question should therefore be clearly demarcated and confirmed to he temple, on the distinct understanding that a settlement of all coffee lands, in accordance with the Rules of 2nd August 1881, will be forthwith introduced and strictly adhered to. The coffee holdings will therefore be duly demarcated and assessed, the itle-deeds or pattas being issued by the Deputy Commissioner in the name of the emple.

5. As regards the sandal, it is advantageous to the temple and safe as regards he more important interests of Government to have it periodically collected by the Government agency and sold along with the Government sandal, the proceeds after deducting the cost of collection being credited to the temple funds.

6. The temple is of note as already stated, and has a very fair income. It is necessary therefore that its funds should be in safe hands and economically administered. The Amildar, as suggested by the Deputy Commissioner, should therefore be directed o inspect the temple and examine its accounts and submit a report upon its existing management and financial condition, which, together with the opinion of the Deputy Commissioner on the adequacy or otherwise of the present arrangement and his proposals for its improvement, should be submitted for orders.

Letter No. 11 of the 7th April 1884 from the Superintendent of Revenue Survey submitting a report on the claims of the Dattatreyapitha Darga and the Bisiagni Matt to the coffee lands belonging to them.

No. 710-11—7, DATED 28TH APRIL 1884.

ORDER THEREON.—The claim of the Bisiagni Matt to the lands in the villages of Kolgavi and Hogrehalli was rejected by the Inam Superintendent in July 1880. As regards the lands in Hogrehalli, the order for their resumption has been carried out, and they have been assessed by Government, but no action has yet been taken upon the decision of the Inam Department as regards the lands in Kolgavi. Having regard to the antiquity of the Matt and to its long reputed enjoyment of the lands, His Highness' Government is prepared to revise the decision arrived at in the Inam Department in July 1880, but the papers submitted do not contain any evidence of the extent which the Matt is entitled to enjoy as inam.

2. The claim of the Dattatreyapitha Bababudan Darga to the lands included in the new village of Dattatreyapitha is indeed even weaker. The Nirup of 1829 shows that the makandar is entitled only to the coffee grown within the makan enclosure, and that lands outside that enclosure should be treated as sarkar land, liable to pay to Government a moiety of the produce in accordance with the revenue system then in force. The Nirup of 1831 refers to encroachments by the makandar on the lands of the village of Attigonda. Thus it is quite clear that a great part of what is now claimed by the makandar is sarkar land upon which he has encroached from time to time.

3. As regards both the Dattatreyapitha and the Bisiagni inams there is nothing to show how or when they came into existence, nor is there any reference to them in the Jari account, nor any record whatever of their bijavari or assessment. There was practically no check to encroachments owing to the lands being in an inaccessible part of the country and covered with jungle, and, judging from the age of the coffee standing on the lands claimed, there is no doubt that the greater part of these encroachments has taken place within the last 50 years. After the discontinuance of the system of sharing the produce, the coffee produced in the lands in question has always paid halat duty to Government. Under such circumstances the proper course would be to resume these inams, but having regard to the importance and the antiquity of the institutions by which they are now enjoyed and the length of time over which such enjoyment has extended, His Highness' Government decide not to apply the ordinary rules to them but to deal with them in a spirit of reasonable liberality by confirming to them the inams in question on an equitable quit-rent, subject however to the establishment of proper guarantees for the protection of the rights of inferior holders.

4. At present the institutions in question are supposed to levy 3 seers per maund of coffee produced within these lands, but their income from this source is, owing to mismanagement, very inconsiderable. The system itself is most unsatisfactory to all concerned. The best arrangement, under the circumstances, is to fix upon the lands in question a money assessment in accordance with the Rules of 2nd August 1881 after due consideration of the circumstances of each estate or garden, and upon the same principles as would regulate the assessment of similar Government lands. The occupants of coffee lands will hold from the inamdars upon the same terms as are granted by Government to permanent holders of coffee lands. The assessment thus fixed will be binding upon the Matt and the Darga who must be debarred from altering it hereafter.

5. Subject to these conditions and to the payment of an annual quit-rent of ¼th of the survey valuation, the inams will be confirmed to the Matt and the Darga.

6. The Superintendent of Revenue Survey reports that the rate of Rs. 1—8—0 per acre is too high for the coffee lands in Hogrehalli. The Deputy Commissioner will report through the Superintendent of Survey, what other permanent rate will in his opinion be suitable.

7. The Deputy Commissioner is further requested to explain the orders above passed to the managers of the Matt and the Darga, to furnish them with a copy thereof, and to inform them that the proposed confirmation of the inams is a special act of concession intended to maintain the prestige of the institutions in question, and to provide sufficient funds for the due performance of the religious and charitable duties devolving upon them, and that its final sanction is dependent upon their acceptance of, and adherence to, the conditions above laid down.

8. The Deputy Commissioner will proceed to introduce the settlement as soon as practicable, furnishing the Inam Superintendent, on the completion thereof, with detailed statements showing the extent and assessment fixed.

9. The Deputy Commissioner is further authorized to retain the lands in question under his management for 2 or 3 years in order to ensure the complete introduction of the settlement and the final adjustment of the various petty disputes between the superior and inferior holders.

The Budget Estimates of the Mysore Municipality for the year 1884—85.

CAMP No. 10, DATED 4TH APRIL 1884.

ORDER THEREON.—The Budget of the Mysore Municipality for 1884—85 estimates the receipts at Rs. 67,200, and provides for an expenditure of the same amount. Before passing final orders on this Budget, the Dewan desires to make the following observations for the consideration of the Municipal Commissioners in view to their revising the Budget Estimates with reference to them.

2. As regards receipts, the Government will be prepared to forego its share of the octroi duty collected on cocoanuts and betel-leaves, provided it is shown satisfactorily that the funds available from present sources are not sufficient for purposes of sanitation and conservancy.

3. The large sum of Rs. 25,214, which the Municipality contributes for the maintenance of the Town Police is admittedly a charge which should be borne by the Provincial revenue, other charges of a more appropriate nature aggregating to the same amount being however transferred to the Municipality; but it is not the Dewan's wish in the present condition of the Board to burden it with additional duties of any kind. Indeed any such addition to the duties of the Mysore Municipal Board will be most inexpedient so long as the first duties of a Municipality, such as sanitation and conservancy, remain unfulfilled as is now the case in this town. There appears to be no proper distribution of work among the different members of the Board, and the ex-officio officers and the paid servants of the Board have not, it is feared, fully realized the present unsatisfactory sanitary condition of the town. Unless the ex-officio officers will invest the non-official members of the Board with definite functions, it is not likely that the latter can be made to take any interest in measures connected with the improvement of the town.

4. The establishments entertained by the Board appear to be in some cases in excess of actual requirements, and in other cases rather out of proportion to the results produced. The octroi establishment costs about Rs. 5,000 per annum. As the old Daroga has now been retired, the pay of the new man appointed may be somewhat reduced. The establishment of Musharuffs and Peons costing about Rs. 3,500 per annum is probably too large. If the Board are of opinion that this establishment cannot be reduced, the Dewan desires to be furnished with a statement showing their distribution and employment.

5. About the cost of the mohatarfa establishment being excessive, there can be no doubt whatever. For, including the Assessor's pay, the cost of this establishment is about Rs. 2,500 per annum, while the amount of the taxes collected on houses, shops, &c., is only about Rs. 18,000. Under a simplified system of demand and collection a much smaller establishment than 12 Mutsaddis and 12 Peons would be amply sufficient. The assessment of the taxes should be made not by a paid Assessor but by the Board, and as the official who is now the Assessor will soon be employed elsewhere, the Board will, it is hoped, be able to make more economical arrangements for the duties of demand and collection.

6. The office establishment is also capable of some little reduction.

7. The conservancy establishment is not too large for the requirements of Mysore. But the work actually done by the establishment is indeed very small. More systematic supervision of the working of this establishment is obviously necessary. This defect is to be remedied not by increased establishment, but by the division of the duty of supervision among the various members of the Board and by constant inspection by the President and Vice-President.

8. The expenditure on account of public works supervision is put down at Rs. 1,380, without any details. It is understood that Rs. 60 per mensem is incurred on this account. Hereafter if an Overseer on Rs. 35 is appointed, the monthly cost may be increased to Rs 95. Under such circumstances, an explanation is requested why Rs. 1,380 is entered.

9. Lighting charges are put down at Rs. 5,000. It is calculated upon the basis of the agreement entered into with the Lighting Contractor that these charges would amount to only Rs. 2,787—12—0. The increased provision under this head should therefore be explained.

10. A sum of Rs. 3,558 is entered under 'Repairs' including probably drains, roads and wells. But the provision for Original works—Rs. 1,000—is most inadequate and should be considerably increased by means of reductions under other heads already referred to. If, in this way, provision for all required works of an ordinary kind cannot be made, the unexpended balance of previous years' revenues should be utilized, and, if necessary still further, application should be made for a grant from Government to the extent of the Government share of the octroi levied on cocoanuts and betel-leaves.

11. It is noticed that under Receipts, no provision is made for the income by sale of municipal rubbish. Every Municipality derives a considerable income from this source, and it should be explained why a large Municipality like Mysore secures no similar income.

12. The sale proceeds of market stalls give a considerable income elsewhere. The arrangement under which no sales are apparently held in this town should be explained.

13. Mr. S. Lee, who has been appointed Sanitary Engineer, has been requested to confer with the Board and give his advice and help to enable the Board to carry out the required measures of sanitation and general improvement. The Board in the present state of their finances will not be called upon to contribute any portion of his pay.

14. The Superintendent of the Mysore Jail will also lend to the Municipality one hundred convicts from Monday next.

15. It is hoped that with these aids, the President and the Vice-President will be able by their own greater exertion, as well as by securing the co-operation of the members of the Board, to carry out immediately the drainage of the fort, the cleaning of all existing sources of water-supply, the improvement of Púrnaiya's Nullah, the levelling and planting of the glacis of the fort and other measures of general improvement.

16. Practical work in the direction indicated should commence at once, the action taken being reported for the information of Government as soon as possible.

Secretary.

Letters from the President, Bangalore Town Municipal Commission, No. 663 of 22nd February 1884, submitting the Budget Estimates of the Town Municipality for the year 1884-85.

Also letter from the President, Bangalore Town Municipal Commission, noted in the margin, regarding the Land Revenue and Public Works Department contributions and the proposed introduction of wheel-tax, &c., to the Town Municipality and the appointment of a Municipal Executive Engineer for it.

No. 540-42—36, DATED 23RD APRIL 1884.

ORDER THEREON.—Receipts.—The total estimated income of the Bangalore Town Municipality for the year 1884-85 is Rs. 91,976. There is reason to believe that this is rather an over estimate, for under "III—Tax on Professions and Trades," an increase of over Rs. 10,000, as compared with the actuals of 1882-83, is entered. The revision of the mohatarfa has long been the source of bitter complaint from all the inhabitants of Bangalore. Instructions have had to be issued for its revision and it is understood that such revision has not yet been completed. With its completion the revenue from this source may probably not amount to more than Rs. 20,000 or 22,000; and the provision of Rs. 3,000 under "Reserve" is not likely to be sufficient to meet this deficit.

2. It is proposed to levy a tax on carriages, horses, &c., and the estimated income therefrom is Rs. 2,000. The Government are of opinion that the imposition of a tax of this kind for the purpose of securing so small a revenue is at present undesirable.

3. In Proceedings No. 919-22—67, dated 27th May 1883, it was ordered that Rs. 3,500 on account of the maintenance of suburban roads, and Rs. 5,000, the land revenue realized within municipal limits, should both be withheld from the Municipality. The order was passed upon the ground that the Board had been relieved of the cost of the Police amounting to Rs. 26,578, and that the expenditure transferred to it in lieu thereof was only Rs. 17,811. It now appears that on account of the expenditure transferred to the Municipality by the said order a provision of Rs. 22,500 has had to be made by the Municipality. To this has to be added a sum of Rs. 2,400 on account of a grant-in-aid which the Municipality propose to give to a hospital to be established by the Catholic Mission. Under such circumstances, the total expenditure on account of the new Departments transferred to the Board would amount to nearly Rs. 25,000, being only Rs. 1,500 below the cost of the Police, of which it was relieved in May last. Having regard to these considerations, as well as to the present limited municipal income, the Government decide to continue to the Municipality the two items of receipts, viz., (1) land revenue within municipal limits and (2) contribution for suburban roads.

4. The estimate of receipts will thus be reduced to Rs. 87,976. But owing to the revision of the mohatarfa tax, now in progress, the actual realizations are likely to be considerably below this amount.

5. Expenditure.—The budget provides for an estimated expenditure of Rs. 93,844 against an estimated income of Rs. 91,976. It is undesirable that, in an ordinary year, the Municipality should spend anything more than its income, which, in the current year, as already stated, must be considerably under Rs. 87,900. The proposed expenditure must accordingly be revised and reduced under all heads to what is absolutely required.

6. It will thus be seen that the present financial condition of the Municipality does not admit of additions to the existing establishments, but rather indicates the necessity for reduction in that direction. The provision made in the budget for increase of pay to existing establishments as well as for additional establishment, is as follows :—

Increase to Manager's pay	Rs. 15
Do Executive Engineer's pay	10
Do to 2 Overseers at Rs. 5 each	10
Do to Accountant and Head Clerk .. .	5
A new Accountant	10
A new Daffadar	7
A new Clerk	10
A new Lighting Overseer	15
A new Watchman at Municipal Burial-ground	5
Total	Rs. 87 per mensem or Rs. 1,044 per annum.

7. These increases and new appointments do not appear to be urgently called for. The so called Assessor, Collector and Manager is not, by law, authorized to assess, and his designation should be altered to that of Collector and Ex-Officio Manager. The individual now holding this appointment received his promotion 2 years ago and the present condition of the finances of the Municipality does not allow of any of its officers receiving periodical increments, though continuing in the same appointment.

8. Mr. Steele, the Engineer, does not possess the professional qualifications which alone can justify his appointment to the office he now holds. The Government therefore must decline to appoint him as Executive Engineer under the Regulation. The majority of the Board also concur in the undesirability of this appointment, and, after due consideration of the points urged by the President, the Government have come to the conclusion that it is not proper to appoint as an Executive Engineer, a man ignorant of surveying and drawing. Mr. S. Lee has been appointed by Government as Sanitary Engineer, and his services have been placed at the disposal of the Board, to be utilized by it as its Engineer. The appointment of an Overseer in addition, on about half the salary now recommended for Mr. Steele, is all that appears to be necessary. If the President will direct Mr. Steele to report himself to the D. P. W. Secretary, his professional qualifications will be enquired into, and arrangements made for his appointment elsewhere. His pay after 1st June 1884 ought not to come from the Municipality as an Executive Engineer. The President will be requested to confer with the D. P. W. and report, with the opinion of the Board, about the most feasible arrangement for the appointment of an Executive Engineer for the Municipality.

9. Before the budget can be finally passed, the Board will be asked to again consider the details of expenditure under every head, and, with reference to the preceding remarks and the general financial condition of the Municipality, to report definitely what reductions are possible in order to make income and expenditure balance each other. The ordinary work of conservancy, sanitation and maintenance of roads and drains will, in the meantime, proceed in the manner provided for in the budget now returned for revision.

ORDER THEREON.—With the first of the letters read above, the Deputy Commissioner submits a bill for Rs. 18 on behalf of B. Kesavaiengar, Amildar of the Shikarpur Taluk, on account of batta for having travelled to and from Shimoga to give evidence before the Sessions Court; and enquires whether he is entitled to this batta in addition to the fixed travelling allowance of Rs. 20 per mensem sanctioned to each 5th grade Amildar.

2. The travelling allowance of Rs. 20 sanctioned to 5th grade Amildars is intended to cover their expenses when travelling in the interior of their Taluks on public duty. The batta claimed by Kesavaiengar, Amildar of Shikarpur, being for a different purpose, viz., for the journey made beyond his taluk, the same is sanctioned and the bill forwarded to the Comptroller for audit.

3. As regards the enquiry contained in the 2nd communication quoted above, viz., whether or not a Taluk sheristadar or other official acting for an Amildar of the 5th grade, during the latter's absence on privilege leave, is entitled to the said fixed travelling allowance, the Dewan observes that an Amildar on privilege or other leave is not entitled to the consolidated travelling allowance and hence it is payable to the incumbent whether he is appointed to act for an Amildar of the 5th grade or placed in charge of a Taluk, the permanent incumbent of which is an Amildar of the 5th grade.

From the Superintendent, Government Gardens, Bangalore, To the Secretary to the Dewan of Mysore, No. 124, dated 22nd March 1884.

I have the honor to submit the enclosed paper—with its English translation—bearing on the uses of "Kapok" and its value as an article of commerce in Europe, for the information of Government.

2. The tree that furnishes the important article "Kapok" is indigenous to the forests of Mysore, where it is known by the vernacular names Bili Búrgadamara (Can.), Púr (Telu.), Elevam (Tam.), and white silk cotton tree (Eng). The large capsular fruits are filled with seeds and cotton, the latter being much used in various parts of the Province for stuffing and tinder. The cotton is collected at Bangalore and elsewhere for sale, but the supplies are never large, and probably insufficient to meet the local demand for the article.

3. The tree is admirably adapted for cultivation on an extensive scale, as it requires no pampered treatment, and offers a quick return.

4. Fruiting commences in the fourth year, and goes on uninterruptedly for a long period.

Kapok.

The staple kapok, which is now an article of trade, comes for the greater part from the Dutch East Indies. During the last few years the import into this country (Holland) has become of some importance as shown in the following statistics :—

Proceedings of the Dewan to His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore, (General),—dated 21st April 1884.

In our country the consumption has steadily increased and in Germany and Belgium is the same. One difficulty, and a very great one in importing kapok, consists in its enormous bulk, and the costs of transport are consequently too heavy, making it almost impossible to ship it by steamer. This difficulty has now been provided against by the new kapok press constructed by the firm of Stork and Co. at Hengelo. According to the calculations of that firm a bale of 65 kilo= to 140 lbs. English would give a profit on freight of F. 17 equal to £ 2—8—4 English, or 26 cents=$5\frac{1}{2}d$ per lb. Putting the average price of cleaned kapok at 40 cents=8*ds*, this means a difference of 30 per cent. The advantage consists not only in the difference in price, but in the possibility to ship regularly by steamer which will put an end to the great fluctuations in the price, which so unfavorably affect the disposal, or importation of the article, especially abroad. The cost of warehousing, which at present is very heavy, will also be greatly reduced as in the same space three times the quantity can now be put.

From Ceylon and Calcutta, kapok of a considerably inferior class has been imported for the last two years, packed in the above manner.

In the Dutch East Indies the kapok is cultivated either in regular gardens, or as an avenue, along the road sides. The propagation can be done from seed, or from cuttings. They are generally planted at a distance of 18 feet. Cuttings are preferred as they bear crops sooner. For cuttings, only the stem can be used, no branches. The number of fruits per tree amount to as many as 1,500 per year.

These fruits yield 22 per cent pure kapok.
29 per cent seeds.
49 per cent refuse.

The yield of a "Bouw" of land amounts to about F 400 Dutch=£ 33 sterling.

Kapok is imported cleaned and uncleaned. A couple of years ago several shipments proved to be very much mixed with sand and earth. The utmost care should be taken that the kapok is packed dry, if not it heats, cakes, discolors and loses very much in the manipulation here. For the filling of beds, mattresses, and for stuffing, the kapok is the most useful of all the materials used at present. Its lightness, softness, elasticity and non-liability to the attacks of moths, give it the preference to feathers, wool, or hair. That the number of articles stuffed with it is very great, is proved by the fact that nearly all the imported kapok is used for that purpose.

The merchants in horse hair, feathers, and wool, oppose the use of kapok strongly, as they can make a much greater profit on the former articles.

For the same purpose more feathers, hair, or wool, are required than kapok, and as the prices are also higher, there is a large percentage of profit, but notwithstanding this very natural opposition, kapok has, in our country, to a very great extent, beaten the other articles, and it is also making its way in Germany and Belgium. The seeds or kernels of kapok yield a valuable oil, and oil cakes are easily disposed of as cattle food.

Although badly prepared, kapok has been used for many years in India (Dutch) for the stuffing of mattresses and from time to time very small and badly prepared quantities have found their way here and been used for stuffing beds and mattresses; my firm has about 20 years ago imported, and introduced to the trade, large quantities of kapok.

Simultaneously with these importations, means had to be found for retailing kapok well prepared, cleaned, and carded. In this also my firm has completely succeeded, and several manufacturers have so successfully followed my example, that at present about eight establishments for its preparation exist. As a curiosity I can also mention that some years ago I have had some kapok spun into yarn and dyed, and sent the articles to the Colonial Museum of the Industrial Association at Haarlem. As regards the quality of this kapok the Association has not yet given its final opinion.

The yield of a "Bouw" of land amounts to about F 400 Dutch=£ 33 sterling.

Kapok is imported cleaned and uncleaned. A couple of years ago several shipments proved to be very much mixed with sand and earth. The utmost care should be taken that the kapok is packed dry, if not it heats, cakes, discolors and loses very much in the manipulation here. For the filling of beds, mattresses, and for stuffing, the kapok is the most useful of all the materials used at present. Its lightness, softness, elasticity and non-liability to the attacks of moths, give it the preference to feathers, wool, or hair. That the number of articles stuffed with it is very great, is proved by the fact that nearly all the imported kapok is used for that purpose.

The merchants in horse hair, feathers, and wool, oppose the use of kapok strongly, as they can make a much greater profit on the former articles.

For the same purpose more feathers, hair, or wool, are required than kapok, and as the prices are also higher, there is a large percentage of profit, but notwithstanding this very natural opposition, kapok has, in our country, to a very great extent, beaten the other articles, and it is also making its way in Germany and Belgium. The seeds or kernels of kapok yield a valuable oil, and oil cakes are easily disposed of as cattle food.

Although badly prepared, kapok has been used for many years in India (Dutch) for the stuffing of mattresses and from time to time very small and badly prepared quantities have found their way here and been used for stuffing beds and mattresses; my firm has about 20 years ago imported, and introduced to the trade, large quantities of kapok.

Simultaneously with these importations, means had to be found for retailing kapok well prepared, cleaned, and carded. In this also my firm has completely succeeded, and several manufacturers have so successfully followed my example, that at present about eight establishments for its preparation exist. As a curiosity I can also mention that some years ago I have had some kapok spun into yarn and dyed, and sent the articles to the Colonial Museum of the Industrial Association at Haarlem. As regards the quality of this kapok the Association has not yet given its final opinion.

Letter No. 458—325, dated 25th July 1883 from the Deputy Commissioner, Shimoga, reporting the great difficulty experienced in making proper Police arrangements for the Inam village of Ganja and soliciting the issue of definite ruling on the subject.

No. 618-23—12, DATED BANGALORE, 24TH APRIL 1884.

ORDER THEREON.—When the inamdar of a whole village fails after due warnings to make satisfactory arrangements as regards Police duties of his village by the appointment of a competent Police Patel, or Head of the Village Police, the Deputy Commissioner must select a competent resident villager as Patel and entrust to him the Police duties of the village. The remuneration for such Patel should be fixed at a reasonable amount not exceeding $\frac{1}{2}$ of the remuneration which the Patel would be entitled to receive in accordance with the scale sanctioned for Government villages. The inamdars will be bound to pay the remuneration thus fixed yearly and it will be collected like the Government demand of jodi.

II. If the Deputy Commissioner deems it more expedient to add the Police charge of the Inam village to that of the Patel of a neighbouring Government village, such an arrangement may be made, and the separate appointment of a Police Patel for the Inam village may be dispensed with.

The remuneration to the Patel of a Government village for the Police charge of an Inam village should be fixed and collected as above specified.

III. If the Inamdars of Ganja persist in their failure to appoint a Police Patel for their village, the Deputy Commissioner will take steps to make an appointment under these orders.

Proceedings of the Dewan to His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore, (Revenue),—dated 14th May 1884.

READ—

Letter No. 76—57, dated 25th April last, from the Deputy Commissioner, Shimoga District, reporting on the petition of Nanjappa and other Kavádigas of Godikoppa, Shimoga Taluk, regarding the imposition of a shop tax of 2 Rs. on them for selling milk and butter in the Shimoga town.

No. 1040-8—22, DATED BANGALORE, 14TH MAY 1884.

ORDER THEREON.—Persons who bring milk and butter from neighbouring villages into Shimoga for sale, cannot be said to keep a shop, and they are therefore not liable to pay the shop tax. Professional taxes have all been long since abolished, but it is feared that in many places persons, like the Shimoga milk-sellers, are required to pay what is really a professional tax under the erroneous designation of a shop tax. All Deputy Commissioners and Sub-Division Officers should enquire into this question and report the extent to which persons, who really keep no shops, are required to pay a shop tax for exercising a profession. The amount of tax levied from such persons in each taluk should be separately reported.

R. VIJAYINDRA RAO,
Secretary.

To—The Deputy Commissioner, Shimoga District.
Other Deputy Commissioners of Districts and Sub-Division Officers.

From the Deputy Commissioner, Bangalore, To the Secretary to the Dewan, No. 1058, dated Bangalore, 30th January 1884.

Dewan's Official Memo No. 596 of the 4th ultimo, calling for report regarding the Rasul Sha Makan land in the Hoskote Taluk.

With reference to the above has the honor to state that from the accompanying correspondence it will be seen that the* land in possession of the petitioner has several rates the average of which is Rs. 1—9—6 per kudu, and the kandayam levied by the mortgagee from the ryots amounts to Rs. 71—11—4 including local cess of Rs. 4—3—6.

*Measuring 2 khandis, 2 kulus and 5½ pádis.

2. The average rate of the neighbouring land is Rs. 1—9—3 per kudu.

3. The above sum, as full assessment, the makandar has been allowed to recover from the mortgagee under orders conveyed in Proceedings No. 2228—120, dated 23rd June 1882.

4. The enclosures of the memo under reference are herewith returned.

No. 1406-15—29, DATED BANGALORE, 31ST MAY 1884.

ORDER THEREON.—The Deputy Commissioner appears to have fixed the annual assessment payable by the alienee at Rs. 71—11—4, and bases his calculation upon the actual extent of the alienated lands and the actual rates which sub-tenants have contracted to pay to the alienee.

2. If the inam tenure of the alienated lands had been resumed, the lands would have been assessed as Government lands, and the alienee would have become an occupant under Government, paying the prescribed assessment to Government. The orders of 23rd June 1882, No. 2228—120, were not intended to place the alienee in a worse position than he would be if the inam tenure had been resumed ; those orders only intended that instead of the lands being resumed and the assessment thereon at Government rates being paid to Government, the makan should enjoy the inam, and the alienee the possession of the lands, the latter paying to the makan the proper assessment at Government rates.

3. The makandar can, therefore, (in the absence of a detailed survey and settlement) only levy such kandayam on the lands in question as may be recorded for them in the old accounts showing the beriz of the village. If such accounts are not forthcoming, the kandayam should be fixed in accordance with Government rates for lands of equal quality in this and neighbouring Government villages. The Deputy Commissioner will institute needful enquiries and pass his final order fixing the amount of assessment leviable on the lands in question in accordance with the principles above laid down, and the alienee will be bound to pay such assessment to the makan, whatever may be the rent payable to him by his sub-tenants.

R. VIJAYINDRA RAO,
Secretary.

To—The Deputy Commissioner, Bangalore District.
„ Inam Superintendent.
„ Other Deputy Commissioners.
„ Assistant Commissioners of Sub-Divisions.

6. Mr. Rozario is appointed Store-keeper and Tester at Bangalore on Rs. 40 on probation.

7. The menial servants to be retired at once are as follows :—

Mysore...	...	1	Daffedar, 1, Nayik, 4 Peons on Rs. 7 and 2 Peons on Rs. 6. The Deputy Commissioner may however transfer to Bangalore two Peons on Rs. 6 if willing and efficient.
Chikmagalur and Chitaldroog	...	2	Peons on Rs. 6 and 4 Peons on Rs. 5.
	...	2	Peons on Rs. 6 and 4 Peons on Rs. 5.

8. The subordinate officials at present employed at the various District and Sub-Division Head-Quarters outside the Nundydroog Division, and the Testers required for those places under the new system, are shown below :—

	Present Subordinate Officials.		Testers required.
Mysore ...	Tester on	Rs. 30	Tester on Rs.	25+10=35
	Mutsaddi on	Rs. 30

	Mutsaddi	... 20
	Tester	... 15

9. Most of the present officials above referred to are probably unfit for the proper discharge of the duties of Testers. Such of them as may be entitled to pension, or may be wholly unfit in the opinion of the District or Sub-Division Officer for the post of a Tester, should be at once retired on the pension or gratuity to which they may be entitled. An attempt should be made to select out of the others, the five Testers required. But no Tester can be permanently appointed before he receives a proper training at the Head-Quarters Distillery at Bangalore. The District or Sub-Division officer is therefore requested to select out of the officials above named such as are fit for further duty in the Excise Department, to retain one for duty as Tester and send the others to Bangalore for training. If the men thus sent learn their work, they will be sent back as Testers and the others on duty will be withdrawn for training. If they are reported to be unfit for the post of Tester they must be required to retire.

10. It has for some time past been under contemplation to increase the pay of the Head Supervisor, but the question has had to be deferred till the termination of the last contract. Mr. McDonnell has worked with his usual energy and zeal during the past three years, and it is owing chiefly to his exertions that the excise revenue of the Nundydroog Division is in such a flourishing condition. As some recognition of his services in the past and in accordance with the precedent of 1882, the Dewan is pleased to sanction for him a bonus of six months' pay equivalent to Rs. 720. A bonus of three months' pay is also sanctioned for the subordinate establishments under him in the Nundydroog Division including the Testers of Bangalore, Tumkur and Kolar.

No. 885-7—4, DATED 5TH MAY 1884.

ORDER.—The re-organization of the Medical establishments in the Province has been under the consideration of His Highness the Maharaja's Government since the Rendition. At that time, a complete and immediate re-organization was contemplated, but in recognition of the inconvenience to all parties which would be caused by the reversion of a number of Medical subordinates to the Madras Government without previous notice, the Resident was of opinion that the proposed re-organization might be deferred for another year. He accordingly intimated to the Madras Government in a letter dated 31st March 1881, that, on the expiration of the official year 1881—82, it would be necessary for the Madras Medical subordinates employed in Mysore, except such as might elect for the local medical service, to revert to Madras. On 4th May 1881, the Madras Government asked for a list of those Medical subordinats who might elect the local service of the Mysore Government. No steps have since been taken in this direction, and the question of contribution required to be paid to the British Government on account of the leave allowances and the pensions of the officials concerned is pressing for early decision. There must, under these circumstances, be no further delay in deciding upon a suitable scheme for the local medical service.

2. His Highness' Government have given to this subject their very careful consideration, and they are of opinion that a medical service composed chiefly of duly qualified Natives is the one best suited for the requirements of a Province like Mysore.

3. The services of the three Covenanted Medical officers of the British service, now serving in Mysore, have been retained till the 31st March 1886. After that date, it will probably be advisable for the Mysore Government to have two European officers with high professional qualifications. One of them must be a Covenanted Medical officer of high standing in the service and he should be the head of the local Medical Department and the chief medical adviser to His Highness' Government, besides having charge of all Medical institutions and duties at Bangalore. The other may be either a junior Covenanted Medical officer, or a European carefully selected from the profession in England, and he should have charge of all medical duties at Mysore.

4. Besides these two officers, two Surgeons of local rank will be required, one for the charge of the Kadur District to be stationed at Chikmagalur, and the other for charge of the Shimoga District to be stationed at Shimoga. Of the two officers thus required, one (Mr. Lincoln) is already in the Mysore service, but is now stationed at Hassan. He should be transferred as soon as possible to Chikmagalur and placed in charge of the Kadur District. Another Honorary Surgeon of local rank is required for Shimoga.

5. Surgeons of the local service will be appointed always by selection and if possible from the local Assistant Surgeons. Local Surgeons will be of three grades, viz :—

3rd Grade on	..	..	..	Rs.	350
2nd Grade on..	..	..	..	„	450
1st Grade on ..	..	..	..	„	500

to rise from one grade to the next higher after 5 years' approved service. The salaries above specified will be regarded as full remuneration for all medical and other charges entrusted to them.

6. The next grade will be that of Assistant Surgeons. The requirements of the Province for officers of this grade are as follows :—

Bangalore—

2	For Hospital and Maternity.
1	For Stores and Asylums.
1	For Military and Railway.
1	For Head-Quarters Establishments and General duty.

Mysore—

1	For General Hospital.
1	For Female Hospital and Palace Establishments.

Hassan.. ..	one at each place.
Kolar Tumkur ..
Chitaldroog ..

Medical School—

2	Head Master and Assistant.

Total 13

7. The scale of pay for officers of the local medical service must necessarily be somewhat similar to what prevails in the neighbouring Presidencies of Madras and Bombay. Assistant Surgeons of the local service will therefore be of three grades as follows :—

I. 3rd class Assistant Surgeons on Rs. 100 per mensem, to rise to the 2nd grade after an approved service varying from 5 to 7 years according to educational attainments.

II. 2nd class Assistant Surgeons on Rs. 150 per mensem, to rise to the 1st grade after an approved service of 7 years.

III. 1st class Assistant Surgeons on Rs. 200 per mensem

8. In addition to the salary above specified, every Assistant Surgeon will be given a fixed monthly allowance of Rs. 50 for medical charge of a station or hospital and for all medical duties which may be required of him.

9. Ordinarily, all persons entering the local medical service must begin as 3rd class Assistant Surgeons. There ought to be no exception to this rule except in the case of persons who, having acquired professional experience elsewhere, may newly take service in the Province.

10. All persons to be appointed to the grade of Assistant Surgeons must have passed the Madras M. B. examination, or the L. M. S. examination of Bombay or Madras.

11. The period at the end of which an Assistant Surgeon of the 3rd grade will be qualified for promotion to the 2nd grade will be in the case of a Madras M. B. 5 years, and in the case of an L. M. S. 7 years.

12. For the immediate work of hospitals, dispensaries, camps, &c., the local service of Hospital Assistants will be continued as at present. Any official of this rank, who may give proof of superior ability and professional aptitude, may, after 7 years' approved service, be permitted to study and to pass for higher qualifications, under special arrangements as to a portion of his pay being drawn by him during the time required for study. Upon passing the necessary examination he will be eligible for promotion to the grade of Assistant Surgeons.

13. The rules regarding conditions of service, gratuities, pensions and leave applicable to the officers of the local medical service will be the same as those which apply to other officers of the Mysore public service.

14. Exclusive of the medical officers employed in the Civil and Military Station (whose names should be removed from the Mysore list as their salaries and allowances will be paid out of the Station revenues), there are now under the direct service of the Mysore Government five Apothecaries and five 1st class Assistant Apothecaries, all belonging to the Madras medical service. There are three 1st class Hospital Assistants also belonging to the Madras service; but of these three, Appasami Pille has been reported by a Medical Board to be unfit for service, and he will accordingly retire immediately. The Mysore Government are willing to retain the services of the other two, namely Mr. Arogyam Pille and Mr. Jirasamigaru, till 31st March 1886. If within that time they pass a departmental examination in the subjects prescribed for the Madras L. M. S. examination, they will be permanently appointed as Assistant Surgeons of the 3rd grade. In the meantime, they will draw an allowance of Rs. 50 in addition to their substantive pay and must pay the contribution required for securing them a British pension.

15. Besides these officers who belong to the Madras service, the Mysore Government has now in its service a Civil Surgeon on Rs. 450, a Head Master of the Medical School on Rs. 200, and an Assistant Apothecary on Rs. 100.* All these officers belong to the local service.

* Plus Rs. 20 house allowance and Rs. 30 charge allowance.

16. It will be seen from para 4 above that besides Mr. Lincoln, the Mysore Government requires only one other officer of similar rank. Mr. Sausman, who is the senior among the Madras Apothecaries in Mysore and who has given proof of his possessing qualifications required for an independent charge, will therefore be offered the appointment of Honorary Surgeon on a monthly salary of Rs. 350 as remuneration for all duties which may be required of him. If Mr. Sausman accepts this appointment, he must pay the prescribed contribution to entitle him to a British pension. The Mysore Government will pay his leave allowances, if no contribution on that account is required from him by the British Government. Mr. Sausman should be placed in charge of the Shimoga District as soon as possible.

17. Mr. Hall is also a 1st class Apothecary of standing and qualification, whose services His Highness' Government would like to retain, but there may be no appointment available for him. His name will therefore be entered in the list of Warrant officers to be returned to Madras on 31st March 1886. The Mysore Government will pay the required contribution for his pension and leave allowances till that date, and if before that an opportunity occurs, they will also offer him an appointment in the local service, similar to that now offered to Mr. Sausman.

18. The other Warrant officers of Madras have to be returned to Madras. This should, however, be effected gradually, so as to avoid all possible inconvenience to the Madras Government. As they return to Madras, their places will be taken up by Assistant Surgeons appointed to the local service, in accordance with the foregoing scheme. The Resident will accordingly be requested to move the Madras Government to arrange to take back the following Warrant officers and Hospital Assistants on or before the dates specified opposite to their names :—

1st class	Apothecary	Mr. Wright	31st October 1884.
2nd class	do	Mr. Watts
2nd class	do	Mr. Oliver

1st class Assistant Apothecary		Mr. Hellein	31st March 1885.
1st class	do	do Mr. McFarland
1st class	do	do Mr. Smith
1st class Apothecary		Mr. Hall	31st March 1886.
1st class Assistant Apothecary		Mr. Pritchard
1st class	do	do Mr. Costello
1st class Hospital Assistant		Mr. Arogyam Pille
1st class	do	do Mr. Jirasamigaru

19. On account of the Apothecaries and Assistant Apothecaries named in the foregoing list, the Mysore Government will pay, till the dates specified opposite their names, the contribution required to secure them British pensions. Their leave allowances will be paid by Mysore and no contribution on this account is therefore required.

20. It must be noted that the Madras Government was requested more than two years ago to take back the three officers, who, it is now proposed, should revert to Madras on 31st October 1884 ; and it is therefore believed that their return to Madras at 6 months' notice will cause no inconvenience. In anticipation of the return of these officers to Madras, Mr. P. S. Achyuta Rao, a Mysore student who has passed the Bombay L. M. S. examination, is appointed Assistant Surgeon of the 3rd grade from 1st April 1884.

The Senior Surgeon to the Mysore Government will be requested to advertize for two other candidates for the grade of Assistant Surgeons possessing the qualifications noted in the foregoing scheme. Their class and pay can only be fixed according to their qualifications and standing in the profession.

21. Mr. Choksi was appointed on his present pay of Rs. 200 in November 1880, and he says that he then had a distinct assurance from the Chief Commissioner, as well as from Mr. Rangacharlu, then Revenue Secretary, that he would get an increase of pay at the end of two years. The Dewan has been unable to find any record of such an assurance either in the Medical or the Educational Department, but from what is within his own personal knowledge and that of the officers whom he has consulted, the Dewan has no hesitation in believing that he was encouraged to expect an advancement after some service in Mysore. In March last year Mr. Choksi would have received this promotion, but he made that impossible then by his own omission to furnish a statement he was called upon to make. It is however not necessary to withhold the promotion from him any longer, and therefore he will be appointed an Assistant Surgeon of the 1st grade on Rs. *250 with effect as regards emoluments from 1st April 1883.

*Pay Rs.	...	200
Allowance	...	50
Total Rs.		250

22. It is necessary at present to maintain the local Medical School for the purpose of training Hospital Assistants for the local service. The school must, in order to be of any use, be attached to some Hospital and Mr. Choksi should be given an Assistant of the rank of Assistant Surgeon of the last grade. The management of the school should be under the orders of the Medical officer in charge of the Hospital. The school will accordingly be transferred to Mysore and placed under the general management of the Commissioned Medical officer there. The Senior Surgeon to the Mysore Government will be requested to arrange in communication with the Secretary, Educational Department, for the transfer of the school to Mysore at an early date.

Proceedings of the Dewan to His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore, (General),—dated 26th May 1884.

READ—

Letter No. 104 of the 17th May 1884, from the Deputy Commissioner and Municipal President, Mysore, forwarding for orders a scheme for the better sanitation and drainage of the Fort of Mysore.

No. 1348-50—75, DATED 26TH MAY 1884.

ORDER THEREON.—In the above papers are recorded the views of the Municipal Commissioners on the following subjects :—

1*st.* The sewerage of the Palace and Fort.

2*nd.* The opening out of a straight approach to the north gate.

3*rd.* The opening out of a straight approach to the south gate.

4*th.* The removal of all small houses and hovels situated both to the north and south of the Palace, and of all houses, other than really good ones, within a radius of 150 feet of the Palace, the space thus cleared being laid out as gardens.

5*th.* The Palace to be supplied with good water from the Kukarhalli tank.

2. In considering the first of these subjects, viz., the sewerage of the Fort and Palace, the Dewan observes that the committee have decided on adopting open V shaped drains in streets, while they recommend the more scientific and modern contrivances of glazed stoneware pipes, traps, syphons &c., for the house, the secondary, the main, and the outfall sewers. The reason for this departure from recognized principles of sewerage is not apparent from the reports, nor is it shown how the two systems, i. e., of open drains and sewer pipes are to be combined, since the committee have accepted the leading feature of the proposed works to be,—the separation of soiled house water from storm water. The V shaped drains are efficient for the purpose of surface drainage, but they are held to be very inappropriate for sewerage. The Board will therefore be requested to re-consider the matter and to submit revised proposals with due regard to the necessity of keeping storm water in the open side drains separate from sewerage.

3. The second and third items of improvement will be considered when the Dewan next visits Mysore.

4. The improvement of the immediate vicinity of the Palace and the removal of huts and hovels in the neighbourhood as proposed are approved as far as they go. This question has to be considered also in its relation to the drainage of the Fort. There is no plan of the Fort now before the Dewan, and he is therefore not able clearly to indicate what is required in this direction. A map showing the drainage of the Fort was prepared by the Executive Engineer, Mysore, in or about 1877—78, and the Executive Engineer will be requested to submit a copy thereof. In the meantime, the Dewan is of opinion that the clearings required within the Fort are as follows in the order of their importance :—

(1). The small houses occupied by Gollars, washermen, tailors and others, on the north of the Palace, between the wall of the Palace Salgere and the north-west rampart of the Fort.

(2). The houses on the south-west of Karikal Totti, as was pointed out to the Palace Assistant Commissioner last year.

(3). The small detached houses in the vicinity of Tankasale, required to complete the scheme for having open laid out grounds in that locality.

(4). The bigger houses on the north of the Palace Salgere wall. Most of the houses of value in that locality belonging to Dinchandraiya and others are too near the Palace wall to be retained. Another large house (Bakshi Bhadraiya's) is also in an objectionable position, being too near the rampart wall. These houses have all to be removed eventually. The only other large house between the Palace wall and the Fort north-west rampart is Venkatappaji's. This may for the present remain untouched, as other arrangements can hereafter be made by the Palace in regard to it.

5. The President will be requested to frame estimates of the cost of buying the houses above referred to. In the case of the smaller houses, huts, &c., it may perhaps be desirable to build for the owners a street of houses in some convenient locality such as the vacant space on the west of the north entrance into the Town. This may be somewhat costly, but with due precautions for economy, such an arrangement need not cost much more than the buying up of the houses. It certainly has the advantage of preventing all inconvenience to the poorer house owners. The owners of the larger houses must be paid the price of their houses. It is of the first importance that before the houses are removed a suitable site should be selected and the owners required to build new houses therein, if they at all wish to build. Another precaution very much required is to prohibit absolutely the building of new houses within the Fort.

6. With such clearings the Fort drainage scheme will be greatly simplified.

7. It is notorious that the quality of the Karanji tank water has greatly deteriorated since the drainage of the town was led into it some years ago. From the main drain of the town passing through the Deputy Commissioner's Office compound a branch on a somewhat higher level is led off as one of the feeders of the Karanji tank. This appears to be a very undesirable arrangement, and the Board will be requested to give their very early attention to it. A well below the Karanji tank, now used by Europeans and Eurasians, contains pure water. A similar well in the same locality should be constructed and reserved for the use of caste people only. The wells in the neighbourhood give a never failing supply of good water and must therefore be a great boon to the people throughout the year especially during the dry weather. The proposal to supply the Palace with Kukarhalli water is approved. An estimate of cost should be submitted in due course.

8. Pending the submission of the information herein called for, Mr. Lee will at once set about preparing the scheme for thoroughly sewering and draining the Palace. The suggestions made in Para 17, Sections a, b, f, g, h, i, k, l, n, and o of Mr. Lee's report and approved of by the committee, may be carried out, after the proceedings of the select committee have been confirmed by the Commissioners.

9. The funds required for the removal of houses within the Fort, for the systems of drainage and water supply, will be granted out of Provincial revenue, when comprehensive schemes for carrying out the respective works are carefully matured by the Board and finally approved and sanctioned by Government. Large immediate grants may not be possible, but if the entire schemes are approved once for all, such money as Government can spare annually should be spent towards them and not, as in the past, in spasmodic efforts at remedying defects which casually attract attention.

Secretary.
